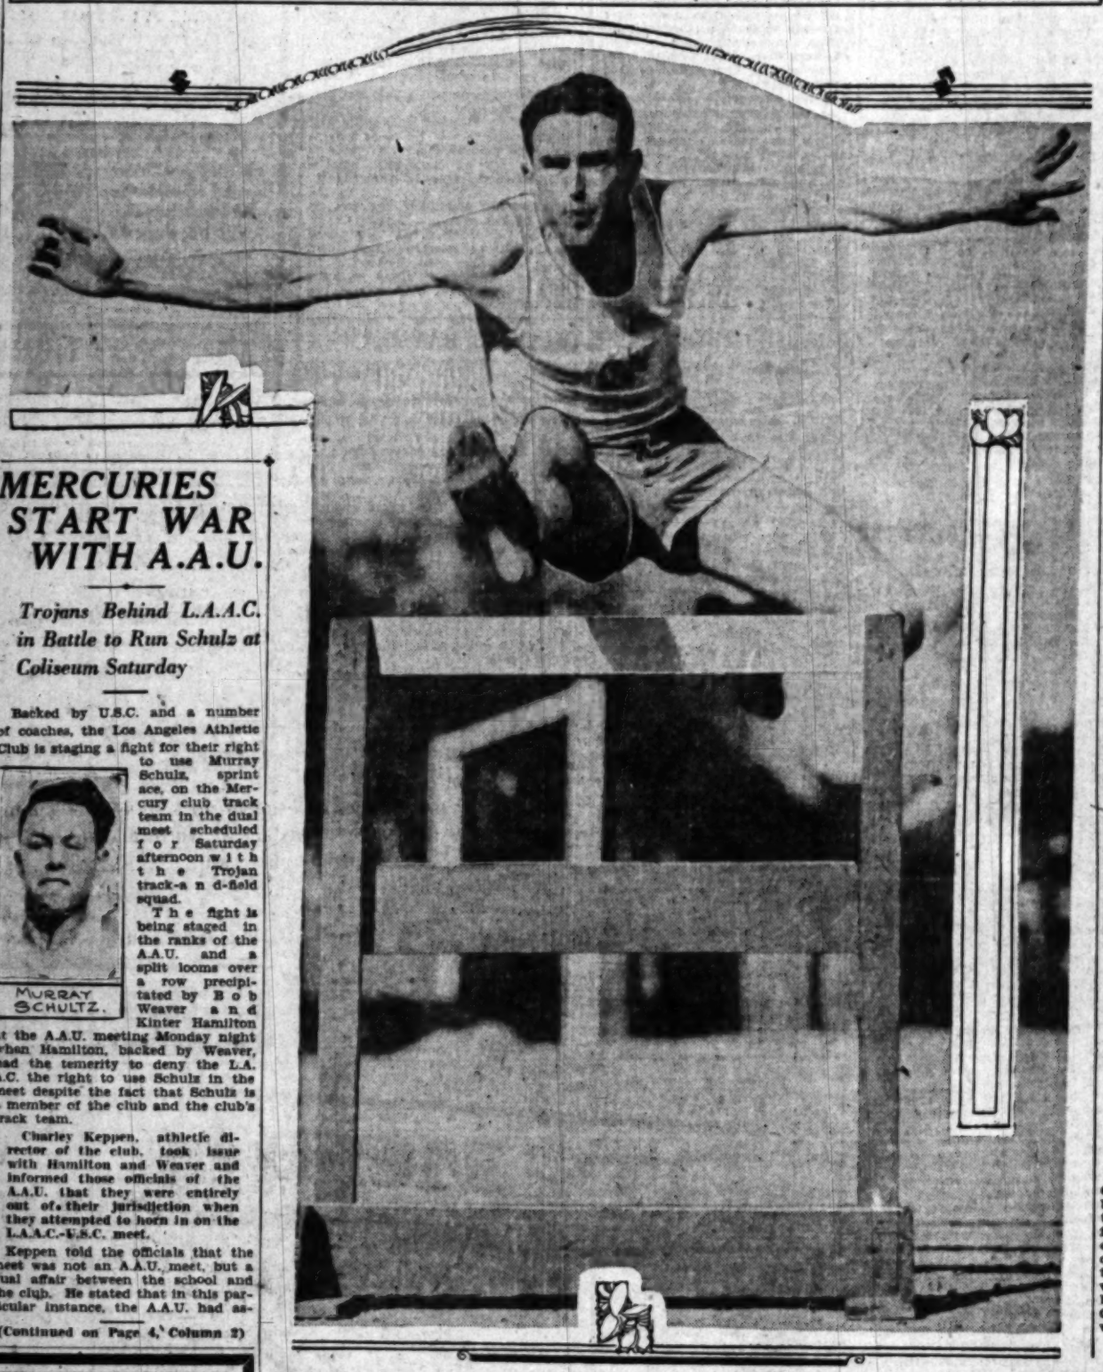
DETROIT ROARS WELCOME TO COBB AS BAN LIFTED

SPREADING HIGH, WIDE AND HANDSOME

Here we have Bob Maxwell, holder of the Coast record in the 220-yard low hurdles, who, as a member of the Los Angeles Athletic Club is expected to cut some pumpkins in the U.S.C.-L.A.A.C. track meet at the Coliseum Saturday. In addition to his sensational low-sticking Bob is a hero over the highs and so far this year his time of 14.3-6s. equals the best that has been made on the Coast. He runs both races against the Trojans.



MERCURIES START WAR WITH A.A.U.

Trojans Behind L.A.A.C. in Battle to Run Schulz at Coliseum Saturday

Backed by U.S.C. and a number of coaches, the Los Angeles Athletic Club is staging a fight for their right to use Murray Schulz, sprint ace, on the Mercury club track team in the dual meet scheduled for Saturday afternoon with the Trojan track-and-field squad.

MURRAY SCHULTZ.

The fight is being staged in the ranks of the A.A.U. and a split looms over a row precipitated by Bob Weaver and Kinter Hamilton at the A.A.U. meeting Monday night when Hamilton, backed by Weaver, had the temerity to deny the L.A. A.C. the right to use Schulz in the meet despite the fact that Schulz is a member of the club and the club's track team.

Charley Keppen, athletic director of the club, took issue with Hamilton and Weaver and informed those officials of the A.A.U. that they were entirely out of their jurisdiction when they attempted to horn in on the L.A.A.C.-U.S.C. meet.

Keppen told the officials that the meet was not an A.A.U. meet, but a dual affair between the school and the club. He stated that in this particular instance, the A.A.U. had as-

Hackley Shaded by Dugan in Torrid Olympic Battle

"Doc" Snell, the Tacoma druggist, flailed a ten-round decision out of Billy Grimes, holder of three Australian championships, in one of the greatest fights ever witnessed in the Olympic Auditorium ring last night. While Snell won with a terrific two-fisted attack that had his Anzac opponent on the canvas four times during the first three rounds, the splendid comeback staged by Grimes won him many followers in his initial effort in an American ring.

"DOC" SNELL.

Snell went at Grimes from the bell in his usual dynamic manner and socked the Australian to the floor with a right to the chin. Grimes bounced to his feet without taking a count. The second round was even for the first part, but Snell got to Grimes again, knocking him down for the second time. Grimes stumbled to his feet only to go down again. The bell saved him.

Snell scored his fourth knockdown in the third round, hooking Grimes at the gong. From that moment on the Anzac fighter started coming back in a sensational manner. The fourth round was even and Grimes gave more than he took during the next three rounds to take them by a narrow margin. The eighth was even, and Snell, who had been missing, finished strong to take the ninth and tenth by a slight margin to win the fight.

CABALLERO WINS

Rosalio Caballero defeated Mickey Cone in a fast six-round semifinal battle. Caballero knocked Cone to the floor for a nine count in the fourth round. Cone went down and came to his knee, rising at the count of nine. The blow was a flush right to the chin and took considerable wind out of Cone's punches. The two boys put up a whale of scrap, and Cone landed a number of potent wallops.

Brazill Back in Line-up Tuesday

Third-Baseman Frank Brazill of the Los Angeles club, who has been under suspension for attacking Umpire Mal Eason, will return to the game Tuesday, on which date his suspension will be lifted. He had previously been fined $350, the largest amount of which there is any record in the Coast League. Also, Brazill has been placed on probation by Mike Sexton, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, and the term of this probation therefore will be effective in this or any minor league in which Brazill may play.

Stars Bunch Hits on Brett in Initial Innings

BY BOB RAY

Mr. Bill Murphy, who hails from Arizona, where the natives think of Indians only as guys who gyp tourists by soaking them fancy prices for Apache blankets and pottery made in New Jersey, and consequently has no fear of the aborigines, took it as a matter of course that he should pitch the Hollywood Stars to a 7-to-3 victory over Red Killefer's Seattle Tribe in the series opener yesterday at Wrigley Field.

The youthful Hollywood chucker allowed the Indians to stage an uprising in the fourth inning, during which they exposed their tomahawks and scored two runs, but aside from that one frame Arizona Bill saw to it that the Siwashes wandered not from their reservation.

While Mr. Murphy was teaching the Seattle Indians how to act in the presence of Arizonans, the Stars were torpedoing the submarine slants of Herb Brett opportunely to run up a lead of four runs in the first three rounds. A couple of errors, one by Brett, gave the Stars another score in the fifth and caused the slinger with the submarine to give up in disgust for a pinch-hitter in the Seattle sixth. MAXWELL GREAT HURDLER

Los Angeles Athletic Club Captain to Star in Trackfest With Trojans Saturday

BY BRAVEN DYER

Mercury Bob Maxwell, the greatest hurdler in the United States today. That's what they think of Bob at the Los Angeles Athletic Club and after watching the ex-Pomona athlete in action for six years we're willing to agree with 'em. Capt. Maxwell leads his Mercury team against U.S.C. at the Coliseum Saturday in the local dual meet of the 1927 track-and-field season.

Maxwell is without a peer in the high and low barriers. It is unusual to find a man who can run either race as well as Bob can. He is sole holder of the Pacific Coast record in the abbreviated barriers, having turned the distance in 23.3s. and is joint holder with three others of the high hurdle mark at 14.6s. His low stick record is just 3-10 of a second shy of the world mark held by Charley Brookins of Iowa.

MORTON KAER

In running the highs in 14.6s. at the annual A.A.U. meet last month, Maxwell equalled the best time made in the country this year. Swede Leistner of the Olympic Club ran that fast against U.S.C. this season, while Ross Nichols of Stanford turned in the same time at Fresno ten days ago. Nichols knocked down two hurdles, Maxwell cleared 'em all.

Bob's best time for the lows this year is 23.6s., made against Stanford in the Coliseum. Incidentally it was in that meet that he lost one of the two races he has dropped this year. Nichols beat him in the highs in 14.8s. The only other defeat Maxwell suffered this year came in the A.A.U. meet when Morton Kaer copped the lows in 24.8s. Maxwell, because of heats in both events, ran four races that day.

RECORD-BREAKING HABIT ON CINDERPATH ALMOST COSTS PADDOCK TEN-DOLLAR FINE

Speed is an admirable thing in so far as Charley Paddock, often known as the world's fastest human, is concerned, but it should be confined to the cinder paths, upon which he has gained his international fame, in the opinion of Municipal Judge McConnell.

CHARLIE PADDOCK.

Paddock came before the court yesterday in answer to the more formal name of Charles W. Paddock, defendant in a traffic complaint based on his arrest by Officers Casselberry and Mitchell on April 29, last. The famous runner was charged with driving his automobile at a rate of thirty-three miles an hour in a twenty-mile zone.

"Are you generally in such a hurry?" queried Judge McConnell. "Has your work on the track caused you to become obsessed with the idea of getting some place in record time?"

The runner denied a general tendency to speed, especially in an automobile.

"I was in a hurry, though," Paddock said, "and did go a little fast, I reckon. I had an engagement in town."

"Did you keep your appointment?" asked Deputy City Prosecutor Jack.

"No, I lost a little time when the officers stopped me," replied the speed king, "and after that I drove pretty slowly."

"In fact, you would have had more chance to get there on time if you had run, wouldn't you?" asked Judge McConnell.

When Paddock admitted the probability of this and indicated he would run to appointments in the future, Judge McConnell suspended a $10 fine.

CLEVELAND, May 10. (AP)—Boston dashed Cleveland's hopes of entering the first division today by nosing out the Indians, 6 to 5. Cleveland rallied in the eighth and had the tieing run on third base with only one out, but Wiltse steadied and prevented a tie. Score:

YOURS TRULY
Rogers Hornsby — Ty Cobb

Dear Ty:

The fellows on the bench got a good laugh out of your crack about stealing home so as to stop 'em from yelling you are slowing up. It made me think of what Frank Snyder once said when the gang was saying that a slow man like him couldn't run out a home run inside the grounds.

"The sure way of beating that," said Frank, "is to hit 'em over the fence and walk around."

You had a mighty good example of that in a game up at the Yank Stadium not long ago. It all goes to show just how much luck there is hitting. In that game I noticed that your pitchers held the Yanks down to five hits, but three of them were home runs and they won the ball game.

You can call it "breaks," or what you please, but old Lady Luck sure does decide a lot of ball games.

An old-timer was telling us on the bench the other day of a game in which one pitcher was made a hero in the papers for allowing but two hits while the other pitcher, who allowed ten hits, had turned in by far the best game and nobody gave him a rumble.

They hit fifteen line drives off the lucky pitcher but every one of them was caught—were hit right at some outfielder. They got but two safe. The other pitcher had everything and pitched perfect ball but they kept scratching off those little punk flies that fell safe over the infield—just pure luck.

Now, don't you think there ought to be some way of the records showing the good ball that man pitched even though he was beaten by luck? I do.

Of course, if a batter keeps on hitting them on the nose the luck will break the other way sometimes but many a fellow's yearly batting average has hurt because the luck never did come his way. Eddie Roush, for instance, is got to have a whole pile of lucky breaks to overcome his hard luck this spring. I never saw a fellow hit so many hard line drives and get so few of them safe in my life. On one stretch he hit nine clean liners in ten times up and got but one hit. He has been that way all spring. Being a game ball player he simply smiles and says: "Well, one or two of them will get between those fielders some of these days."

I agree with you that the American League pennant will be decided in the East. I think the Giants also will cop in the East for the National league. I know we've got to go some to beat those Cardinals and Pirates. They've been having some great pitching.

Yours truly,

Rogers Hornsby

OBSERVATIONS
By The Innocent Bystander
BILL HENRY

IF THEY don't have a huge crowd at the Coliseum Saturday to see U.S.C. and the L.A.A.C. tangle in their dual meet, we're convinced once and for all that the local fans don't know excitement when they see it. This meet has all the earmarks of being even better than the Stanford-L.A.A.C. affair which took place several weeks ago and that was certainly an affair calculated to raise the blood pressure several notches. Quite aside from the standpoint of thrilling races, this is the last opportunity to see the great U.S.C. team in action before the Trojans hop the Pullmans for their third try for the I.C.A.A.A.A. championship. That's another attraction.

• • •

We rather suspect that there are a lot of surprises up the sleeves of both the coaches. Boyd Comstock certainly has fervid hopes of breaking into the Trojan One-Two combination in the sprints by shoving Murray Schultz across the tape ahead of Capt. Ed House. He also has designs on the Trojan quartermilers, and says that the big surprise of the afternoon is going to take place in the relay. He has a flock of 440 men who all seem to amble around the tureen in better than 51s., and thinks he has a good chance to clean up on the U.S.C. hopefuls.

• • •

Nick Carter's one-mile record of slightly less than 4m. 20s. seems to be in danger from either Nick himself or his teammate Lunney or Unruh of U.S.C. with Lunney or Nick the most likely to set a new record. The only thing to keep the boys from setting a new mark is the fact that they will probably run just fast enough to beat Unruh—if possible—and still save themselves for another race. Young Mr. Unruh has not been consulted on this point, however, and he probably has some very different ideas.

• • •

Another place where the clubmen are going to try to nick the Trojans is in the hurdles, Capt. Irvin Tanner of Oxy, having been annexed to the club team for this purpose. Tanner will run the high sticks in about 15s., so that he and Webber of the Trojans ought to have an awful race for second to Maxwell and over the low sticks Tanner looks for some revenge against Graham, the Trojan dark horse, who nosed him out of third money in the recent A.A.U. meet.

• • •

Any way you look at it, the meet appears to promise a lot of genuine excitement. The Trojans are going to be fighting to make that trip to the I.C.A.A.A. meet in addition to having a sort of a private grudge against the clubmen. The clubmen cherish no particular love for the Trojans, on the other hand, and will be out to upset the college boys as frequently and as hard as possible. All of which sounds interesting.

SENATORS LOSE

CHICAGO, May 10. (AP)—Timely hitting by Tommy Thomas, coupled with his own steady pitching after a wavering start, enabled Chicago to defeat Washington 4 to 3 today in the first game of the series. In addition to holding the Senators safe in the pinches, Thomas delivered two blows which accounted for three of Chicago's runs. Metzler's home run in the first inning was the first made by a White Sox player in their remodeled park. Score:

POMONA FROSH NINE BEATEN BY CHAFEE

POMONA COLLEGE (Claremont) May 10. (Exclusive)—"Beefy" Heath took his Pomona frosh baseballers over to Chaffee Union High School tonight for a practice game and the Sagechicks took a beating, 5 to 3. The frosh seemed to be unable to hit like they did last Saturday against California Tech's frosh, when they ran up a 13-to-9 victory. Cliff Bright was in the box with Bishop behind the bat. Heath had Poke Hartman, Capt. Stew Hagestead, Wilkins and Dyer in the infield with Billings, MacDonald and Parker in the garden.

SAN JOSE NINE WINS

SAN JOSE, May 10. (AP)—San Jose State College defeated Sacramento Junior College in the second of the three-game series for the California Coast Conference baseball championship here this afternoon, 4 to 3.

hurled the last three rounds against the Stars and was rapped for the Sheiks' final two tallies.

INDIANS LACK PEP

The Indians that performed against the Stars yesterday appeared to have their tail-feathers between their legs and didn't show the old warpath pepper that marked their play here in the opening week of the season against the Angels. Losing six out of seven to the Missions last week probably has something to do with the Tribe's lack of enthusiasm, while the pitching of Murphy also no doubt had a bit to do with this strange state of affairs. Generally clubs bossed by Red Killefer are a raw-meat, rough, tough scalp-snatching squad of Indians, but yesterday they appeared as if they wouldn't know what to do if they saw a handy scalp, unless, perhaps, look for dandruff.

Among the outstanding fielding features of the contest was the consistent work of dapper Dudley Lee at short and a nifty running and diving catch by Jim Sweeney of Brett's line drive to center in the second inning.

Returning to Arizona Bill Murphy yesterday's triumph was the youngster's third straight and he remains the only unbeaten twirler on the staff of the cellar-abiding Stars. Murphy earned a regular turn for himself a couple of weeks ago when he blanked the Seals in one game of a Friday double-header. Since then he has beaten the Beavers and the Indians, which is pretty good for a young fellow trying to get along, or an old fellow, for that matter.

STARS KEEP SCORING

The Stars picked up another marker in the second when Johnny Frederick bunched a hit to center, was sacrificed to second by Babe Twombly, who replaced Les Sheehan in left, and scored when Lee Cook's fly to right was lost in the sun by Hufft and dropped for a single. Two more runs were added to the Sheiks' total in the third. With one out, Lee doubled and scored when Kerr singled to left. Johnny stole second, from which vantage point he watched Sherlock grab Sweeney's pop fly, and then romped over the plate when Cotton Tierney punched a one-base shot over the middle cushion.

Seattle put on its best bit of run-makin gin the fourth when two hits were bunched with a walk and a passed ball for a couple of scores. Hufft opened the round with one of his two hits to center and Sherlock followed by working Murphy for a walk. A passed ball put the runners on second and third, but it didn't make any difference to Mudgens, who fanned after he had Murphy in the hole with a three-and-nothing count. However, Walter Kimmick socked a single to left that brought both Hufft and Sherlock over the rubber and proceeded to swipe second. Murphy then decided that this sort of thing should cease so he retired Schmidt and Brett on lazy lofts to the outfield, retiring the side.

The Stars put over their last run off Brett in the fifth without the aid of a hit. After two were out Kerr walked and was safe on his attempted steal of second, when Sherlock dropped Schmidt's throw. Sweeney also walked. At this juncture Brett crossed up Pel Ballenger, who was stationed at second, by throwing a hook when Pel was looking for a fast one. The immediate object of this toss was to catch Kerr off second but the throw was wide and went to center, so Johnny romped all the way home. Sweeney reached second on the heave but perished there when Tierney fanned.

Seattle was presented with a run in the sixth after two were out when Sweeney bumped into Twombly and caused Babe to drop Schmidt's fly that should have retired the side. Hufft singled to start the round but was forced by Hudgens after Sweeney had captured Sherlock's loft. Kimmick singled past Kerr to put Hudgens on third and then Sweeney pulled his bumping act that allowed the Sud first-sacker to count. Bigbee batted for Brett and forced Schmidt at second to end the round.

SCORING CONCLUDED

Hollywood concluded the scoring in the home half of the sixth, when Frederick walked, counted on Twombly's double to right center, and Murphy uncorked a hit to left that brought Babe over the plate.

Casey and Fanning, who are being rated as the best umpiring team in the loop, made their season's debut at Wrigley Field yesterday and called 'em in a manner that left little, if any, to be desired.

The 2:15 starting time was also inaugurated and seemed to make a hit with the fans for there were more of them out, especially in the box seats. The game was over before 4 o'clock, which ought to make the new starting time popular for it gets the cash customers home or downtown before the heavy traffic starts. Score:

JONES HOPES TO EVEN COUNT IN GRAPPLING BATTLE WITH LUTZE AT OLYMPIC TONIGHT

A grudge battle bewteen Nick Lutze and Paul Jones will top the four-bout mat card at the Olympic Auditorium tonight.

NICK LUTZE

Jones, the blond terror from Texas, is the grappler who is carrying the grudge. He has been toting it along for about eight months, nursing it along until it has reached a stage now where he can give full vent to it without hurting anyone's feelings but Lutze's and possibly the latter's followers. And it looks like he will do it, if his showings in his workouts are any criterion of what he will do in the ring.

Lutze beat Jones here in a spectacular bout eight months ago, and the Texan has never been given a chance to get even. He was sent out to topple over the big veterans of the game all over the country, and now he is back here again, without a defeat against him, ready to step into Lutze's niche near the top of the heavyweight division.

As the winner of this bout is to be given a match with Joe Stecher for the heavyweight championship of the world, both of these muscle-twisters will have an added incentive to wring more action and holds out of them. Lutze will be in the ring to maintain his place in the heavyweight division and a logical contender for Stecher's crown, while Jones will be out for revenge and the shot at the heavyweight title, which he believes he should have had months ago.

The smiling face of the energetic Thomas Travers of San Diego, the noted mat referee, will be missed by the fans tonight. His place is to be filled by Paul Sickener of this city. Sickener appeared as the third man in the ring here once before, and his work left nothing to be desired. There is not so much crawling through the ropes when he is on the job.

Renato Gardini, the Italian heavyweight champion, grand opera singer, Italian attorney and college graduate among other things, has been given a piece of greased lightning to handle in the form of Charley Hanson, the "Nebraskan Whirlwind." Whether Gardini will handle Hanson at all will depend on the Italian's own speed, and the Nebraska grappler respects Gardini's weight and strength.

Gardini's flying-mare and head-lock are a couple of holds that have put away any number of good men. Hanson is said to possess a thousand and one holds, and he will probably have the Italian dizzy jumping from one to the other. It is the hope of the spectators that if Gardini gets peeved he will not blossom forth with poetry, as Tommy Drask, the "Flying Dutchman," did in his match here two weeks ago, but give the cash customers a few arias and ferocious faces.

Matty Matsuda will tackle an "unknown" to local mat fans, but his workouts have shown he is quite well known somewhere. He is as fast as the Japanese grappler and seems to have plenty of experience. He is younger and stronger than Matty and he looks like he will give the welterweight champion the hardest bout he has ever had here.

Chris Michaels, the Hollywood Sheik, will be seen in action again when he clashes with the Greek barber, Leo Papiano. These two are light heavyweights, both full of pep and speed.

KRAUSE HURLS OAKS TO WIN OVER SEALS

OAKLAND, May 10. (AP)—Harry Krause, veteran left-hander, kept seven hits well scattered today and Oakland defeated San Francisco, 3 to 0. Timely wallops by Reese, second baseman, brought in two runs, the other being scored on Camilli's error. All runs were made off Bob Geary, who started for the Seals. Tony Governor pulled Krause out of trouble in the ninth when he ran to the clubhouse and made a one-handed catch while his back was turned to the stands.

BEAVERS HAMMER MISSIONS TO WIN

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10. (AP)—The Beavers paraded to the plate with big bats today and clubbed out sixteen hits from the offerings of three Mission pitchers to win easily, 10 to 3. Strand, center fielder, and McCurdy, first baseman, each hit homers for Portland, the former with two on bases and the latter scoring one runner ahead.

Ed Tomlin pitched nice ball and held the San Francisco club throughout, although hitting three players. Eckert, right-handed pitcher, was knocked unconscious when one of Tomlin's shoots hit him below the temple in the fifth inning. He was forced to retire, Bryan replacing him. The score:

Cromwell Picks Six Trojans for Defense of I.C.A.A.A. Track Laurels

ORAH HEADS TROJAN TEAM

"Cocky" to Perform in East Selected by Coach

Slow to go to be Chosen After Rowley Trackfest.

Aleski, Barnes and Hill Will Go

BY RALPH BUSTON

DEAN CROMWELL

LOWRY SHOUTS, "IT'S A BOY"

Paul Lowry, sporting editor of The Times, last night became the proud father of a future all-American football star. The tiny newcomer first saw the bright lights of night at the St. John's Hospital in Oxnard. Mr. and Mrs. Lowry had not up to a late hour last night selected a name for the future playmate of his little sister, Paula. Both mother and child are doing well. Mr. Lowry's chest expansion has increased considerably since the occurrence of the big event.

six feet; Hill set a new Pacific Coast record of 24ft. 7in. in the broad jump, and Aleski, after a bad start, has gradually worked up to a point where he now is throwing the shot as far as he did last year, when he placed in the national meet.

Every other member of the team has a chance to be included in the nine more places open, Cromwell declared. Men like Chesley Unruh, Morton Kaer, Jack Williams, Spencer Boelter, and Cliff Reynolds, who have made strong bids for positions on the squads, must show extraordinary performances against the L.A.A.C. team in the meet Saturday to be included for the journey east.

If Unruh keeps up his good work, he will go, without question. He ran 4m. 26.2s. when defeated by Les Schwoebeda of California, and then turned in a 4m. 24.2s. race while losing to McKinnon of Stanford. He is expected to lose to Lunney and Carter of the L.A.A.C., but if he can cut down his time a bit more, it will qualify him for the jaunt east.

Jack Williams, Cromwell said, must be able to clear around 13ft., without injury to his bad ankle if he hopes to be included. Ditto for Melbourne Otstad and Al Bowen, high jumpers.

Cliff Reynolds is causing Cromwell considerable worry. At the start of the year he was expected to be one of the most consistent point-getters of the squad. He suffered injuries which laid him up, however, and he has not placed in his last three meets—California, Stanford and the Fresno Relays. He seems to have lost all spring from his left, and has little or no speed. He has been training carefully, however, and a good exhibition behind Bob Maxwell may qualify him. Charlie Webber in the highs and Mort Kaer and Alex Graham in the lows are in similar positions. Kaer's second to West of Stanford in the low sticks at Palo Alto after he had run 23.8s. here was considerable of a disappointment.

Earl Wilson has consistently jumped around 23ft. 8in. This would have placed in the I.C.4-A. meet last year. If he cuts loose with a good jump Saturday he will be included on the eastern jaunt.

Javelin throwers have been known to lose anywhere from two to ten feet on their throws between California and New York. Spencer Boelter will have to throw close to 190ft. to rate the trip. Particular attention will be given to the quarter and half-milers. Another 1m. 56s. performance by Lovejoy might make him a member of the invading party. The quarter-milers will have to run close to 49s. flat to be considered.

SIGMA TAU FRAT NINE ELIMINATED

POMONA COLLEGE (Claremont) May 10. (Exclusive)—Sigma Tau Fraternity baseball team dropped out of the race for the intramural championship of Pomona College today, dropping its second straight game to the Phi Delta Slugs. The Slugs, a team composed of Phi Delta pledges, repeated the victory which their seniors scored last week and by identically the same score, 9 to 6. They played heady ball behind the air-tight pitching of Walt Smith, former Hollywood High School athlete. The score:

Slugs: 9 runs, 9 hits, 2 errors; Sigma Tau: 6 runs, 6 hits, 3 errors.

SANTA BARBARA GOLF SATURDAY

Informal Event Replaces La Cumbre Tourney

California Women Collect Team Championship

Elks Open Titular Affair Next Sunday

BY BILL WISE

Dr. Paul M. Hunter, Harry Westbrook, Bob Modisette, Tom Woodruff—and several other popular Annandale gunners are expected to form the nucleus of a select group of local tee and greens celebrities invading Santa Barbara over the coming week-end.

DR. PAUL HUNTER

The Pasadena stars, together with several score more local ranking amateurs, will participate in the informal thirty-six-hole medal competition, arranged by Ben Kerr and other La Cumbre club officials, to be played Saturday and Sunday.

The Channel City sports authorities decided to offer some sort of entertainment for local golfers who had planned to attend the regular La Cumbre club invitational, postponed until late this fall, after fire of unknown origin had destroyed the club home several weeks ago.

Charles G. Hervey, manager of the Samarkand Hotel, had arranged an attractive schedule for out-of-town contestants and friends. In view of the fact that so many local members of the fraternity had planned to attend the near-by festivities, Hervey, working with Ben Kerr of "Chip and Chisel" fame, decided to go through with original plans.

Special rates will prevail at the Samarkand over the coming week-end. The hostelry is one of the most strikingly beautiful in the State, and dances scheduled for the ill-fated La Cumbre club will be staged at the hotel.

Peter Cooper Bryce and Kerr have arranged to secure trophies for the informal competition. Prizes will probably be awarded divisional winners in two classes—for both eighteen and thirty-six holes. Santa Barbara is just about the hospitality center of the west coast, and while several hundred will look forward to attending the delayed La Cumbre club invitational, many will take advantage of the informal golf fest, scheduled for this week-end. Reservations may be secured by phoning Ben Kerr, or the Samarkand. Manager Hervey has made plans to accommodate a record number, so it will not be necessary to phone beforehand. The Annandale delegation will arrive in Santa Barbara tomorrow and Friday.

CALIFORNIA WOMEN COP LEAGUE TITLE

California women golfers—with two games yet to play—just about sewed up championship honors in the local auxiliary team league at Flintridge yesterday by collecting 8½ points at the expense of Hollywood. Los Angeles, by winning 7½ points from El Caballero, is still riding safely in second place. Hillcrest defeated Bel-Air, 6 to 3, in the other match staged at Senator Flint's club. Bel-Air, in the league for the first year, deserves much credit.

Rancho, making a game fight for league leadership, had little difficulty winning the first two matches of the day from Rancho and a dispute arose as to the results in the final interclub clash. Rancho is asserted to have violated team pairings upon a handcap basis. Annandale and Wilshire also lost team clashes at El Caballero yesterday.

HONEY LEADS AD CLUB AT HILLCREST

A. H. Honey scored an 85 to win low gross prize in the regular monthly golf tournament of the Los Angeles Advertising Club, staged at Hillcrest, yesterday. More than seventy-five members of the "Say it With Type" Association competed in the affair. Class low net prizes were won by T. B. Higgins, 91-10—81; H. J. Siemers, 93-18—75, and J. E. Mahon, 94-22—72.

ELKS OPEN TITLE PLAY NEXT SUNDAY

The qualifying round for the first B.P.O. Elks' No. 99 golf tournament under the regime of Exalted Ruler John J. Doyle will be held Sunday at the Royal Palms, formerly the San Pedro Golf and Country Club.

Flights of sixteen will be arranged for match play, according to qualification. One match to be played each week on whatever course agreeable to both contestants. Championship fight to be played at scratch, all other flights at handicap.

Sterling silver trophies will be awarded to the winner of low gross and low net in the qualifying round also to winner and runner-up in each flight of match play.

The Exalted Ruler trophies (presented for this event by John J. Doyle) will be awarded to the winner and runner-up in the championship flight.

There will also be for competition, the Swim trophies as follows: John J. Doyle trophy for winner of championship flight; Larry Semon trophy for second flight; Warner Brothers trophy for low gross; Roy R. Meade trophy for low net.

All members of B.P.O. Elks No. 99 are invited to participate in this event. Those not having a handicap will be given one by the committee at the first tee on day of tournament.

AD CLUB TOURNEY AT ROYAL PALMS

It is expected that seventy-five admen will tee off in the tournament of the Los Angeles Advertising Club at Royal Palms country and beach club tomorrow afternoon. Many valuable merchandise prizes have been donated by business firms.

Those of the players who wish may invite their wives and sweethearts and make it a picnic luncheon under the palms, and thus assure a good gallery to watch the game.

RUSH TO SIGN FOR PRO CHAMPIONSHIP

Charlie Guest, titlist, led the grand rush of fellow-members of the Southern California Professional Golf Association to sign for the annual big gun championship, tob e staged at Royal Palms, starting one week from next Sunday.

Entries to date include the following: Charles Guest, Willie Hunter, Tom Stevens, Miller Fischer, Ed Dudley, Harry Pressler, Lewis Scott, Allan Cameron, Vic Dalverto, Vic Owens, Chick Fraser, Wallie Sparks and Willard Hutchinson.

All entries must be in the hands of J. A. (Pat) Patterson, secretary, not later than the 20th inst.

HOLLYWOOD ATHLETIC GOLFERS AT LAKESIDE

More than three-score golfing members of the Hollywood Athletic Club are expected to take part in the annual tournament of the association, scheduled for Lakeside tomorrow. Suitable trophies will be awarded the winners of low gross, low net and blind bogey. The added competition will favor the higher handicap players.

LeBLOND WINS MEDAL IN LOS ANGELES

Fred (Freddie) LeBlond, Jr., went golf wild over the north course of his home club at Beverly, Sunday, and chalked up a neat 75 to win low gross honors in the qualifying play for the annual club championship. E. K. (Buster) Brown, was second, with a 76.

Art Shafer, former big league Giant baseball star, present Los Angeles club champion, qualified with a 77. Art draws more hard luck than the average golfer. Shafer defeated George C. Thomas, Jr., 6 and 5, for the club title last year, but the event was never recorded in the local press. To prove that the fates, or typewriters, were against him, Art went out and scored a hole-in-one on the 230-yard seventh at Beverly and the auspicious event was never mentioned, but all of this was in the past. It will never happen again. Art doesn't like publicity, in fact fights shy of it, and old-timers still recall Srafer's wild throw from first base that killed "Bugs" Raymond's goat, peacefully munching tin cans bacl of first base on the Polo grounds one day. Eastern sport writers never forget the incident, nor did Raymond, the most erratic twirler ever attached to the Giant staff.

LOCAL SPEEDER WILL START CROSS-CONTINENT MARATHON UPON NEXT SEPTEMBER MORN

America's first transcontinental run—a monster one-man "marathon" of approximately 3200 miles—is to be attempted by an Angeleno, Levett, "the human dynamo," starting here the morning of September 1.

LEVETT

Definite announcement of the date decided on, as well as the Los Angeles - to - New York City route which has been set, was made here yesterday by Forrest Johnston of the firm of Johnston-Webb, Inc. with which organization Levett has just contracted to handle all details of the super-endurance effort.

"Levett has run farther than any other living man," declared Johnston. "It will be remembered that his latest coast exploit was the run from Los Angeles to San Francisco, carrying invitations from Mayor Cryer to Mayor Rolph for the Wampas ball. He made the 465 miles in 70 hours and 16 minutes.

"In the forthcoming run to New York Levett will run every day from September 1 till he finishes in New York City. He will pass through 14 States, 296 towns or cities, and many more villages. His route will be the National Old Trails."

Prior to the now-famous Los Angeles-to-San Francisco run his records show the longest of his many runs was that of 535 miles, between Boston and a point near Washington, D. C. This was made in 69 hours, 37 minutes, 51 seconds.

The run between Los Angeles and New York City will be officially timed, it is announced by Promoter Johnston. He plans to name a board of sports writers from local newspapers as starters; a similar board in New York City to check him in there.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By PAUL LOWRY

THOSE who figure the local track season as dead and buried because there are no more intercollegiate dual meets and because Glendale has won the State prep championship and because the I. C. 4-A. games aren't going to be held here, should go out to the Coliseum next Saturday.

U.S.C. and the L.A.A.C. teams are due to perform in their annual clash, and if this isn't one of the real hot and woolly battles of the year Bill Wrigley never staged an ocean marathon which Long Beach promoters are going to copy in a rowing classic this summer.

On the basis of comparative scores alone, the engagement figures to be plenty warm. Stanford has beaten both teams this year, U.S.C. by a slightly larger margin. The Cardinals won from the club boys, 71 to 66, and from the Trojans, 75 to 56.

Of course the L.A.A.C. will be without the services of Sir Charles Paddock, the "world's fastest human," who has retired from active track service this year to make the silent drama famous, and this will cut into the club points, Paddock, in shape, should have been able to beat Borah in at least one of the sprints, maybe both. As it is, Borah is conceded first in both dashes, although Murray Schultz of Caltech, who has joined the Mercury organization, will give the U.S.C. flyer a battle in each race. He has clipped the 100 in 9.7s. this year.

I note that Paul Sickener has been selected by Lou Daro to referee the portly entrepreneur's fortnightly mat matches at the Olympic tonight. I am wondering if this is also the Boxing Commission's selection. If so, the commission seems to be giving Daro what has been his due for a long time.

I have no bone to pick with Tommy Travers, but the fact remains that since his famous faux pas in the Pesek-Stecher match, he has been in bad with a certain group of fans who openly announce they will not attend a match in which he is the arbiter. In the switching of fight referees who get in "dutch" the Boxing Commission has certainly established enough precedent to justify the use of some other official than Travers at the wrestling bouts.

There is no reason why Travers should not be used occasionally.

Nor on the other hand is there any reason why other wrestling referees should not be used occasionally.

* *

The older they get the softer they grow. Which explains why Pete Latzo, the welterweight champion, knocked out Jack Rappaport in three rounds at Scranton Monday night. Two years ago Latzo made a monkey of Rappaport at the Hollywood Legion Stadium—beat him so badly that Rappaport could never get another fight here and was forced to return East. That was before Latzo was even thought of as welter champ material.

O'DOWD AND CARTER TO HEAD LEGION RING CARD

Tom Gallery, manager of the Hollywood American Legion stadium, has been forced to take Tommy O'Brien and Young Gonzales off the card this week and in their place he has substituted Midget Mike O'Dowd and Benny Kid Carter.

When O'Brien fought Dick Hoppe he received a split lip. He thought it all right until he started working out. After taking a few socks on the chin the wound opened up again, forcing Sir Thomas to call the fight off. He didn't like to do it, but there was no alternative.

In the two appearances that Midget Mike O'Dowd has made he looked like the goods. The boy has about everything a little fellow needs. The way he cleaned up on Young Nationalista and Bad News Eber convinced the Los Angeles fight fans that O'Dowd is the goods.

The card this week is back to the regular Hollywood standard. Tom Gallery wasn't entirely satisfied with some of the fights last week. The boys didn't perform as they should have, and this week the fighters are sure shots.

STOW AND HOOGS TO GO EAST FOR BEARS

BERKELEY, May 10. (AP)—Tom Stow and Dick Hoogs were named today to defend the national intercollegiate tennis singles and doubles held by the University of California. This year's championships will be held at Philadelphia, June 27.

Edward (Bud) Chandler, now graduated, won the singles title last year and he and Stow, the doubles championship.

WESTERN HOPES IN DERBY HARD HIT BY SICKNESS

Candy Queen Definitely Declared Out of Race; Hydromel Suffers from High Fever Attack

BY HARVEY T. WOODRUFF

LOUISVILLE, May 10. (Exclusive)—Chances of the West against the numerous and aristocratic array of contenders now on their way from the East for the fifty-third renewal of the Kentucky derby slumped notably today.

Candy Queen, heralded as the only filly likely to start, is definitely out of the race. Hydromel, a real hope, which won a good race yesterday despite a sluggish start, developed fever, which rose to 103 after his effort.

BADLY BUMPED

Candy Queen was a disappointing performer in the derby trial stakes Saturday. After the race, Trainer Walker asserted it was not the filly's fault because she had been bumped about a furlong from the start by Scotland and sent almost to her knees, during which mishap she suffered an injury to her jaw. When asked to work Monday the usually docile filly almost jumped the fence. This morning Candy Queen was not interested in her breakfast, something unusual.

Trainer Walker, therefore, apprised Owner H. T. Archibald in Chicago of Candy Queen's condition, and that it would be unwise to send her to the post. Archibald accepted the situation with great regret, not because he will not see his colors borne Saturday, but also because Candy Queen, on her good 2-year-old form and 3-year-old training had been heavily backed in the winter book. Rumor had possible winnings of the stable connections as high as $250,000.

Trainer Stewart could not account for Hydromel's lack of vim and ambition in the early stages of his race yesterday, although the colt won handily and impressively, so he summoned a veterinary.

Dr. Hart Hill found the Camden colt suffering from laryngitis. Hydromel this morning appeared in good condition and his temperature had subsided measurably, as he partook heartily of his food allotment. It is hoped he will have recovered by tomorrow morning. Otherwise his chances will be seriously affected because there can be no let up in training so near the big event.

TAKES EASY WORK

Rolled Stocking just now considered the main reliance of the West, was not worked hard by Trainer Van Mater, who is intent on keeping the son of Pennant in his present fit condition. Rolled Stocking was given a mile gallop in 1:47 1-5 as a breather.

Dr. Hill With Us received what Owner Bradley hoped would be a flattering trial at the full derby route, but it was hardly confidence-inspiring. With Boot to Boot as running mate, part of the journey, the older horse passed the Idle Hour Farm's hope easily when his rider wished. Be With Us appeared to be laboring early in the journey and was tired at the end, although the mile was run in only 1:45 and the longer distance in 2:12.

Rip Rap, first of the easterners to arrive yesterday, covered a half-mile in 0:52 3-5, accompanied by a stable mate, and will receive a distance test tomorrow. Osmand also breezed a half-mile.

That Trainer Pete Corne wishes to know about Osmand is indicated by tomorrow's entry. The displaced winter-book favorite will start in the Watterson Hotel handicap at one and one-sixteenth miles, along with Kleve, Fire Chief, Fred, Jr.; Jock and Creek Indian.

Meantime from the East are speeding in palace horse cars the cream of those contesting in the Preakness and perhaps others. Sir Harry is the only absentee, so far as known, of those which ran well in that event. He was not nominated, probably to the present regret of his Canadian owner. Information here is that Whitney is shipping three derby strings, Bostonian, Whiskery and, perhaps, Valorous, which beat Boston in the Jockey Club stakes here last fall.

Running of the Preakness increased rather than diminished the difficulty of picking the winner of this most open derby. When three horses finished within a length of each other at the end of one and three-sixteenth miles, and at least three others performed creditably, there is no stand-out.

MAXWELL STAR OVER HURDLES

while Kaer was in action but twice.

One of the highlights of Saturday's meet will be Bob's effort to wipe out the memory of that defeat by trimming Kaer. The race should be one of the best on the program and the winner will undoubtedly have to do better than 23.8s.

Maxwell is a product of Pomona College, having been trained by Eugene Nixon and Bob Strehle. When he first entered the Sagehen institution Bob was considered a fair low hurdler and a rather poor high hurdler. He did 23.8s. in the lows to tie the Coast record of that time, but never got close to 15-flat in the highs. Charley Daggs was the big noise for Pomona in the tall barriers then.

Joining the Los Angeles Athletic Club upon graduation, Maxwell came under the guiding hand of Boyd Comstock. This gentleman immediately decided that Bob, because of his tremendous speed, could and should run both the highs and lows in every meet. In college he generally confined himself to the lows. Comstock's coaching did Maxwell a lot of good and in each succeeding season he has cut split seconds off both his high and low time.

The Mercury captain is a brilliant sprinter. He has done 10-flat in the century and runs the furlong in better than 22-flat. Comstock is of the belief that he can do 9.8s. or better in the hundred and may give him a chance soon against real competition in this event.

Neither boy was dropped for a count, but both stood toe to toe and slugged for the entire six rounds. Dugan maintained a slight edge throughout the fight, but Hackley took everything he handed out and came back for more.

Everett McDevitt scored a technical knockout decision over Charley Samhoff, who substituted for Andy Mitchell in the third round of a scheduled four-rounder. Samhoff's seconds tossed in the towel to save the boxer further punishment.

Jimmy Murphy was awarded a decision over Charley Northern in four rounds. The decision did not set very well with the fans, who were inclined to give Northern an edge in every round. Northern, who is a negro boxer, was a hard-hitting boy and appeared to have an edge.

MUSHY CALLAHAN AND MYERS START WORK

CHICAGO, May 10. (AP)—Mushy Callahan of Los Angeles and Spug Myers of Pocatello, Idaho, began training here today for Chicago's first outdoor championship match of the season, a ten-round battle for Callahan's junior welterweight title. The fight will be at the Cubs' ball park the night of the 31st inst.

Meyers took a decision over the champion when they met here last winter, but both were over the 140-pound limit and the crown did not change hands.

RAIL OFFICIALS CONFER AT PORT

Four Systems Represented in Two Conferences

Solution of Growing Traffic Problems Sought

Union Pacific Chief Pleased Over Land Trade

The officials of the four railroads serving Los Angeles Harbor met in the port district yesterday in two separate conferences, both to meet major traffic problems arising from the rapidly increasing business of the port.

Carl R. Gray, president of the Union Pacific system, together with R. F. Robertson, traffic manager of the Union Pacific coast system, and William Rowe, industrial agent of the Union Pacific, made a survey of the Union Pacific terminal facilities and classification yards in the Terminal Island district and at noon conferred with Capt. S. Steel Sandberg, port traffic manager, upon the further needs of the harbor.

GOOD TRADE, SAYS GRAY

"We made a good trade, Captain," Mr. Gray told the traffic manager, in discussing the Union Pacific's transfer to the city of the water-front property on which the $3,000,000 municipal piers at Terminal Island are located, in exchange for reclaimed land on the seaward side of the island, which the road will later use for a classification area.

Mr. Gray said he was highly gratified with the successful manner in which the road's port facilities are handling the enormously increased traffic, both outward and inbound. He and his associates also made an inspection of the new Ford Motor Company plant, now under construction adjoining the Union Pacific right of way near Long Beach.

TREASURERS MEET

The treasurers of all four roads serving the harbor met yesterday afternoon in the Pacific Electric offices for a conference with harbor representatives of their respective lines in an effort to standardize the handling of accounts on freight brought in by steamer and then taken to final destination by rail.

It was pointed out that collection of tariffs on this class of freight, for which the railroads must advance steamer charges and then collect the total tariff from the consignees, is growing highly difficult as the volume of traffic increases.

It is expected that a further conference of representatives of intercoastal and offshore steamship lines serving the port will also be asked to aid in solving the accounting and collection problems.

Among those attending the conference yesterday were C. M. Scott, treasurer, Southern Pacific Company; W. F. Truelson, treasurer, Union Pacific System; C. O. Jones, assistant secretary and treasurer, Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad; and M. S. Wade, treasurer, Pacific Electric Railway.

DAY SET FOR TEST RUN OF NEW HAWAII LINER

The new Hawaiian liner City of Honolulu, nearing completion of her $3,000,000 reconditioning at the yards of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Corporation, will leave port on the afternoon of the 14th inst. for twenty-four-hour power trials at sea, it was announced yesterday.

The big steamer, which formerly was the United States Shipping Board liner President Arthur, is today 98 per cent complete and will be completed by the shipyard on the 26th inst., it was estimated. On the 28th she will be turned over to her owners, the Los Angeles Steamship Company and at noon of June 4 she will sail for Honolulu on her maiden voyage.

Her first-cabin passenger accommodations, for 445 persons, are expected to be entirely filled for the first voyage by the 15th inst., as already more than 300 reservations have been made. Of this number, 120 passengers will be members of the special Chamber of Commerce trade excursion which will go to Hawaii on the ship.

The two-masted schooner Hamburg, in which Capt. Karl Kircheisz and a crew of four men are making a four-year world cruise, will arrive here from San Francisco on the 24th inst. Capt. Kircheisz has announced that he will attempt to sail the sixty-nine-ton windjammer home across the North Atlantic next December.

The Panama-Mail liner Venezuela, due this morning from New York, Havana and Central America, will not arrive until daylight tomorrow on account of continued head winds off the lower west coast. She has 120 passengers and 300 tons of east coast and Central American cargo for discharge.

The General Petroleum tanker Tejon, which yesterday completed extensive machinery and hull overhaul at the Los Angeles shipyards, will resume coastwise service this morning, when she loads a fuel oil cargo at the Union Oil terminal for the Northwest.

Sale of the veteran steel schooner yacht Wanderlust, ex-Edris, by Corinne Griffith, actress, to Harvey Bissell, Pasadena capitalist, was announced yesterday. D. M. Gallis, local yacht broker, arranged the sale.

The Edris, which is sixty-nine feet long, was brought to California in 1913 via the Straits of Magellan by Capt. John Barneson, under whose ownership she had an interesting career before she was sold to Thomas Ince, late motion picture director. She was built at Elizabeth, New Jersey, in 1901.

Mr. Bissell announces that he will make a two-year cruise through the South Seas in the schooner. She will be reconditioned immediately at the yards of Garbutt & Welsh in preparation for the cruise.

FILIPINOS GET TRADE CHANCE

Government to Sell Out Island Enterprises

All Holdings to be Sold by Public Sales Soon

Natives Have Equal Rights in Buying Properties

MANILA, May 10. (AP)—The government is going out of business in the Philippine Islands, and its holdings in commercial enterprises, involving about $50,000,000, will be sold to the highest responsible bidders.

This was announced by Gov.-Gen. Wood to the Associated Press today as he outlined a new policy which he had adopted as the head of all government-controlled properties and business. The new policy is occasioned by the recent ruling of the insular Supreme Court, which held in effect that the Governor-General has full power over government-controlled institutions.

Almost at the same time Gen. Wood handed control of the Manila Railroad Company, one of the corporations in which the government owns the majority of the stock, over to Filipinos by giving the natives a majority on the board of directors of the company. Management of the company also was left in native hands.

Government holdings will be disposed of as quickly as possible by public sales, Gen. Wood announced, saying there will be no conditions except that buyers will have to provide guarantees to safeguard the interests of stockholders and the government.

As long as these enterprises remain under government control, there will be no discrimination against Filipinos in filling directorates and administrative offices. He said that where the majority of any government-controlled corporation directorate is made up of Americans, subordinate offices will be given mostly to Filipinos.

The Governor-General said his past policy had not been to make American institutions out of the government enterprises and that he had put Americans in charge only where such a course seemed most essential.

Interests which will be sold under the new policy include the great sugar centrals in Oriental Negros and Occidental Negros provinces. Millions of pesos were loaned to this enterprise by national banks there, but the loans are unrecoverable because of bad market conditions and crop losses. Gen. Wood said he was considering an offer from New York for the sugar centrals.

The Cebu Portland Cement Company, capitalized at 5,000,000 pesos; the National Development Company, which owns thousands of acres of agricultural and timber lands in Nueva Ecija Province; the National Coal Company, a 3,000,000-peso concern, and the Manila Railroad Company, capitalized at 20,000,000 pesos, are among those slated for disposal. Many of the government enterprises will die a natural death in the turnover.

Gen. Wood said it was his idea to restore business to the status it held before the administration of Gov.-Gen. Harrison and to restore competition and personal initiative, leaving to the government "those functions for which the government was intended."

No plans have been made for disposal of the Philippine National Bank, which has financed many of the government enterprises. The bank is under government control.

Gov.-Gen. Wood expects the economic atmosphere of the islands to be cleared by his new policy and that there will be a revival of business to offset the millions in losses sustained by the government in operating the various concerns. He plans to sail for Seattle the 20th inst. to spend a vacation in the United States.

EDUCATION TERMED RIVAL OF CHURCHES

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) May 10. (AP)—Education during the last 500 years has been the rival rather than the ally of the church, Rev. John Henry Hopkins of Chicago said today. Dr. Hopkins, who is rector of the Church of the Redeemer at Chicago, spoke before the synod of clergy and laymen of the Springfield diocese of the Episcopal church.

STABILIZED TARIFFS UP AT GENEVA

American Delegate Gives Approval to Proposal; Soviet Agitator Squelched

GENEVA, May 10. (AP)—Stabilization of tariffs meets with the approval of the American delegation at the International Economic Conference. Speaking to the resolutions introduced by M. serruys of France, whereby countries shall agree only to make tariff changes at long intervals and refrain from unduly increasing protective tariffs, Norman H. Davis of the American delegation declared today that he was in substantial accord with this view.

Jean Lepse, president of the Russian soviet metal workers' organization, delivered a speech which contrasted greatly with the moderate Russian utterances of last week. He declared that the only way of improving the condition of the workers was for them to carry on a class struggle and unite internationally.

This evoked caustic replies from M. Jouhaux, representing the European workers, and Sig. Olivetti, secretary of the Italian Fascist Industrial Confederation. M. Jouhaux warned the soviet delegates that if they wished effectively to co-operate with the international conference they must refrain from adopting two attitudes, one dictated by the necessity of assistance, the other by a desire to propagandize, which meant that co-operation was impossible. He charged that the Russian trade unions had always refused to collaborate with western trade unionism or ameliorate the condition of the workers. He added that charity should begin at home and that the soviet did not treat the workers satisfactorily.

Sig. Olivetti declared that there was more suffering among the population of Russia than in any other country.

Churchwomen of Germany in Forward Move

(Copyright, 1927, by the Chicago Tribune)

BERLIN, May 10. (Exclusive)—The general convention of the Protestant Church of Germany has passed a law permitting women to become vicars. This is a revolutionary step in the history of the German church, which, until recently, held that woman's job is to darn socks and nurse a family, and therefore clamped down restrictions on her work.

After a long struggle German girls with religious vocations were permitted to study theology. Many of them graduated with high honors. Now, after a new struggle, the women have been permitted to study for the ministry, but will be allowed only to teach Sunday school and read services for women.

Dog Keeps Boys from Sleep of Death in Snow

LARAMIE (Wyo.) May 10. (AP)—Because their faithful dog would not permit them to drop into the slumber that precedes death by freezing, Glenn Holder, 11 years of age, and George Holmes, 13, were alive today after a day and most of two nights in an automobile stalled in the hills northeast of here.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller, who left the boys Sunday in an effort to reach the King Brothers ranch and summon aid, perished in the snow three miles from their destination.

After shoveling or bucking his way through drifts for half the night, Undersheriff Robert E. Welliever and a deputy reached the marooned car today. At the hospital it was said both boys will recover.

AVIATORS AND PLANES TAKEN TO PHILIPPINES

MANILA, May 10. (AP)—The American Army transport Chaumont brought twenty aviators and eight airplanes from Shanghai to Olongapo, near here, today. The total force for possible use in China held at Olongapo and Manila has reached 1800, including several hundred marines. The men of the air unit held in readiness number 250.

COOLIDGE DISCOUNTS MEETING SITE CHANGE

WASHINGTON, May 10. (AP)—Reports that the three-power naval limitation conference called by President Coolidge might meet elsewhere than at Geneva were discounted at the White House today, where President Coolidge was represented as expecting the conference to take place at Geneva about June 20, next. The President believes the date might be altered, but is certain that Geneva will be the next meeting place.

ASIAN COTTON CROP INJURED BY TORNADO

TASHKENT (Turkestan) May 10. (AP)—A tornado followed by heavy rains, is reported to have destroyed 75 per cent of the cotton crop in several districts of Western Asia. In the Andijan district, it is estimated 2000 acres of plantations were destroyed.

COOLIDGE SIDESTEPS PROTESTS

WASHINGTON, May 10. (AP)—President Coolidge is leaving to the Department of Interior consideration of protests made against the proposed closing of several land offices in the West. He has not been informed whether the Department of Interior has obtained new information which may lead it to alter its original prospect, which he approved.

COLBY IN PARIS SEEKS DIVORCE

Former Secretary of State Joins Alien Colony

Move Expected in New York, Home of Wife

Wilson Aide Recently Held Senatorial Candidate

PARIS, May 10. (AP)—Bainbridge Colby, former American Secretary of State, is seeking a divorce in Paris. He has authorized his attorneys to institute proceedings, and a petition will be filed as soon as certain formalities are fulfilled.

BAINBRIDGE COLBY

Colby has taken an apartment in the Avenue Niel, establishing a residence in compliance with the French law. Mrs. Colby, who before her marriage in 1895 was Natalie Bedgwick of Stockbridge, Mass., now is in New York.

NEW YORK, May 10. (AP)—Reports of the impending divorce action of Mr. and Mrs. Bainbridge Colby had been circulated here for more than a year, their friends having described their relations as "an amicable separation."

Colby recently was mentioned by the New York papers as a possible Democratic candidate for United States Senator. He was a former law partner of the late President Wilson, who appointed him to succeed Robert Lansing as Secretary of State.

NEW BRITISH WARSHIP TO TRY CANNON

Nelson, of 35,000 Tons, to Have Official Tests Sometime Next Week

(Copyright, 1927, by Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, May 10. (Exclusive)—Some day next week the 35,000-ton British admiralty caveman, called Nelson, will kick off the drydock skids at Portsmouth and stride down the bay to try out his 9 and 16-inch maritime clubs.

By means of these clubs, coupled with the steel bomb-proof skin which serves him as a deck, he hopes to give finality to any naval argument with United States or Japanese fighters of his own type.

After practice with his guns, which discharge pellets weighing 2340 pounds, the Nelson will skid up and down the channel, trying out the engines. If it makes the grade the British government then will take him over from Messrs. Armstrong, Whitworth & Co., who built it.

The Nelson's brother ship, Rodney, now at Plymouth, will go through the same initiation in August.

The inaugurations of these ships are important events here because they are the last battleships the British can lay down under the Washington treaty before 1931.

TWO SHIP CAPTAINS MISSING OFF COAST

PROVIDENCE (R. I.) May 10. (AP)—Capt. Gus Bihan, 60 years of age, of this city, and Capt. George Addison Rose of Jamestown, R. I., have been missing at sea since they left Jamestown Sunday to keep an appointment made by cable from Lisbon, Portugal, to meet the Fabre liner Providence at No Man's Land Buoy, south of Martha's vineyard, and pilot the steamer to this city. They were to meet the Providence yesterday, but missed the steamer.

FREED RUM SHIP RUNS FOR HOME

Craft With Million-Dollar Cargo Steams North

Legal Action Threatened as Result of Seizure

Owners Say Liquor Will be Rechecked and Stored

VANCOUVER (B. C.) May 10. (AP)—With her $1,000,000 liquor cargo untouched, the Federalship is to arrive in Vancouver late Wednesday night or early Thursday morning to have her cargo rechecked and restowed, her owners declared here today.

Shortly after the ship's return to port, legal action is expected to be started by the owners against the United States government for damages resulting from unlawful seizure and detention of the ship.

The craft experienced engine trouble shortly after leaving San Francisco, but has been able to make fairly good time on her way north.

The Federalship when ordered released in San Francisco was directed to sail to Buenaventura, Colombia. It was escorted to sea by United States revenue cutters, but apparently abandoned its course to return to its home port.

LIQUOR WORTH $182,000 SEIZED ON LINERS

NEW YORK, May 10. (AP)—Seizure aboard two International Mercantile Marine liners, the Arabic and Delilian, totaling nearly $183,000 in estimated value, were reported today by Edward W. Barnes, assistant solicitor of the customs. Liquor on the Arabic valued at $100,000 was seized this morning, and the Delilian seizure, valued at $82,400, was made the 2nd inst. Both vessels are docked in the North River at Seventeenth street.

Both seizures were made by the same two treasury agents, Thomas F. York and D. C. Rowland.

Battle Between Troops, Yaquis Rages Near Line

NOGALES (Arizona) May 10 (AP)—Telegraphic advices sent today to Mrs. P. D. Mascarenas, owner of the Santa Barbara ranch in the State of Sonora, Mexico, report heavy fighting between Mexican Federal soldiers and rebellious Yaqui Indians occurred at the ranch, fifteen miles south of the international border.

Federal reinforcements have been sent from Nogales, Sonora. The hills about Sonora are reported heavily dotted with troops. The dispatch to Mrs. Mascarenas adds that airplanes are in the Santa Barbara country.

A dispatch to the Herald said Chief Luis Matus, head of the warring Yaquis, is heading northward with 800 well-armed warriors.

This report is said to have been given Gen. Francisco R. Manzo, commander of the Mexican Federal troops in Sonora, this afternoon. The dispatch added that exceptionally large bands of Indians are heading for the international boundary line.

GRAY PINES FOR LAST FAREWELL

More Worried About Her Love Than Death Chair

Widow Never Wants to See "Beast of Liar" Again

NEW YORK, May 10. (Exclusive)—With reputation, honor, family and the sweet prospect of life itself already laid on the altar of illicit love, Henry Judd Gray today pleaded with jail attendants for a final farewell to his inamorata, the blond Ruth Snyder, self-made widow, before the death-house doors clang behind them.

With the electric chair staring him grimly in the face, for his part in the murder of the woman's husband, Albert Snyder, of which the lovers were convicted yesterday, Judd was cast down today because he fears Ruth blames him for her plight.

PLEADS WITH SHERIFF

"Please let me see her," he pleaded when Chief Deputy Sheriff Massa visited him today in his cell in Queens County Jail, to which he was returned following the quick verdict which decrees the death penalty for both.

"Please let me see her, Mr. Massa. I told my story truthfully, with no thought of sending her to the electric chair. I could not do otherwise. The lies I had previously told were weighing on me and I could not tell the truth without implicating her."

The small corset salesman who admitted wielding a sashweight on Ruth's unloved art editor-husband, turned piteous eyes to the court officer.

"Don't you think she'll want to talk to me before we leave here?"

SHERIFF ASKS HER

Gray's black brows came together and three deep lines showed themselves on the forehead that has been singularly unruffled since he told his story before the jury. The thought that Ruth, deep in her heart, might have ceased loving him appeared to bring far greater concern to his mind than the prospect of the electric chair at Sing Sing. Massa said he did not know whether Ruth wanted to see him, but he would lose no time in finding out. The Sheriff visited the widow and explained Gray wanted to comfort her.

"I don't want to see that beast of a liar ever again," she cried, her eyes flashing anger.

Massa had not carried her refusal to Gray tonight, but Gray seemed to sense the situation. He was downcast and sought solace in a book of prayer.

HAS ANOTHER ATTACK

The unhappy blond fought today to retain her mental balance. This morning there was a recurrence of the hysterical attack that left her prostrated for a few minutes after she heard the jury's verdict. Today's convulsions threw her into the same rigidity and unconsciousness that was a symptom of Monday's seizure, and doctors diagnosed her attacks as epileptic. Later in the afternoon she was reported to be calm and collected again, although considerably undermined in strength.

Her counsel, Edgar F. Hazelton, today was said to be considering basing his appeal from the death sentence on the hitherto unsuspected abnormality in the woman's mental equipment revealed by the epileptic attacks which, he contends, indicated a blood clot on the brain. Hazelton will await the official sanity test at Sing Sing, before taking any further steps in this direction, it is said.

Justice Townsend Scudder will sentence the pair on Monday morning. That procedure will be followed by immediate removal to the death house at Sing Sing. On Tuesday State alienists will examine both.

Ford Lauded by Auto Rival for Publicity Skill

DETROIT, May 10. (AP)—Introduction of the engineering type of mind into advertising was advocated by Charles F. Kettering, vice-president of General Motors Corporation, in an address here last night before the Association of National Advertisers.

Kettering, in stressing need of the engineering touch, held up Henry Ford, head of a rival concern, as a master exponent of the practice.

"He (Ford) made his advertising such that it appealed strikingly to the customer's mind," Kettering said. "He didn't concern himself about advertising that appealed to the so-called advertising expert.

"Some of the finest ads ever written never paid a dime into the treasury of the manufacturer because they were either over the heads of buyers or they told too much or too little.

"That is where the engineering phase enters into advertising. Your engineer knows to a thousandth of an inch just what his part must be to give efficient service and he knows too what is needed and what is not needed in his mechanical device. When the advertising man finds out that same feature of his business, what he needs and where he needs it, then he begins to make money."

De Pinedo Still Fog-Bound Over Eastern Route

NEW YORK, May 10. (AP)—Francesco De Pinedo, Italian aviator, was fog-bound today and could not say when he will resume the Boston-to-Philadelphia hop of his four-continent flight. He will wait for a clearing of the fog which twice forced his Santa Maria II to land yesterday. The plane came down the second time on the East River last night.

The Italian aviator expressed a fervent hope for the safety of the French flyers, Nungesser and Coli. Under normal conditions, he said, he was convinced that Nungesser, whom he termed one of the shrewd and bravest aviators in the world, would have reached his objective.

JAPAN TO DECORATE MUSSOLINI

LONDON, May 10. (AP)—Emperor Hirohito of Japan, the Exchange Telegraph correspondent at Tokio reports, has decided to confer on Premier Mussolini of Italy the Grand Coron of the Rising Sun and Paulownia. This is described as the highest Japanese order that can be bestowed on foreigners.

BAY CITY MAN ADMITS FRAUD

Confesses Embezzlement of $97,514

Resigns as Company Head and Disappears

Warrant Out for Arrest of Alfred E. Wolff

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10. (Exclusive.)—As if it were all an item of the day's business, the importing and exporting firm of Wolff, Kirchmann & Co. today issued a typewritten statement announcing the embezzlement of $97,514.69 by its president, Alfred E. Wolff, his confession, resignation and disappearance. At the same time a warrant for Wolff's arrest was obtained.

Investigation revealed that Wolff's executive reports had been considered inadequate and evasive several months ago. Harold Snell, secretary of the Morris-Hebstrom Company, Ltd., two-thirds owner of the local company, and with vast copra interests in the Fiji Islands, came here unannounced to conduct a quiet investigation.

CONFRONTS WOLFF

Ultimately he confronted Wolff with evidences of shortages. Last Tuesday Wolff walked into his office and laid a signed sheet of paper on his desk which read:

"I voluntarily confess and acknowledge having embezzled the funds of Wolff, Kirchmann & Co., Inc., intrusted to my care. I have lied and betrayed those who trusted me.

"The amount is large, extending over several years and it will take complete audit of the books to learn the sum total.

"I hereby resign my position in the company and surrender myself to your custody until such time as you decide what is to be done. I have only this morning acquainted my wife with these facts and she has urged me to tell the truth, take my punishment and do my utmost to make retribution. Whatever we have will be turned over to you."

DEEDS HOME

In fulfillment of the promise in the last line, it was learned that Wolff turned over the deeds to his home in Berkeley, $15,000 in a bank account and $3500 in cash.

Today when his wife and their two daughters awoke, the following note was found on a table:

"Helen: You will be no worse off without me and I simply cannot face things. Be brave and forget and forgive. Alfred."

Wolff had been president of the company since it was organized in 1918. His professional reputation was spotless and he was a member of two exclusive downtown clubs.

The National Aeronautic Association verified the recording instruments. The previous record, held by Lieut. Demougeot of France, was 30,479 feet.

CHILEAN PRESIDENT'S RESIGNATION ACCEPTED

SANTIAGO (Chile) May 10. (AP)—Both houses of Parliament have accepted the resignation of Emilio Figueroa-Larrin as President of Chile, tendered last week. The Chamber of Deputies voted last night to accept the resignation, following similar action by the Senate several days ago. The Chamber voted also to give Figueroa-Larrin a pension for life.

House Hunting Made Easy Through These A...

To Buyers of Stocks and Bonds Who Seek Wider Diversification and Greater Security of Principal

THIS message is intended primarily for institutional and individual investors who are seeking the utmost in security and yield, and who are not yet familiar with the important advantages to be gained through the purchase of the Guaranteed First Mortgage Certificates of this Company.

For fourteen years the Mortgage Guarantee Company has been loaning money almost exclusively on residential and business properties; in other words, properties of an essential character, possessing a known rental value in addition to a readily ascertained intrinsic value.

Vacant land, subdivision projects, churches, hospitals, theatres, clubs, etc., because their current value is dependent largely upon management, rather than upon inherent rental value, cannot be accepted (with, perhaps, rare exceptions) as security under the standards which have been established and consistently adhered to by this Company.

Moreover, a wide margin of safety is required by this Company in the execution of its loans. This margin must be at least 50% of the property's conservatively appraised value, to provide for expenses and unforeseen contingencies in the event of default by the borrower. In addition, a liberal margin in income value is required as a safeguard against any possible lowering of rental values in surrounding properties.

These stipulations, it should be noted, are in marked contrast with those attending many real estate bonds which are issued with little or no margin in actual property value and with an income margin based solely on excessive rentals in force at the time bonds are issued. It is the differential between the income as computed over a period of years, after considering all the contingencies of the future, and the outgo as determined with equal care and foresight that reveals the true value of a property.

Not only do the appraisals made by this Company conform with the standards of the State Insurance and Banking Departments under the Mortgage Insurance Act of California, but also with the very strict requirements of large institutional clients whose funds can be invested only in securities of the very highest order.

But the margin of safety back of the Guaranteed First Mortgage Certificates of this Company is not dependent alone upon the selection of prime underlying security. The matter is carried still further. Certificates are never issued against a single piece of property or a small group of properties. The first mortgages (or first trust deeds) represented by these certificates are secured by numerous properties, all choicely located, and widely diversified, as to type of construction as well as to location. In fact, the principle of diversification is carried to its limit of practicability.

Critical investors are invited to compare these certificates point for point with high-grade, first mortgage bonds, using the following features as the basis of comparison:

SECURITY: Guaranteed First Mortgage Certificates of the Mortgage Guarantee Company are secured by a multiplicity of first liens, averaging about $5,000, on desirably located, well improved properties. These include liens on private residences, courts, flats, apartments and business properties, located in the settled and growing communities of California. Every individual property has a sound appraisal value of at least twice the amount of the lien thereon.

APPRAISALS: Appraisals are made by thoroughly experienced, State-approved appraisers, who operate in accordance with the very conservative system of calculation required by the Mortgage Insurance Act and by the strict self-imposed policy of this Company. All appraisals are filed with the State Insurance Commissioner and the Superintendent of Banks. Appraisals average substantially less than the estimated market values and no loan made by this Company can exceed 50% of the appraised value.

INSURANCE: Ample insurance against fire and other hazards is required in every instance. Title insurance by a company of known responsibility is likewise an invariable requirement.

INCOME: The personal responsibility of borrowers is always an important factor in connection with the loans of this Company. The Company's interest income therefore is derived from a large number of responsible property owners in various settled localities, thus applying the advantages of diversification to the protection of income as well as principal.

MATURITIES: Certificates are obtainable in any maturity from two to five years, and arrangement may be made for the immediate re-investment of funds on maturity dates without any loss of interest.

DENOMINATIONS: Certificates are issued in denominations of $100 and multiples thereof, thus enabling purchasers to keep their funds closely invested. This is another important factor in avoiding interest losses.

INTEREST PAYMENTS: Interest payments—either quarterly or semi-annually as desired—are made promptly by check on due dates. There are no coupons to clip—or to overlook. This is still another safeguard against interest losses.

GUARANTEE: For the reason that it is not humanly possible to provide any form of security which alone is 100% safe under any and all circumstances and conditions, it is obviously desirable to have an investment which is effectually insured against loss of either principal or interest—something which it is impossible for the average investment house to provide. Hence the guarantee of these Certificates by this Company, under the Mortgage Insurance Act of California, backed by capital, surplus and undivided profits of over $6,500,000, and resources of more than $50,000,000, is an exceedingly important factor to discriminating investors. This is the outstanding guarantee of the West and one of the strongest in the United States.

TAX EXEMPTION: These Certificates are exempt from all State, County and Municipal taxes in California.

LEGAL FOR SAVINGS: They are also legal investment for all banks, insurance companies and trust funds.

REGISTRATION: These Certificates are registered in the name of the owner and are non-negotiable, and, in the event of loss, are of no value to the finder.

YIELD: With an interest return of 6%, extraordinary security of principal, and an unquestionable guarantee of both principal and interest, we believe that these Certificates offer the the best possible combination of safety and yield obtainable in the entire field of investment.

OTHER IMPORTANT ADVANTAGES

(For Estates)

ARRANGEMENT can be made whereby a liberal percentage of these Certificates may be liquidated at their full face value plus earned interest, immediately upon demand, in the event of the death of the registered holder. This is in marked contrast with the delays and losses usually involved in the liquidation of estates, and constitutes another important reason why every investor of large holdings should include a substantial proportion of these Certificates to insure sufficient quick cash for State inheritance tax, Federal estate tax and other expenses incidental to the settlement of the estate. Thus used, these Certificates may be regarded as a form of insurance, with the added advantage of 6% interest.

(For Business Reserves)

BUSINESS concerns which have reserve funds for investment find these Certificates especially adapted to their needs by reason of their high degree of safety, certain and adequate interest return, and their bank loan value up to 90% of par.

Because they are non-fluctuating, and free from the influences of the speculative market, these Certificates when purchased for business reserves, constitute a constant and dependable shield against reverses.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

FLYERS MOVING TO MARCH FIELD

Air Forces of United States Ordered to Riverside

War Department Instructions Have Been Issued

Squadrons Begin Movement to West 18th Inst.

RIVERSIDE, May 10.—Movement of air forces of the United States to March Field will begin on the 18th inst., according to detailed information received by Maj. C. H. Wash, commandant, and made public today. The full number ordered to entrain for California includes 623 men and seven officers, according to Maj. Wash, the movement to continue from different posts of the United States until the latter part of June.

On the 18th of this month the Eleventh Bombardment Squadron of Langley Field, Hampton Roads, Va., will entrain for New York, thence to travel via the Panama Canal. The squadron contains 123 enlisted men and one officer.

The Seventieth Service Squadron, Kelly Field, San Antonio, Tex., will leave that station with 170 enlisted men and two officers for Marsh Field on June 18. About four days are allowed to arrive here.

The Forty-seventh School Squadron, Brooks Field, San Antonio, will leave also on June 18 with 132 enlisted men and two officers.

The Ninety-fifth Pursuit Squadron, Selfridge Field, Detroit, Mich., will leave for Riverside on June 20 with 102 enlisted men and one officer.

The Forty - fourth Observation Squadron, Post Field, Fort Sill, Okla., leaves on June 23 with sixty-seven men and one officer.

On the same day the Twenty-third Photographic section at Post Field will entrain for March Field with twenty enlisted men.

Maj. Wash has been at the field here for a month superintending the preparations for the forces coming. Col. Gardenhire, superintendent of construction, has been busy with rehabilitation work to get the buildings into shape for the large amount of equipment and men to arrive soon.

The buildings now in use are expected to be temporary and within a year new and permanent construction will be under way.

Orders for the movement of these forces to March Field were sent directly to the stations affected from the War Department, Washington, D. C., and advice of the program sent to Maj. Wash. It is one of the first steps in the huge plan to make of March Field the most important air base for the United States for the training of flyers.

Scotch Buying Citrus Fruits in Southland

COVINA, May 10. — The Golden Orange Groves, Inc., furnished a part of the shipment of 5000 boxes of Valencia oranges shipped by the Mutual Orange Distributors last week from Wilmington to Glasgow, Scotland. The fruit was brogdexed in preparation for the thirty-day trip via the Panama Canal. On the same day the local Mutual Orange Distributors' house also shipped a car of oranges by rail to New York City where they will go by boat to Newfoundland. Next week the Golden Orange Groves will ship 1000 boxes to Liverpool.

The Mutual Orange Distributors are developing a fine market in Glasgow and they have other big points of distribution at Southampton, Liverpool and the large cities of Sweden and Germany. The Mutual Orange Distributors' house at Glendora has a contract to furnish 2000 boxes of Valencias to the German market during the month of May. A part of this consignment will be shipped via Liverpool this week.

It is estimated that 1,000,000 boxes of Southern California oranges will be exported this year, which means that about 2500 cars or 5 per cent of the total production is being marketed abroad.

ORANGE SHIPPING HOLDS STEADY PACE

ORANGE, May 10.—Operating at about the same speed as last week, the ten packing plants identified with the Orange County Fruit Exchange expect to move approximately 200 cars of Valencias to market this week, according to the estimate made by L. D. Palmer, exchange manager, here today. If this mark is maintained for the current week it will mean that the exchange plants will have shipped nearly 500 cars since the Valencia season opened April 25. The shipments for the first week were estimated at about eighty cars, followed by 200 last week and about the same number expected to go forward this week, the third that the season has been under official headway. Palmer stated today that while the quality of the fruit is excellent with good prices in prospect as a whole it has been found that there is a general amount of smaller sizes in the groves. The early pickings, it was reported, have brought these to light.

The presentation was made by "Daddy" J. N. Kimball, noted international typing contest manager, who also presented Miss Childester with a gold medal signifying her achievement. The cup will remain in the high-school trophy case for one year.

Other awards made by Mr. Kimball were to Bertha Myers who made a perfect fifteen-minute test, and Natalen Scharnstein, who won the accuracy medal for first-year typing. The Inglewood teams were under direction of Mrs. Alice Record and Mrs. Sarah J. Scoville of the commercial department here.

Pasadena Horse Show Promises to Be Sucess

PASADENA, May 10.—All boxes sold, 800 reservations for the dinner and 104 entries for the show itself guarantee that the Third Amateur Horse Show at the Flintridge Riding Club will be a financial and social success, Miss Mabel Seeley, executive chairman of the managing committee, said today. The show is for the benefit of the Los Angeles Junior League, which maintains a home for convalescent children on Ingraham street, Los Angeles.

The show starts Friday evening with a dinner, after which there will be various events of the show and an entertainment in a grove of trees adjoining the riding club. It will continue all day Saturday, Mrs. Gardner Bullis, president of the Junior League, is in general charge.

PAVING OVER WASHES TO BE FLOOD PROOF

VAN NUYS, May 10.—Plans for the paving of Victory Boulevard and Vanowen street over the two branches of Tujunga Wash are being checked over previous to being incorporated into ordinances calling for the completion of the two cross-valley highway gaps. The paving will consist of extra heavy concrete dips about thirty feet wide. At present both roads over the washes are of dirt and impassable in time of flood waters. Funds for the work is to come from the city's bridge bond account. There are about 4000 unpaved feet on Vanowen street and 2000 on Victory Boulevard. Neither of these long gaps were paved when the remainder of both streets were improved, engineers asserting that subsequent floods would wash out the paving. The new plan is to design the paving in "dip" form, and in a manner that will make it impervious to heavy flood waters.

FACTORY OFFICES TO LOCATE AT COVINA

COVINA, May 10.—The general offices and main warehouse of the Scheu National Orchard Heater Company will be located in Covina at the completion of the hollow-tile building now being erected on Citrus avenue. The Scheu company, which also has offices in Los Angeles and Haines City, Fla., and branch warehouses in San Jose and Sacramento, has now a market for its heaters in twenty States.

APPARENTLY HAS GRUDGE FOR POLICE

San Diego Officers Have Narrow Escape When Car Rammed by Civilian

SAN DIEGO, May 10.—Two police officers answering what turned out to be a useless call, narrowly escaped death today when the police car in which they were riding was overturned after being rammed by a motorist at Sixth and G street. The two officers, Herbert E. Hill, detective sergeant, and Oscar E. Freeberg, sergeant of police, were both extricated from the wreckage and were taken to the Central Emergency Hospital for treatment. Both were badly cut and bruised and Hill incurred possible rib fractures.

At Sixteenth and C streets Freeberg states they were proceeding at about thirty-five miles an hour with the siren sounding when an auto driven by E. B. Haley appeared. Freeberg states that Haley looked at them but kept on going. In the intersection he is said to have turned and tried to go in the same direction as the police car. In doing so he struck its left rear hub cap and turned it over. Hill, on the right side of the car, managed by a superhuman effort to hold the wreck off of his body until help came. Freebert, being on the "high side" of the car, was in an easier position and got out in time to help Hill. The siren of the car was sounding when the officers got out and Freeberg had to get in under the wreckage and turn it off. A passing motorist took the two officers to the police station, where they were treated by Dr. E. H. Crabtree and by Dr. Brust.

FAST WORK SAVES FRESH STORED HAY

CORCORAN, May 10.—A large barn and sixty tons of hay on the C. U. Clark place north of here came near being a total loss through spontaneous combustion and was saved by the prompt use of Kings county's chemical equipment designed to put out fires in grain fields. Two days after the hay had been placed in the barn it was found to be smoking and Mr. Clark phoned to the County Farm Bureau office in Hanford. Farm Advisor Sullivan and Dairy Specialist Galbraith rushed out to the ranch with some gas tanks. The hay was all taken from the barn by neighboring farmers, but the gas was so strong that they had to wear wet sponges over their nostrils. The placing in the stack of hay that was too green was the cause of the incipient fire.

STUDY OF MARS CHANGES IDEAS

Opinions of Scientists Vary on Inhabitability

Dr. Merrill of Mt. Wilson Tells of Investigations

Definite Atmosphere Shown Through Research

PASADENA, May 10.—The opinion of scientists concerning the possibility of life on Mars has gradually changed in recent years until now most of them believe that at least vegetable life exists on the neighboring planet, said Dr. Paul W. Merrill of the Mt. Wilson Observatory staff, in addressing the Masonic Luncheon Club today.

Astronomers also agree, he stated, that a definite atmosphere does surround the planet. However, it is very rare, and probably could not support animal life of the type we know. Observation has revealed that the dark markings along the so-called Martian canals change with the seasons.

Dr. Merrill described some of the research carried on at Mt. Wilson, and pointed out its value by means of an illustration in the study of sun spots. No relation between these phenomena and radio was foreseen when their study was started. Through the study of sun spots, however, scientists learned more about the electron and from this knowledge were enabled to make great improvements in the practical operation of radio.

Dr. Merrill prophesied that through the experiments in measuring the velocity of light now being conducted at Mt. Wilson, within ten years inaccessible mountain peaks can be measured with great accuracy.

Dr. Merrill has been associated with the Mt. Wilson Observatory for nine years and was last month elected to the Board of City Directors of Pasadena.

Police Chief at El Centro Sent to State Prison

EL CENTRO, May 10.—J. B. Hardwick, Calexico police chief who was found guilty last Friday of assault with a deadly weapon in connection with the shooting of W. A. Taylor, lettuce buyer, on February 3, was given an indeterminate sentenge in Folsom prison by Judge A. C. Finney this morning.

The crime, according to the statement of the judge, carries a maximum penalty of ten years and the court's sentence was so worded as to leave the final determination as to the term in the hands of the prison board.

Edgar Hervey, attorney for Hardwick, offered a motion for rehearing of the case and when this was denied, filed notice of intention to appeal the case.

Judge Finney fixed bail at $25,000 pending the outcome of the appeal, with the stipulation that Hardwick was not to carry a gun, was to abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors and was not to cross the border into Mexico.

PASTOR RESIGNS HIS YORBA LINDA POST

YORBA LINDA, May 10.—Rev. Clifford N. Jones, for the past four years at the Yorba Linda Friends Church, has presented to the official board his resignation, effective July 1. The board has regretfully accepted it and Rev. Jones plans to leave about June 1 for his ranch at Garden Grove where pressure of work and need of all his time prompted his desire to retire from active church work.

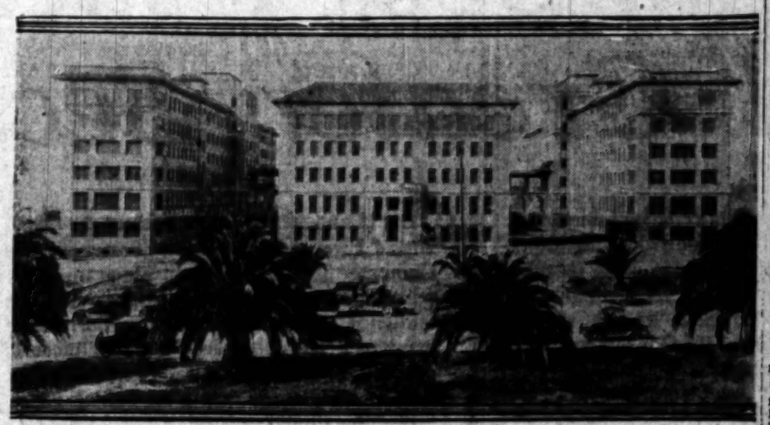
Mr. Jones has served seven years as pastor in Yorba Linda, the first pastorate being from 1915 to 1917 and the present from 1923 to date. During his present pastorate the splendid new church building was erected and the local membership has been greatly increased and strengthened.

SERVICE CLUBS ARE BASEBALL ENEMIES

SAN FERNANDO, May 10.—San Fernando Kiwanis and Exchange clubs will clash for indoor baseball honors on the Coliseum grounds Friday evening, when the diamond is dedicated to a season of evening games, according to Charles H. Temple, secretary of the Exchange Club. Challenges have been hurled back and forth for several days but as the date of the game draws near there seems to be a dearth of courageous players on both sides. The band will give a concert during the evening and the funds derived from collections will go to the Mississippi flood relief.

SOLDIERS' HOSPITAL OPENS THURSDAY

New Million and Half Dollar Building at Sawtelle Completed



EXPERIENCE RELATED BY HOUSEWIFE

Fresno Woman Testifies to Actions of "King" David of Shiloh Colony

FRESNO, May 10.—Sought for several years by Michigan State authorities in connection with investigations into the Shiloh colony of "King" David Purnell, Mrs. L. Boschkey, one-time member of the inner circle of advisers of "King" David, was located here, and today completed a detailed story of the operations of the cult in a deposition for use in an action in equity instituted by Atty.-Gen. Dougherty of Michigan.

Mrs. Boschkey's testimony was similar to that of other women who have left the colony, and to the general effect that the self-styled "king" attempted familiarities with her and criminally assaulted her daughter, who, Mrs. Boschkey stated in her deposition, was twice married at the direction of the cult officials.

The deposition was taken before Court Commissioner Baldwin by W. E. Simpson, Fresno attorney representing the Attorney-General of Michigan, and Earl D. Finch of Redlands, representing the defendant corporation.

The deposition comprises fifty pages of testimony, much of which had to do with personal experiences of Mrs. Boschkey as a member of the cult prior to 1910, when she said she left the colony because of certain conditions she found existing upon her return from a preaching trip.

VENTURA BOULEVARD WIDENING IS SOUGHT

CAHUENGA PARK, May 10.—Petitions asking for the paving of Ventura Boulevard from Sepulveda Boulevard to El Canyon Drive, a distance of thirteen miles, with eight-inch concrete fifty feet wide, with five-foot oiled shoulders, are now in circulation. The complete improvement will give a sixty-foot highway from Sepulveda Boulevard to the west city limits of Los Angeles. Substantial financial assistance from the new State Highway Commission may be expected in this project, according to Joseph Tanner, secretary of the Ventura Boulevard Chamber of Commerce. It is stated that the highway commissioners will continue the policy of aiding in the various improvements of Ventura Boulevard despite the fact that the control of the highway within the limits of the city of Los Angeles has been given over to the municipal authorities.

Thomas of Philadelphia, executive secretary of the American Friends' Service Committee is on the Coast for a week or ten days to make a survey of the situation relative to setting up a Pacific Coast office in the vicinity of Los Angeles, for carrying on the work of this committee, the avowed purpose of which is to cement a world friendship.

Erected for Veterans

Pictures of addition built at home for country's defenders, and Col. James A. Mattison, chief surgeon.

SAWTELLE, May 10.—Formal opening of the $1,500,000 hospital at Sawtelle Soldiers' Home has been set for 1 o'clock Thursday. Col James A. Mattison, chief surgeon in charge of the massive government building, which towers six stories in height, dwarfing the rambling old frame barracks and other structures in the beautifully parked home reservation, has announced that no formal ceremony will be held, but the public will be permitted to inspect the hospital between the hours of 1 and 5 in the afternoon.

The new steel and concrete building, loftiest structure of its kind among government hospitals, is said by surgeons to be one of the leaders in the country for modern equipment. There are two wings with a central group of structures, providing for administration, clinical and service sections. Full equipment includes the latest X-ray, clinical laboratory, dental, physiotherapy and occupational therapy services. The building was constructed by the Los Angeles Construction Company and the Turner Mechanical Equipment Company of San Francisco. There are 562 beds, and Col. Mattison heads a full staff of physicians, surgeons and nurses. Many disabled and sick veterans have already been moved into the new hospital, but Col. Mattison selected Thursday for the official opening because of the national importance of that date, proclaimed Hospital Day for Los Angeles by Mayor Cryer. On that day many hospitals will be visited by the public to inspect the work being done to relieve the ills and sufferings of humanity.

In commenting on the completion of the huge Sawtelle building, Col. Mattison praised the work of Congressman John D. Fredericks, who put through the appropriation at the 1923 session of Congress, backed by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, members of the national board of managers of the soldiers' homes, the Federation of Women's Clubs, Post-War Service League and various patriotic organizations.

NAMES OTHER WOMAN BUT DENIES WRONG

Anthony Dibetta, Los Angeles business man, in a divorce complaint he filed yesterday saved Mrs. Anna Dibetta the trouble of naming another woman. He named her himself. One of the causes of friction between Dibetta and his wife, he related, was Miss Perina Pistouetti. Miss Pistonetti, Dibetta swore, was his bookkeeper and nothing more. Mrs. Dibetta, however, he complained, constantly charged him with a too great fondness for Miss Pistonetti, and thereby caused him grievous mental anguish.

Bail was set at $2500, which Chiuma was unable to furnish, and he was returned to the County Jail.

DEATH LAID TO HIT AND RUN CRASH

Unidentified Motorist Held Responsible in Coroner's Verdict at Tulare

TULARE, May 10.—A "hit-and-run" motorist was held responsible for the death here yesterday of F. D. Peart, San Francisco salesman, at the inquest conducted here this morning by Coroner J. M. Hadley of Tulare county. Peart sustained fatal injuries Saturday morning about 1 o'clock when the car in which he was riding was overturned by a machine driven by the unknown, following a crash near Quail, south of Tulare.

J. M. Felton, Bakersfield truck driver, was the only eye-witness but was unable to secure any clew leading to arrest of the driver of the speeding roadster which crashed into Peart's light coupe.

The injured man was brought to a local hospital by L. T. Robinson of Corcoran who arrived on the scene soon after the accident.

Peart was a traveling salesman for the Carnation Milk Company with offices in San Francisco and Seattle. The remains were shipped to Sacramento last night for burial. He has a sister residing there. His father, E. F. Peart, resides in San Francisco. Another sister, Mrs. Harry J. Nickerson, resides in Fresno.

Cash Assured to Pay Expense of Riverside Fair

RIVERSIDE, May 10.—Ways and means to finance the 1927 Southern California Fair were discussed by the Fair Association last night in the first meeting since the return of President Wherrell, Assemblyman from Sacramento. Whether the fair would be continued was given a decisive answer last night when the association voted to clean up all debts and present a clean bill of health to aid the prospects of State and county assistance. It was unanimously decided to go on with the agricultural and industrial plans. It was agreed that the future of the fair depends largely upon action of the County Board of Supervisors.

The possibility of a special four mills per dollar tax as provided by recent State legislation was discussed. This would bring between $15,000 and $20,000. The fair is also to receive $10,000 from the State as soon as the Forty-sixth District is organized.

PLANNING TO PAVE SKYLINE HIGHWAY

GIRARD, May 10.—A movement is on foot among property owners along the Mulholland skyline drive to start proceedings for the paving of the scenic mountain highway. This project has an appeal to local residents and property owners, as for two and one-half miles the drive runs through the Girard townsite. The road was built two years ago and would have been paved at that time but for the recommendation of the engineers that the work be delayed in order to give the fills an opportunity to settle. The rains of two winter seasons have resulted in proper settlement and holders of large estates are today quoted as developing plans for landscaping and improving extensive tracts. When paved, the scenic drive will attract motorists whose objective is Girard, Calabassas or the Malibu resorts.

Mother of Man's Children Seeks Information of Wedding to Another Woman

HANFORD, May 10.—A matrimonial mix-up with possibly some [illegible] uncovered here yesterday when a woman giving her name as M. Knapp of Los Angeles called at the County Clerk's office [illegible] of a marriage license issued last February to a Minnie Knapp, age, and Pearl B. Knapp, 47, both of Bakersfield.

The couple stated to the clerk that they had been previously married but had been divorced. They were married here by Justice Warnock.

Mrs. Minnie Knapp stated yesterday that she and Knapp were married in Bakersfield in 1926, a year and a day after a divorce was granted to Knapp from Pearl Knapp, to whom Knapp was again married here last February. She said they had resided in Los Angeles happily for twenty-one years and had six children.

She heard of the Knapps' second marriage and upon questioning him about it, he had replied that he never had been married legally to her,

BANKS LEND HEAVILY TO VETERANS

Total of $40,000,000 is Amount to Date; Year-End Estimate $60,000,000

NEW YORK, May 10. (Exclusive)—Loans amounting to more than $40,000,000 have been made by over 7000 banks on the security of the adjusted service certificates issued to the veterans of the World War and Gen. Frank T. Hines, director of the Veterans' Bureau, estimates that the total during the year will reach $60,000,000, it is stated in an article by Reuben A. Lewis, Jr., in the current issue of the American Bankers' Association Journal. He says:

"The first clamor for loans came at the height of the New Year's rush and fours the banks hazy as to the right policy. The average certificate had an immediate loan value of only $60. There were two practical difficulties. The bank had to be certain that the veteran who applied for the loan was the identical person whose name appeared on the certificate, and that he was mentally capacitated to make the loan.

"When a number of banks declined to handle these loans, the cry went up that Congress had given the soldiers a 'gold-brick bonus' and 'tombstone certificates.' The banks, as soon as they became acquainted with the gilt-edge nature of the security and were reassured by the reasonable policies announced by the Veterans' Bureau, started to make loans quite generally. There are now more than 7000 banks that have made loans to veterans. A large national bank in St. Paul, Minn., advertised that it would not only make loans to veterans in St. Paul and vicinity, but would act as a central agency and accept these loans, without recourse from any bank. What the St. Paul bank did on a national scale, a number of banks achieved in a more restricted way.

"It is no longer necessary for a bank to make these loans as a means of accommodating the veterans, as Congress passed a law at the last session authorizing the Veterans' Bureau to make loans direct to the holders of these service certificates. Gen. Hines regards the bureau loan fund as supplementary to bank loans to be employed only where banking accommodations are found unavailable.

The properties' mortgages are appraised at $1,350,644.50. The bonds will be unconditionally guaranteed, both as to principal and interest, by Mr. and Mrs. Boeseke, Jr., and Mr. McKeon, whose combined statements show a net worth in excess of $1,800,000.

HAY PRICES IRREGULAR

Local Demand Improves as Supply About Equals Current Needs

Hay markets were irregular during the week ending the 7th inst., according to the weekly hay market review of the United States Department of Agriculture. Meadows and pastures were generally in good condition except for local frost injury or where growth was retarded by cool weather or lack of rain.

Alfalfa prices held about steady, but the market was inclined to be dragging. Pastures in many sections had restricted demand and dairies were only moderate buyers of very ready hay. Local dealers at Kansas City were supplying orders to the southeastern areas where floods had interrupted the movement of Arizona and Western Texas alfalfa.

Harvesting of second cutting alfalfa was nearing completion in southwestern Arizona and liberal shipments were being made from Phoenix to Yuma. The quality of this hay was very good and prices ranged from $11 to $15 per ton. First cutting of alfalfa was in progress in the southeastern section of the State and the quality of the hay is excellent. The acreage in this section is reported to be somewhat less than last year, which may result in a smaller marketable surplus from this region.

A better demand in Los Angeles has resulted in firm prices for all varieties. The cuppir at this point was only about equal to current needs with the bulk of the offerings coming from Imperial Valley of Arizona.

CHANGES IN DISTRIBUTION

Boston Merchant Predicts Department Chains Will Pass Specialized Systems; One-Price Popular

BY EARLE E. CROWE

If E. A. Filene, the Boston department store owner, is right the chain-store companies are riding on the crest of the wave instead of sailing smoothly along under full sail. There is only momentary comfort for the small retailer, however, in this prediction. The Boston merchant foresees the rise of department store chains that will dominate the business of mass distribution of goods to retail buyers, and will cut in heavily on the enormous volume the chains of retail stores have captured in the last ten years.

What Mr. Filene visualizes, writing in the current number of Nation's Business, is the rise of chains within chains. Strings of department stores, co-ordinated under one management and one buying policy, but with each department acting as a separate chain, is the refinement that is destined to prove the most effective in mass distribution. Shoe departments, for example, managed by expert merchandisers, able to sell cheaper and buy in larger quantities, will possess an important edge over the chains of retail stores specializing in shoes.

RISING SLOWLY

Unless the department stores enter aggressively into the chain business, this prophet gives them little chance of competing successfully against the retail chain specialists. They recognize the trend, he believes, but are slow to act, although in the last three years such organizations as National Department Stores, Macy Department, Gimbel Brothers, Associated Dry Goods and B. F. Schlesinger & Sons and Hale Brothers, the last two on the Pacific Coast, have expanded along this line. Moreover, the mail-order houses have gone into the business of running retail stores.

This nascent revolution in the methods of retailing goods is startling enough, but there are even others on the way, this authority states. The one-price stores have struck the right key, he believes, and will undersell the chains and independent stores on the goods most in demand. By applying the Woolworth range of prices to the higher-priced goods he predicts that even greater profits are possible for the one-price system.

THOUGHT FOR OTHERS

Mail-order houses, having mass production and mass distribution facilities at their command, will soon sell more goods through their newly established retail stores than through the mail, he also ventures to prophesy. Like the department store chains the more retail stores they have, the more goods they should sell.

Another significant thought is found in his comment on the advisability of distributors attempting to produce. He concedes this practice is theoretically desirable, but probably not practicable for the next ten years at least. The business of distribution is too broad for the distributors themselves to compete with specialists in production who also compete in a broad field.

Perhaps this line of thinking has wider application. It may suggest that in the whole scheme of American industry the various ramifications are growing so much so as to make it well for separate organizations to confine their attention to one end and not seek to become self-sufficient. This is in direct contrast to the popular idea of industrial combinations to control units in all branches of operation. Perhaps, however, there is a thought here for the petroleum industry.

Merger of Two Orange County Banks Planned

ORANGE, May 10. (Exclusive)—Steps to effect a complete merger between the First National Bank and the National Bank of Orange are being taken today, following the approval of plans by stockholders of both institutions yesterday. The project had been approved by the directors of the two institutions several weeks ago. At yesterday's meeting the stockholders of both banks unanimously voted to proceed with the consolidation.

Assets approximating $6,000,000 will be available when the amalgamation is completed. The two institutions will unite as the First National Bank of Orange, with the savings branches of the two institutions united as the Orange Savings Bank. A trust department is to be installed, thus making every banking facility obtainable in metropolitan banks available to the ranchers and residents.

It is expected that the merger will be completed by July 1.

LOCAL TRADE BUREAU OPENING IS PLANNED

Cowie, assistant vice-president, Citizens' National Bank and Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank, chairman, assisted by Maurice Carsson, J. Knaack, E. F. Sidebottom and W. R. Forker.

Unfilled Steel Orders at Low Level of 1924

NEW YORK, May 10. (AP)—Unfilled tonnage of the United States Steel Corporation as of April 30, reported today fell to the lowest level since August, 1924. The April 30 tonnage was 5,458,192 tons, a decrease of 97,000 tons compared with the end of the preceding month.

On the stock exchange Steel shares held up well in face of the report, since the falling off had been largely anticipated by traders. This was the fourth consecutive month for which a decline was reported.

Thus far during May daily bookings are reported to have been less than shipments and no change in this situation has been indicated.

Less attention, it is said, is being given in steel circles to unfilled orders than in former years, as consumers no longer place orders far ahead.

LONDON, May 10. (By Wireless)—The markets were all cheerful today, except the oils, which remained under the influence of a threatened oil war.

Investment stocks continued to soar, thereby increasing the expectations of small government conversion operations. Meanwhile the New South Wales conversion loan was well received and other new capital issues went readily.

It is believed the next foreign loan will be a small issue for Esthonia.

Continued buying of Brazilian bonds attracted attention and was the occasion for rumors of a fresh loan.

The markets became quieter in the afternoon, but prices held up well, especially the Brazilian bonds, although I do not believe any fresh Brazilian loan is imminent. The New South Wales loan had a good effect on existing stocks because of the establishment of sinking funds.

NEWBERRY SALES GAIN

Sales of J. J. Newberry Company for April, total $1,086,719 against $658,977, a percentage gain of 64.9 per cent. For the four months of 1927 sales totaled $3,080,417 against $1,966,980, or an increase in dollars of $1,113,437, or a percentage gain of 56.6 per cent over the same four months in 1926.

NET PROFITS OF INVESTMENT UP

Local Development Company Reports Earnings

Gain in Four Months' Period Placed at $24,978

Income of Subsidiaries Not Taken Into Account

Net profits of the Los Angeles Investment Company for the four months ended April 30, last, after all charges including provision for depreciation, but before Federal income taxes, amounted to $624,878.63, as compared with $599,900.45 in the corresponding period of last year, according to a financial statement issued yesterday by R. F. Ingold, auditor.

This is equivalent to 12 1-2 cents a share on the 5,000,000 shares of capital stock outstanding, as compared with approximately 12 cents a share on the same capitalization in the 1926 period. Net income from oil royalties for the four months aggregated $256,259.10, while profits derived from the sale of real estate and operation of other properties totaled $368,519.52. Depreciation write-off for the period was $12,587.

This profit, however, does not include any recognition of the earnings of the subsidiary corporations, which would give a comparison more favorable to 1927 than these figures would indicate, Mr. Ingold said.

REALTY SALES

Sales of houses and lots of the corporation in the first four months of this year totaled $639,522.50. This does not include in excess of $300,000 of sales in the new Alverado subdivision actually made but which will appear on the company's books during May and June.

Total assets of the company on April 30, last, amounted to $11,444,718.73. Current liabilities aggregated only $410,838.73, of which $221,756.89 represented income tax reserves. The company's surplus on that date amounted to $6,034,360, which with the $5,000,000 capital gives the company a net worth of more than $11,000,000, or $2.20 a share on the capitalization.

The company reports the Western Pacific Building 92 per cent occupied, with construction on the adjoining unit progressing rapidly. It is expected the completed building will be ready for occupancy January 1, 1928.

OIL INCIDENTAL

"We desire to call the attention of our stockholders to the fact that the real profit of the operation of the Los Angeles Investment Company is derived from its real estate activities, and that our oil profits are only incidental," Mr. Ingold said.

"Some stockholders have been agitated on account of the cut in the price of crude oil, which amounted to approximately 30 cents a barrel on our royalty oil and which affected our income about $15,000 per month. There is no reason to believe that this reduction will continue for any length of time, but if it did continue for the balance of the year, we have more than overcome the effect of the reduction in our income by the profits made on subdivision sales during the last three weeks of April."

Since 1906, the Los Angeles Investment Company has subdivided and sold approximately 1480 acres of land in the Baldwin Hills and adjacent territory. Approximately 1550 acres owned are yet available for subdivision, of which 470 acres are under lease to the Standard Oil Company. On the basis of property sold in the past twenty years, the company has sufficient acreage remaining to meet demands for an equal number of years in the future.

The board of directors of the company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 5 per cent per share, payable on the 15th inst. to stockholders of record April 15. This distribution aggregates $250,000.

Consumption of Gas Near Production

PHILADELPHIA, May 10. (AP)—A statement showing that the consumption of gasoline in this country has caught up with the production, and that the end of August will find reserve stocks depleted by more than 500,000,000 gallons, was issued today by R. D. Leonard, vice-president of Atlantic Refining Company.

"Due to an unusual gain in consumption during the early months of the year, stocks on hand at the end of March were but slightly in excess of 52,000,000 barrels," said Leonard, "and continued withdrawals from these national reserves at merely the present prevailing rate, will reduce the supply on hand at the end of August by approximately 543,000,000 gallons.

"Already the gasoline market is reacting upward. And it is not at all unreasonable to predict that anticipated summer demands will find this market strengthened to a point even slightly in excess of recent years."

CROP SITUATION INTERESTS

Reports on Probable Yield of Various Staples and Trend of Prices Attract Wide Attention

BY PAUL WILLARD GARRETT

NEW YORK, May 10. (Exclusive)—A crop of winter wheat smaller than that for 1926, but larger than for any other year since 1921, is indicated by the Department of Agriculture's estimate, based on May 1 conditions. The present prospect is for a 1927 production of winter wheat of 593,940,000 bushels which falls short of the high 1926 output of 926,929,000 bushels.

A variety of opinions on the 1927 crop have been expressed since the torrential rains of the West set in earlier in the year, and Kansas authorities declare that a bumper production there this year now is impossible. No grounds to fear any serious decline in output can be found in the new government figures.

Only four times since 1910 has the production of winter wheat equaled 593,940,000 bushels. The new estimate compares with an actual output in 1926 of 926,929,000 bushels and in 1925 of 401,734,000 bushels. Similarly the estimated production for rye for this year is placed at 47,861,000 bushels, which represents a substantial increase over the actual production of 40,024,000 last year. It is, of course, too early to make any reliable predictions on the agricultural output for the new year, but at least these preliminary signs point to a large output in some of the more important staples. While the area of winter wheat to be harvested now is reckoned at 28,701,000 acres, or less than was planted last autumn, it still represents an acreage substantially greater than was harvested last year.

A sizable 1927 production of the leading agricultural crops would go a long way toward the rehabilitation of the districts still in distress, provided prices hold up. It had been thought that the heavy rains might seriously reduce the production in many areas and this it doubtless has done. Reports now are coming in to the effect, however, that production will be substantial despite adverses in the growing conditions that were suffered this spring. It would, of course, be unreasonable to reckon at this stage that the flood conditions will bring to the wheat market any such rise in prices as have come to the market in cotton, for actually the rise in cotton represents far more than the flood itself.

While the destruction of cotton along the Mississippi Valley has accelerated the rise in cotton, the basic reason for this advance must be explained in another manner. It rests primarily on the world-wide increase in consumption of the commodity. Not only has the demand for raw cotton increased by leaps and bounds in this country recently, but the demand from other countries have multiplied so rapidly that the statisticians now say without qualification that the outlook is definiely for a record world consumption this year. The purchasing power of the farmer still is low relative to that of other producers, and for this reason the 1927 crop reports and the trend in agricultural prices will be watched with more than usual interest.

RAIL INCOME GAINS

Central America International Earnings Improve

International Railways of Central America for the first quarter of 1927, according to advices received by J. Henry Schroder Banking Corporation, reports gross railway operating revenue, including miscellaneous income, of $1,985,696 against $1,916,838 in the same period last year, an increase of $68,858. Railway operating expenses, including taxes, totaled $1,155,967 against $1,119,750 last year, an increase of $36,217.

Net railway operating income, after all expenses and taxes for the quarter, totaled $829,729 against $797,088 in the same period last year, an increase of $32,851.

RAILWAY MUTUAL RESOURCES GIVEN

Resources of the Railway Mutual Building and Loan Association at the close of business April 30, last, amounted to $232,152.44, according to a report issued by H. E. Moore, secretary. First mortgage loans totaled $159,000, cash aggregated $37,210 and collateral loans, $3395. The company is one of the youngest in Los Angeles, having started in business November 1, last.

PRICES MOVE IRREGULARLY

Operators for Decline Meet With Resistance

Volume of Trading Falls to 1,600,000 Shares

NEW YORK, May 10. (AP)—Operators for the decline who seized upon several unfavorable developments to bring about a lowering of prices in today's stock market, met with strong resistance. Price movements on the whole were irregular. Volume of business slackened considerably as offerings increased, total sales falling to around 1,600,000 shares.

A stiffening of call money to 4½ per cent from the renewal rate of 4 per cent followed calling by banks of about $20,000,000 in loans. This stiffening of credit, however, was regarded in most quarters as only temporary and due to the desire of the clearinghouse banks to correct the deficit of $25,475,000 reported last Saturday. Further receipts of French gold, bringing the total amount recently imported to $18,000,000 also gave confidence that no real drain on the credit reservoir was in prospect.

Steel shares held up well in the face of a decrease of 97,000 tons in the unfilled tonnage report of the United States Steel Corporation, resulting in the lowest level since August, 1924, as this falling off was largely anticipated. Oil shares, however, drifted lower on further increases in crude production and sharp cuts in gasoline prices in the Middle West.

Buying of railroad shares continued and resulted in several new highs for the year, or longer, including Hudson and Manhattan common and preferred, Reading, Union Pacific preferred and Frisco preferred.

Although General Motors sold up to 197½, realizing developed, wiping out most of the gain. Hudson Motors also sagged. Several miscellaneous shares displayed outstanding strength on excellent earnings prospects, better dividend expectations and similar developments.

Despite the increase in the call-money rate, time money was easier.

Fox West Coast Properties

First Mortgage 6% Gold Bonds

Dated March 1, 1927 Due March 1, 1942

Exempt from the California Personal Property Tax

Secured by a First (closed) Mortgage on valuable real estate at Western Avenue and Sunset Boulevard, totaling 13 acres, together with 100 acres in Westwood and on a modern theater and office building in the heart of Oakland, known as the Orpheum Building. These bonds represent less than a 54% loan on the properties; the value of the land alone is 20% in excess of this issue.

The Fox Film Corporation, whose stock at present prices has an indicated market value of $28,000,000, has leased these properties beyond the maturity of these bonds at a net rental in excess of interest and sinking fund requirements. Such rental payments constitute an operating charge of the Fox Film Corporation who has neither funded debt nor preferred stock outstanding.

We recommend these bonds to the conservative investor requiring a bond exempt from the California Personal Property Tax.

Rally of Steel Common and Activity of General Motors Features

NEW YORK, May 10. — Steel common staged a brisk rally, once the unfilled tonnage statement, showing a loss of about 96,000 tons for April, was out of the way at noon. It was apparent that a large short interest had awaited these figures in the hope that sufficient selling would be influenced to provide an opportunity for covering. But the statement, while indicating a much larger drop than had been expected, failed to bring out any selling. On the contrary, the stock acted better with the "bad news" out and a hasty covering movement carried it up more than 3 points from the opening level.

Reviving General Motors

With General Motors directors meeting Thursday for dividend action, and an extra of at least $2 looked for at that time, demand for the stock was renewed. It is expected that the balance sheet showing financial condition at the end of March, expected simultaneously, will reveal an increase of between $35,000,000 and $40,000,000 in surplus. Resumption of operations for the advance carried the stock close to its previous record top and revived hopes that the 200 objective would be achieved before Thursday's closing.

Baltimore and Ohio and Reading

A further spectacular rise in Reading to new record high levels served to revive old rumors that Baltimore and Ohio was strengthening its position in that property, with a view to merger discussions later on. Both Baltimore and Ohio and New York Central are anxious to acquire the Reading and to that end have acquired a substantial interest in the company. At the close of 1926 it was figured approximately half of Reading common outstanding was held in about equal proportions by the two big trunk lines in its control of Jersey Central, with the latter's terminal and water-front facilities on New York Harbor.

Call Money Stiffens

The market ignored the raising of the call money rate to 4 1-2 per cent in the early afternoon, following the calling of a moderate volume of loans by the banks. This was not surprising, however, in view of the fact that constructive forces had given little or no heed to other disappointing developments earlier in the day. The withdrawals, which preceded the boost, was looked upon as occasioned by the desire of banks to collect the deficit in reserve shown in the clearinghouse statement last Saturday.

Mack Trucks' First Quarter

The tendency toward profit-taking in Mack Trucks over the last few days, was explained by the appearance of the company's figures covering first-quarter operations. Net equivalent to $1.65 a share on the common was shown for the period, somewhat disappointing to those who had been revising estimates upward of late. In the same quarter last year net equal to $3.22 a share was shown. But the manner in which speculative pressure was resisted suggested that the news had been discounted in the reaction from the high levels of last week.

Still in the Ring

One of the day's interesting movements was a rise of 3 points in Wheeling and Lake Erie preferred, to new high levels. Only a few hundred shares were involved, holding the suggestion that there still remain uncovered a handful of short contracts put out in the course of the spectacular rise in the stocks of that road several months ago.

THE INVESTOR

Exchange Rate Important Factor in Rise or Fall of Foreign Bonds

BY RALPH HENDERSHOT

NEW YORK, May 10.—Investors these days are obliged to keep in touch with current financial developments to a much more accurate degree than ever before if they are to properly safeguard their investments. This includes happenings abroad as well as at home.

No better illustration of this fact could be given than to cite the effect of changes in foreign exchange rates on the value securities held in this country. For instance, aroused the first of this year, when the Italian lira was quoted at much lower levels than at present, the Fiat Company's debenture 7 per cent dollar bonds, with warrants, were quoted at around 92½. Today they are selling in the neighborhood of 104. The rise in price was due primarily to the increase in the value of the lira.

The warrants on these securities entitle the holder of each $1000 bond to purchase forty shares of 200 lire par value common stock of the company at $25 each. It can readily be seen what a decided effect a fluctuating exchange rate is bound to have on the worth of these warrants, particularly when they have reached the point where they have actual money value. Furthermore, if the rise in the exchange rate be based on improved condition within the country, it would necessarily follow that the price of the stock would advance, thus having a double effect on the price of the warrants.

Among some of the other Italian bonds with warrants, which are equally affected by the fluctuations in the lira, are the United Electric Service Company 7s of 1956, the Lombard Electric Company 7s, Series A; the Montecatini Mining and Chemical Company 7s of 1937 and the Italian Gas Company 7s, Series D. Warrants on the last named issue, however, must be purchased with lire and because of this are not apt to fluctuate so widely in price.

J. A. Sisto & Co., have prepared a booklet giving detailed statistical information on a number of the Italian bonds carrying warrants. The foreword of the booklet says in part:

"Bonds with stock purchase warrants attached have been growing in popular favor with investors during the past few years. Large profits have accrued to the original purchasers of many of these bonds as the stocks of the companies have risen in price.

"Aside from the special features of specific bonds with attached stock purchase warrants, we believe that Italy presents today one of the most attractive foreign fields for the safe investment of capital at comparatively high yields.

LIVE-STOCK OUTLOOK GOOD

Live-stock and range conditions in the range country were generally good at the beginning of the current month, with a delayed starting of feed in the Northern States following cool, stormy weather in April, according to the monthly live-stock and range report of the United States Division of Crop and Live-stock Estimates.

Spring feed has been slow in starting in the intermountain States, and the States east of the Continental Divide and north of New Mexico. April storms gave needed moisture and later range prospects are good. Feed prospects in the Southwest and California are good, except for a few dry spots in New Mexico and Texas.

Storms during April resulted in the shrinkage of cattle in Montana, Wyoming, Western South Dakota, Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Utah, but losses were light, the report states, having been confined mostly to early calves. In the other Western States conditions were generally favorable. The calf-crop prospects are generally good, and the cattle situation has shown a marked improvement this spring, with fed cattle selling at much better prices than a year ago.

The demand for stock cattle has been strengthened with higher prices for breeding stock and stocker steers. The condition of cattle is placed at 88 per cent of normal, compared with 90 per cent last month, 94 per cent a year ago and 86 per cent two years ago.

Sheep showed but very little shrinkage in the northern States during the April storms, and losses were light. Ewes are in very good condition, and the late lamb crop promises to be good. Texas has an excellent lamb crop, with favorable lamb prospects in the other States east of the divide. Sheep in California have gained in flesh and are in very good condition. The condition of sheep and lambs is 93 per cent of normal, compared with 94 per cent last month, 99 per cent a year ago and 93 per cent two years ago.

NEW YORK, May 10. (AP)—Directors of Western Electric Company have recommended an increase in authorized shares from 1,000,000 to 4,000,000 to arrange a split-up of five for one, which President Bloom said was merely a "book-keeping transaction" and involved no distribution in the future. SAFETY ZONES FOR DOLLARS

Practical Ways of Investing in Home Ownership, Savings Accounts, Life Insurance and Dependable Investment Securities

LXII.—GETTING IN ON THE GROUND FLOOR

It is a common impression among inexperienced investors that great profits ar ealways realized by those individuals who participate in new enterprises from the very outset. Like most impressions, this one has some foundation of fact. It is not uncommon for those individuals who get in first to realize a substantial profit, but these pathfinders' profits are neither as large nor as frequent as is generally believed.

The whole truth is that, from an investment standpoint, new enterprises are always extremely hazardous. It is commonly estimated that about 80 per cent of all new promotions fail. Less than 10 per cent of these failures are caused by dishonesty. Inability to weather competition and depression, incapable management and unsound financing are the factors more often responsible for business failures. In the face of these reliable figures it is evident that original investors have about two chances in ten of realizing on their ground-floor investments.

But leave aside a consideration of the thousands of failures. Even a cursory study of those undertakings that are successful today will reveal that their early years, in almost every case, were times of uncertainties and uphill struggles. Many corporations that are now rated highly did not pay dividends for a number of years after their inception, and none of them paid dividends that could be called attractive. The United States Steel Corporation, for example, one of the $2,000,000,000 corporations in the world today, paid during the first fourteen years of its life an average dividend of only slightly more than 2.50 per cent—less than the surer interest rate of the savings account. Enormous ground-floor profits are often more fancies than facts.

Every enterprise carries a business risk. In new enterprises this risk is usually enormous, far greater than the average investor can afford to take. The average investor, therefore, who needs above all things safety and a steady income, should confine his commitments to the bonds and stocks of established companies of proved stability and worth.

A sinking fund sufficient to retire annually $1,200,000 of bonds will be provided, operating quarterly through Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., beginning October 1, 1927, which it is calculated will retire 58% of the bonds of the Series of 1927 before maturity. The Company will have the right to anticipate its sinking fund obligation or to surrender bonds in satisfaction thereof.

A letter from Mr. Henry L. Doherty, President of the Company, has been summarized by him as follows:

The Company: Empire Oil and Refining Company will acquire, directly or through subsidiaries, substantially all the oil properties formerly owned by Empire Gas and Fuel Company (Delaware) and its subsidiaries, except Indian Territory Illuminating Oil Company. The business is a complete unit in the oil industry, including the four essentials—production, transportation, refining and marketing.

The properties include over 3,200 oil wells, the gross production of which, during the first quarter of 1927, averaged 30,000 barrels of crude oil daily. Four refineries with a daily capacity of approximately 20,000 barrels of crude oil are located at Ponca City, Okmulgee and Cushing, Oklahoma, and Gainesville, Texas. Fifteen absorption and compression gasoline plants are operated, the daily production of which was approximately 70,000 gallons of high grade gasoline during the first quarter of 1927. Transportation of crude oil is provided through a subsidiary owning over 850 miles of oil pipelines, connecting various producing wells owned and also wells of others with the above-mentioned refineries. Approximately 2,300 tank cars are operated under lease from affiliated companies. Over 500 tank and gasoline service stations, located in 12 states, are owned and distribute petroleum products.

Security: These First Mortgage and Collateral Trust Gold Bonds will, in the opinion of counsel, be secured (subject only to purchase money and existing liens, if any, on hereafter acquired property) by a direct first mortgage on all the fixed properties of Empire Oil and Refining Company to be presently owned and hereafter acquired, and by a first lien upon all stocks of subsidiaries to be presently owned and hereafter acquired by Empire Oil and Refining Company. The Indenture will contain special provisions, designed to facilitate the conduct of the business, for the release and disposition of leasehold properties for such consideration, if any, as the Company may determine. The Indenture will contain provisions restricting the issuance of additional bonds.

Earnings: The consolidated net earnings of the properties and subsidiaries to be presently owned, after all deductions except interest, reserves for depreciation and depletion and Federal income taxes, for the two years ended November 30, 1926, as certified by independent auditors, average $12,049,520 annually. The Company reports such earnings for the twelve months ended March 31, 1927, as $13,125,175. The annual interest requirements on these bonds will be $1,650,000.

The consolidated balance sheet of the Company, as of November 30, 1926, adjusted to give effect to this financing and other changes agreed to be made, as certified by independent auditors, shows current assets of $18,318,695, as compared with current liabilities of $1,695,951. The Company reports the corresponding figures as of March 31, 1927, as current assets of $15,601,521 and current liabilities of $2,670,531 an amount approximately equal to the change in net current assets having been expended for construction.

Ownership: All the common stock of the Company, except directors' qualifying shares, will be owned by Empire Gas and Fuel Company, the largest subsidiary of Cities Service Company. The latter company has over 120,000 holders of its outstanding stocks and is one of the most important holding companies in this country for public utility and petroleum corporations. Its outstanding stocks have a total indicated market value, based on current quotations, in excess of $250,000,000.

Management: The Management of Empire Oil and Refining Company is supervised (under the direction and control of the Board of Directors of the Company) by Henry L. Doherty & Company.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, May 10. (AP)—Prices of curb market securities showed a distinctly reactionary tendency today, the volume of trading being smaller and dealings apparently being concentrated on issues that have been recently active.

Public utility issues, which have been traded in heavily for the last week, again absorbed speculative interest, chief activity centering in shares of American Superpower, A and B, Pennsylvania Ohio Edison, which made a new high for the year; Commonwealth Power, Lehigh Power Securities and Blackstone Valley Gas and Electric. Hartford Electric Light moved up about 10 points.

Oil shares gave no particular response to increased production of crude, or gasoline price cuts in the Middle West, price changes being mainly fractional.

Fairly substantial gains were scored by several specialties in which pool operations have been carried on recently, an exception being Celanese Company of America, which lost 8 points, and the first preferred 2. Ford of Canada closed 31 points higher on a small turnover. Safeway Stores added another 5 points to its recent advance, closing at 280. Royal Baking Powder moved up 4 points, New Jersey Zinc, 5, and Firestone Tire, 4. General Fireproofing closed 2 points lower on the day.

The closing prices in cents when given on the eighth and ninth low and close where given on the high.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—The fair supply on hand yesterday, approximating 700 head, about 100 of which were consumed in the fresh arrivals, met a dull and draggy trade. The majority of the heifer supply was plain half fat kinds, mostly steers, and only a partial clean-up was made. The market was practically at a standstill after an early spurt with sales of steers being uneven, mostly steady to 15 cents lower, with the closing undertone weak. She stock was uneven but mostly around steady.

A load of 1183-pound grass steers went over for 8.65, while two loads of 1249-pound grassers cleared for 8.40. Two loads of 976-pound Imperials-turned for 8.50, while a load of 900-pound weights made 8.35. A load of mixed yearlings, Arizonas, averaging 531 pounds cashed for 8.75 for "baby beef" feeding. Several loads of common steers went over from 7.00@7.75, with a few down to 6.00.

Two cars of good 912-pound California heifers and a load of 1041-pound mixed cows and heifers included in the fresh arrivals yesterday topped in the she stock division at 7.50. Other she stock sales, except a few odd head, were noted from 5.00@6.35, the latter price taking a load of 884-pound Arizonas. A few cutters went over from 4.00@4.50, with low cutters from 2.75@3.50. Bulls were scarce and steady, the bulk, medium kinds, turning from 5.50@6.00.

CALVES—The small supply was cleaned up at fully steady prices. A load of choice 198-pound California vealers topped at 12.50, with five heavies averaging 321 pounds at 10.50. A part load of 274-pound vealers went over for 11.00, while the calf supply, common kinds and heavies, cleared from 6.00@9.50.

HOGS—Active demand cleaned up the supply readily at generally strong to 15 cents higher prices. Eight loads of eastern butchers were offered on the market, one load averaging 160 pounds, topping at 12.00, while seven loads averaging 145 to 199 pounds cashed for 11.85@11.90. Two part loads of local fed trucked in butchers averaging 215 to 238 pounds turned from 10.25@10.50. The few packing sows offered went over from 9.00@9.50.

SHEEP—Yesterday's supply, all from the island, cleared at about steady prices. Lamb sales included 140 head of 80-pound springers at 13.00 with 80 head averaging 82 pounds at 10.60. A sizeable lot of 73-pound shorn yearling wethers made 9.50, with aged wethers averaging 89 pounds at 7.00. A part deck of medium 78-pound shorn ewes cleared for 8.25.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, May 10. (AP)—Demand for high-grade investment issues in further response to Secretary Mellon's action in calling in the Second Liberty Loan bonds for redemption gave the bond market a firm undertone today, although trading showed a moderate falling off in volume. With the marking up of the call money rate from 4 to 4 1-2 per cent liens of semispeculative character lost ground.

High-priced railroad mortgages continued to attract investment funds, new high prices for the year being touched by International Great Northern 6s, Louisville and Nashville first 4s, Northern Pacific 4s, Chicago and Western Indiana 4s and a few others. Delaware and Hudson convertible 5s developed weakness, falling off more than 2 points.

Industrial and public utility liens displayed sagging tendencies, Brooklyn Union Gas debenture 5 1-2s and Wickwire-Spencer Steel convertible 6s yielded a point or so.

United States government issues turned slightly reactionary after early fractional advances. The second and fourth Liberties and the Treasury 4s were the most active.

Irregularity characterized the foreign group. German General Electric 6 1-2s, with warrants, dropped 4 points on reallizing.

Prompt oversubscription was reported of the $15,000,000 Allis-Chalmers 5 per cent debentures, offered this morning.

Offering will be made tomorrow of $30,000,000 Empire Oil and Refining Company first mortgage and collateral trust 5 1-2 per cent bonds, priced to yield about 5.90 per cent. This is one of three issues totaling $73,000,000 recently announced by Henry L. Doherty & Co. in connection with the new plans of the Empire Gas and Fuel Company.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission, close is omitted when same as low, and both low and close when same as high.

Wheat Futures Sharply Off on Heavy Selling

CHICAGO, May 10. (AP)—Bullish sentiment was lost in evidence in wheat today, and with local pressure and scattered liquidation, prices declined 2¾@3½c from the finish on Monday, with May leading, the latter selling down to 1.41. A small rally came toward the last, with the finish at net losses of 2¼@2¾c, with May 1.41⅞@1.42, July 1.33¼@1.35¼ and September 1.32⅝@1.32¾.

While corn closed ⅛@⅜c lower, it showed relative strength compared with wheat. May finished at 79⅝, July 84@84¼ and September 87¼@87¼. Oats were off ⅛@⅜, with May 48¾, July 45¾ and September 45⅞. Rye lost 1¼@1½c, with May 1.09 and July 1.04¾@1.06⅞.

The weather map showed more or less rain in the spring-wheat territory, but the forecast indicated fair and warmer world follow, which had considerable influence on local sentiment, and led to increased pressure, with a number of local longs selling on the way down. There was also selling of wheat and buying of corn, credited to leading professionals. Winnipeg was easy and 1¼@2¼c lower, as compared with Saturday, May acting somewhat tight.

Foreign demand for cash wheat was much less active, with export sales of only 400,000 bushels in all positions, including 200,000 bushels of durum, and it was claimed that red winter offered from Toledo at a low price was not sold.

There was a fair trade in corn, with some buying of July against sales of July wheat, and also sales of corn against purchases of rye. Commission houses were up both sides, but the continued wet weather over the belt is attracting more attention, as a great deal of plowing and planting remains to be done, only one-third of the Iowa acreage being ready, while for the last two years at this season it has been practically completed. Spot basis was steady to 1c higher, with shipping sales of 50,000 bushels.

Longs were on the selling side of oats and support was less aggressive than of late. Crippled private wire service has been a factor in curtailing outside interest in all grains. The Northwest was a moderate buyer of May and locals bought September and sold July at 3c differences.

Weakness in rye in the Northwest led to scattered liquidation in that grain here and a decline was easily attained. The seaboard reported a slow export demand.

Lower prices for lard and meats, with a limited selling pressure, made an unsatisfactory market, the demand being limited. Lard futures finished 5@7½c lower, short ribs unchanged and bellies 14@15c lower.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, May 10. (Exclusive)—In the absence of further sensational flood news another profit-taking movement occurred in Liverpool and here today. It caused a setback of 3 to 4 English points in futures in Liverpool and 8 to 10 further reaction in this market for the general contract list. May contracts here went down to 15.98 cents, July 15.37; October of the next crop, 15.85 and December 15.03, a maximum decline of about 40 points from the highest prices reached May 7. This is regarded in the trade as merely a natural reaction after three weeks' extensive rise from the time the Mississippi flood first became a factor on the market.

The market was in a technical speculative position for such a setback yesterday and today without any change of importance in the flood situation and its effects on the new-crop outlook. There is still a menace of further breaks in the levees in Louisiana before the crest of the flood reaches the vicinity of New Orleans. Traders, therefore, while favoring today's reaction, were cautious about putting out short sales of any importance with the weather continuing unsettled all through that section.

MALNUTRITION FIGHT GROWING

Survey Shows One-fourth of Children Abnormal

Parents Organizing to Study Problems of Youth

School Lunch Idea Gains Support Everywhere

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

WASHINGTON, May 10. (Exclusive) A recent study of the United States Children's Bureau discloses the startling fact that from one-fourth to one-third of the children in this country are definitely malnourished and that the number of children of really superior nutrition is small. In some communities in fact malnutrition is so common as to be scarcely recognized as an abnormal condition.

The question has been asked as to just what permanent effect malnutrition has upon a child, and if it affects him after he grows up. It is a fact that many such children manage to live, to get through their school courses, and to take their places in the world as men and women. However, those who have made a study of this evil say that it does make a great difference. One authority has made the statement that the malnourished child tends to become disabled and unemployable, incapable of resisting disease or withstanding its onset and process.

DEVELOPMENT CHECKED

The detrimental effects of malnutrition are shown in both the physical and the mental development of the child. A child suffering from malnutrition may be stunted in growth, may be anemic and nervous, and may display a lack of energy. Evidence that long-continued malnutrition with its accompanying diminished energy and lowered resistence to infection may leave a permanent imprint on a growing child was shown at the time of the Boer War. England was shocked to find that three out of every five applying for army service were physically unfit for it. A commission appointed to inquire into the reason for this returned the verdict that malnutrition during childhood was one of the leading causes.

A similar condition was found in this country during the World War. A large number of applicants were rejected for physical unfitness, and the general consensus of medical opinion was that the chief factors responsible for this condition were malnutrition and remedial defects of infancy and early childhood.

A child who is malnourished is not only more susceptible to disease, but in the event of contracting such diseases as measles, whooping cough, or scarlet fever is not as well able to throw them off. A large proportion of mortality among children is said to be due to faulty nutrition. Experimentation on animals, as well as human beings, has shown that if malnutrition has not been too severe nor too long continued its effects may be almost entirely overcome when the nutritional state is restored to normal. It is, therefore, pointed out that the sooner malnutrition is recognized and corrected the greater are the chances for the child's recovery.

SIGNS OF MALNUTRITION

The Children's Bureau in its report on malnutrition has given symptoms by which a child may be judged to be poorly nourished, some of which are as follows. Such a child is usually thin although he may be fat and flabby. His skin may have a pale, delicate, waxlike look or it may be sallow, muddy, or even pasty or earthy. He usually has blue circles or dark hollows under his eyes and the mucous membrane inside his eyelids is pale and colorless. His hair may be rough and his tongue coated. His skin seems loose, his flesh flabby, and his muscles undeveloped. He is likely to be listless, sports tire easily, and often is regarded as lazy. Mentally he appears to lack power of concentration and often has not the natural inquisitiveness of the normal child. He may be nervous, may sleep lightly, and may be finicky about his food.

There are degrees of malnutrition ranging from the severe cases, where practically every symptom is present, to the case in which there seems to be no definite symptoms but still the child appears to be in not quite normal physical condition. A malnourished child may be undernourished, as shown in underweight and stunted growth, or he may be abnormally nourished, as evidenced by overweight and other symptoms.

PROPER DIET NEEDED

One of the most common causes of malnutrition is conceded to be a diet which is insufficient or unsuitable. Food is the first requirement of the growing child and it is important that parents know just what is a proper diet. In addition to his diet it is important that he get a sufficient amount of sleep in a well-ventilated room, and the he have plenty of exercise. Care must be taken, however, to see that the child does not become overtired so that he suffers from chronic fatigue. In other words, all of his daily routine must be well balanced.

Malnutrition is frequently the result of poverty or ignorance. In England, school lunches, or extra meals provided by the school authorities, were instituted almost immediately after the discovery that malnutrition was so prevalent in that country. This meal was sometimes a breakfast, sometimes a mid-morning lunch and sometimes only a cup of milk. These school lunches are primarily to supplement the food supply of the children of the poorer

LEWIS RESIGNS OIL PRESIDENCY

California-Eastern Head Gives Up Post

Resigns to Unravel Troubles of Julian Petroleum

L. J. King Chosen Successor by Board of Directors

L. J. King, executive vice-president of the Asociated Oil Company, yesterday was elected president of the California-Eastern Oil Company to succeed S. C. Lewis, who announced he was resigning to unravel the financial difficulties of the Julian Petroleum Corporation, whose stock was barred last week from the boards of the Los Angeles and San Francisco Stock Exchanges because of an asserted overissue.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the California-Eastern Oil Company all former officers and directors of the Julian Petroleum Company associated with Mr. Lewis as president also handed in their resignations. They are T. P. Conroy, W. J. O'Connor and B. K. Johnson.

TWO PLACES FILLED

O. Rey Rule, vice-president of the Pacific Finance Company, was elected to succeed Lewis as a member of the executive committee, and B. W. Kemper, an attorney in the legal department of the California-Eastern, was elected secretary. The offices of vice-president and treasurer, created by the resignation of Conroy and O'Connor, as well as two vacancies in the directorate, have not been filled.

While the wholesale resignations of the former officers and directors of the Julian Petroleum Corporation were being accepted by the board of directors of the California-Eastern Oil Company, headed by former United States Senator Frank P. Flint as chairman, Federal Judge McCormick was considering a bill in equity asking Federal receivership of the Julian concern's affairs.

Judge McCormick also was scheduled to hear arguments at 2 p.m. tomorrow on an order to show cause why a temporary injunction against the sale and transfer of Julian stock, issued Monday, should not be made permanent. He declined to comment on the receivership matter but indicated if a receiver were chosen under the application he would be appointed the latter part of this week.

In his communication directed to the board of directors of the California-Eastern Oil Company, Lewis said:

LEWIS'S EXPLANATION

"In order to permit me to devote my exclusive time and attention toward the unraveling of the situation which exists with reference to the Julian Petroleum Corporation and to aid in the constructive reorganization of that company and in any and all investigations connected therewith, I hereby tender my resignation as a director, president and a member of the executive committee of your corporation, with the request that the same be accepted immediately.

"Please understand that in taking this action I am acting advisedly and, I believe, for the best interests of the stockholders of the Julian Petroleum Corporation. In spite of the severance of my official relations with your corporation please understand that I shall be ready, willing and eager at all times to co-operate with your board of directors and officials."

The following statement was made yesterday by Chairman Flint of the California-Eastern company regarding the relations of that company with the affairs of the Julian Petroleum Corporation:

"The California Eastern Oil Company was organized to take over the properties of the Julian Petroleum Corporation and certain other properties of value. It financed itself through the sale of certain stock.

PAYMENT IN STOCK

"Under the terms of a contract entered into for the purchase of Julian properties, California-Eastern Oil Company issued a block of its stock to be held for division to the stockholders of the Julian Petroleum Corporation as their interests might appear and in exchange took over the properties of the Julian Petroleum Corporation.

"This means that all wells, pipe lines, properties, contracts, etc., of the old Julian company are now the properties of the California-Eastern organization, while the Julian company holds a block of stock of the latter corporation in trust for exchange to its stockholders for their Julian certificates.

"Under the division of this stock the Julian organization, as such, passes out of the picture, giving place to the California-Eastern Oil Company.

"The transfer of California-Eastern stock to Julian stockholders, however, cannot now take place until the Julian stock books are audited and until the courts and the Corporation Commissioner are satisfied with the status of the transaction."

Corporation Commissioner Friedlander announced that inquiries at his department indicated that many orders for the purchase of Julian Petroleum Corporation stock on which partial payments have been made still are outstanding and that purchasers are in doubt whether they should continue their payments. Brokers also were doubtful concerning their right to receive the payments and deliver the stock when it was fully paid for.

The commissioner stated that his department could offer no advice to purchasers or others on those points in view of the order of the Federal court restraining the transfer of the stock of the company and the department's orders to brokers not to trade in the stock. The question, Mr. Friedlander said, involves the interpretation of contracts between the broker and his clients and should be determined by counsel, for the interested parties.

Scores of brokers yesterday received communications notifying them of Corporation Commissioner Friedlander's revocation of the stock-selling permits, adding that in Mr. Friedlander's "view of the circumstances, it is my opinion that the sale and dealing in stocks of the Julian Petroleum ...

COMMERCE BUREAU FOR SOUTHLAND

Federal Department Will Install Branch Here in Foreign Trade Behalf

Establishment here of a branch of the United States Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce has been definitely decided upon, according to a wire received from Washington yesterday by G. C. Gearhart, president of the Foreign Trade Club of Southern California.

The telegram announced that James A. H. Smiley, former United States commercial attache at Shanghai and more recently assistant chief of the foreign-service department of the Federal Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Trade, had been appointed to head the local branch. This is to be established here by June 15, with quarters at the Chamber of Commerce Building.

Mr. Smiley will have two assistants. One of them will be Leonard Brin, for three years assistant United States Trade Commissioner at Mexico City. The other has not yet been named.

Decision of the government to establish a branch of the Commerce Bureau here came as a result of two years of agitation led by the Foreign Trade Club. The bureau is expected to prove of inestimable benefit to manufacturers and exporters of Southern California in the development of foreign commerce.

DECREE IN OIL CASE ENTERED

Government Awarded Sum of $13,009,507.80 from Pan America Interests

Final decree in the suit brought by the government to collect principal and interest money from the Pan American Petroleum Company and the Pan American Petroleum and Transport Company on the oil and gas produced at the naval oil reserves on Elk Hills was entered yesterday when Federal Judge McCormick awarded the sum of $13,009,507.80 to the government.

In giving the decree Judge McCormick ordered the transport company to pay the principal sum of $9,889,299.51 and interest of $1,201,143.33, making the total award from the company $11,090,442.84.

The petroleum company was ordered to pay the principal sum of $1,556,861.17 with interest of $362,203.79, or a total of $1,919,064.96.

The interest to be paid by the defendant companies is only on part of the principal sum, namely, on the amount that was found to be due as of March 17, 1924, when the receivership of the Elk Hills property was ordered by Judge McCormick. The government had contended that the interest should be charged up to the time of the entering of the final decree.

Class Ranging from 86 Years to More Than 100 Take Part in Pasadena High School Affair, Sing Songs of Other Days and Stand Up in Spelling Bee

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, May 10.—Almost forty guests, the youngest of whom was 85 years of age, attended a "sunset" luncheon at Pasadena High School today and sat on the stage of the high school auditorium while students, garbed in the dress of seventy-five years ago, gave a program of old-time songs.

Galusha M. Cole, 100 years of age, the only living charter member of the Pasadena Knight Templar Commandery, was the oldest guest present. The oldest woman was Mrs. H. Dale Adams, 97, of 119 Armada Drive, Pasadena. There were six others more than 90 years of age.

All the aged visitors seemed to enjoy the experience of going to school again, and took part with zest in a "spell-down" conducted by Principal William P. Ewing. He had them all stand, then asked those less than 86 to sit down, next those less than 87, and so on until Galusha M. Cole alone remained standing. The oldest man and woman were presented with bouquets by Eleanor Stoller, 12, and George Mayhew, 13, youngest girl and boy in school.

Brief speeches were made by Margaret Jewell, president of the Girls' League; Principal Ewing, W. H. Housh, former principal of Los Angeles High School; Melville Dozier, former principal of Los Angeles Normal School, and Dr. Ephraim Miller, who was professor of mathematics for thirty-six years at the University of Kansas.

The aged guests were: J. I. Hollister, Albert B. Caniff, Dr. and Mrs. Ephraim Miller, Mrs. Fuller, Galusha M. Cole, Joseph S. Stevens, Rev. Daniel Avers, Mrs. Jerusha Mann, Mrs. Spengler, Mrs. Eliza J. Adams, Capt. M. W. Halsey, Mrs. A. E. Kinney, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cooley, J. Hetherington, Capt. J. A. Osgood, Mrs. A. Hamilton, Mrs. Emily P. Webb, Mrs. J. Cook, Mrs. F. H. Strickland, Mrs. Samuel Baker, Mrs. A. A. Walbridge, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Coleman, J. F. Witmer, Mrs. Pece, Mrs. Lydia Garrett, Dr. O. P. Gifford, Mrs. Elizabeth Walker, Mrs. Sarah Hollingshead, Miss Josephine Ludis, Miss M. J. McNair and Mrs. B. Keith.

NECESSITY OF BUS LINE EXPLAINED

Applicants Tell Official Washington Boulevard Requires New Service

Recent development of business along Washington Boulevard necessitates bus service between Venice and Los Angeles, Examiner Handford of the State Railroad Commission was told here yesterday at a hearing on the applications of three transit companies seeking exclusive permission to establish their lines along that route.

Not only will the present demands of Washington Boulevard business houses be served by a bus line, but such service will create more business in the district and provide a transportation company with more revenue if a permit is issued, according to O. A. Smith, general passenger agent of the Pacific Electric Railway Company.

Other corporations which asked for the exclusive privilege of operating a bus line between the beach and Los Angeles along Washington Boulevard were the Pickwick Stage Lines and the Community Bus Lines. Each offered testimony similar to that of Mr. Smith.

The applications have been pending for several years. According to recent amendments, the Los Angeles terminal of the present bus line will be located at the intersection of Washington Boulevard and Rimpau avenue.

Final action will be taken by the Railroad Commission on the applications after Examiner Handford submits his report.

Presbyterians of West Pledge Fourth of Fund

More than one-fourth of the $2,000,000 raised to date in fourteen Western States toward the $15,000,000 Presbyterian pension fund has been pledged on the Pacific Coast, it was announced yesterday by A. D. McKee, campaign director.

The three coastal States so far have pledged: California, $448,000; Oregon, $45,200, and Washington, $51,000, or a total of $544,500 toward the Pacific Coast quota of $1,186,339. The balance outstanding for the ten days yet remaining in the drive are: California, $377,000; Oregon, $145,800, and Washington, $119,339, or a total of $642,139.

California easily leads Illinois, the next highest reporting State, followed by Missouri and Minnesota.

LEAGUE TRAILS IN LONG BEACH

People's Candidates Ahead in Seven Districts

Four Incumbent Judges Lead in Count

More Than Half of Total Registration at Polls

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, May 10.—Early returns in the municipal election show the Good Government League trailing in its fight to retain a majority of the members of the City Council. Three members of the present Council lead on the face of present returns, but two of these are minority members who are backed by the People's ticket, which is opposing the Good Government League.

These incumbents are Councilmen Callahan and Evans, backed by the People's ticket, and Councilman Lewis, candidate of the Good Government League. Councilmen Beck, Thomas and Arnold, all Good Government candidates, are trailing. People's candidates for Council lead in seven districts, and a Good Government candidate in one. A number of candidates ran independently.

Incumbent judges lead in four contests for the Municipal Court. Miss Myrtelle L. Gunsul has an overwhelming lead in her race for her fourth term as City Auditor. The contest between Fred F. White, now chief deputy City Attorney, and Noland M. Reid for the office of City Attorney is close, with White leading.

PRECINCT COUNT

Fifth District, Oscar Hauge, People's, 4320; Glenn E. Thomas, incumbent, Good Government, 3932.

City Auditor, Miss Myrtelle L. Gunsul, 8736; Earl C. Bracken, 1812.

INCUMBENTS LEAD

Judges of the Municipal Court—Department One, Percy Hight, incumbent, 6501; George E. Glover, now a deputy District Attorney, 2201; Department Two, Stephen G. Long, incumbent, 4944; Fred E. Helwig, former police judge, 3837; Department Three, Charles P. Cooke, incumbent, 5693; Burr A. Brown, former City Attorney, 3370; Department Four (based on seventy-five precincts,) Charles D. Wallace, incumbent, 11,113; Bruce Mason, present City Attorney, 4771; Department Five, Paul D. Dougherty, incumbent, 3914; Wilbur F. Downs, 4127.

The election was the most hotly contested municipal election ever held here. Ballots were cast by an estimated total of 29,000 out of 53,000 registered.

No less than forty-six candidates were in the race for fifteen municipal offices. Twenty-eight candidates sought the eight places around the City Council table, while for the five Municipal Court benches no less than thirteen candidates sought judicial honors.

MANAGERSHIP AT STAKE

Interest in the election centered around the fight for eight Councilmen and the choice of a City Manager, who is appointed by the Council. The City Managership became, during the past two weeks, one of the hottest issues of the campaign, the Good Government League waging a strong battle to retain a majority of the present Council members and to assure the re-election of Charles H. Henderson through them as City Manager. A so-called people's ticket with eight Councilmanic candidates and termed "the straight eight," centered its attack on the present Council and City ...

BUZZELL AGAIN UNDER FIRE

Civil Service Board Joins Council in Reports; Workers Told Anti-Unionism No Bar

Unionist activities among civil service employees of the city by Civil Service Commissioner Buzzell drew fire yesterday from two city official bodies, the Civil Service Commission itself and the City Council. The commission found it necessary, it announced, to issue a public statement reassuring city employees that only efficiency and loyalty are necessary for holding jobs. The Council by two votes pigeonholed a report condemning Buzzell's activities. Two of the Councilmen who voted for pigeonholing the report face difficult run-offs in the coming election.

Before the commission, Buzzell admitted unionist activities, but before the Council he maintained what was described as a defiant attitude repeatedly refusing to answer questions directed at him. He explained to his fellow commissioners that his activities on behalf of the union were in his private-citizen capacity as secretary of the Central Labor Council. Fellow commissioners advised him that when he campaigned among civil service employees under him for unionist purposes he carried a force because of his being over the employees as civil service commissioner that was at times described as at least appearing like coercion.

IN FORM OF RESOLUTION

The commission's action came in form of a resolution which recognized that misapprehension exists among the employees "that membership in a certain organization is necessary and that certain political activity is necessary to enable them to retain their positions." Consequently the commission resolved an assurance that only efficiency and loyalty are necessary.

The assurance, however, does not bear Buzzell's support. He declined to vote on it. Commissioner Stoneman made a reservation in his support of the resolution that he is not so certain about how extensive the "misapprehension" is.

Commissioners Mary Workman and Schreider and Service Records Director Mattie Scherer related at the meeting that a number of employees attributed their failure in city positions to their refusal to yield to solicitations to join the union, especially water and power department employees. Commissioner Stoneman pointed out that C. A. Dykstra of the water and power department had denied this. Buzzell also denied it.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

IT WASN'T exactly a public lecture; it was a meeting of fathers and mothers—about to start a new school.

So it would hardly be fair to quote him by name.

But he was discouraged about the present generation.

Not that they pet and drink cocktails and wear highwater skirts.

A CYNICAL GESTURE

And, indeed, there is much to be discouraged about.

Not so much in the personality of Mr. Thompson, but in his campaign slogan: "Keep the snoot of the King of England out of Chicago."

It was the thoroughly cynical gesture of a mob teaser. One who realized that they could be caught with cheap circus blather. It bespoke a contempt too deep for any other utterance.

NOSES

By the "snoot" of the English King, the illustrious Thompson probably meant his nose.

As though anyone with a healthy nose could possibly endure to keep it anywhere in the vicinity of Chicago politics!

LIKE ROME

I was in New York at the time of the last municipal election. That was even more dangerous.

One of the candidates was advertising himself on the bill boards as an advocate of free milk for poor babies. This comes mighty close to the free corn distribution in Rome when the empire was beginning to break up.

When you get to the point that voters are interested in what they are personally going to "get out of it" rather than what is to be for the good of the community and the commonwealth, brethren you are beginning to slip.

BEING ALONE

Another thing that this lecturer said was that the children of today cannot endure to be alone.

Upon which topic much more might be said. People can't stand being alone, yet the popularity of the desert shows that they have an inhibited longing to be alone.

One of the tragedies of modern life is that it is almost impossible to be alone.

EARTH CONTACTS

Men of sensitive nature who have gone to sea tell me that this is one of the tortures of sea life; that you can't get away from other people.

There is more in this than the simple matter of being bored. The Indians maintain with much truth that white people can never achieve complete spiritual civilization because they huddle together in cities where they lose contact with the earth currents.

I think this is true. Through the radio we get just a hint that there are certain mysterious forces from this earth which are meat and drink to our souls; and we have cut away from them.

MUSTY BELFRY

Another thing; this eternal gabble of chatter and talk is enervating to the mind.

To pay strict attention to it is to chew straw. Not to pay attention to everything said to you; to every sight and sound that comes within your ken, is to lose the power of concentration.

It is all very well to talk of "shutting your mind" to what you do not want to hear. But in the end you either lose the power to hear completely; or you get musty in the belfry.

Kelly Murder Trial Jury Ordered Under Guard at All Times and "Locked Up" Nightly

VISIT MADE TO SCENE OF CRIME

Jetor, Pales at Bungalow Where Fight Occurred

Autopsy Surgeon Wagner on Stand at Adjournment

Mother of Raymond, Victim, Gives First Testimony

Nine women and three men, who compose the jury which s to determine the fate of Paul Kelly, young Hollywood film layer, on a charge of murdering Ray Raymond, musical omedy actor, and two alternate jurors will be "locked up" n a downtown hotel whenver court is not in session. his deviation from past practice in local murder trials was ompted by fears of possible ttempts to intimidate the rors because of the notoriety iven to the case

Superior Judge Burnell, in whose urt the case is in progress, instructed his bailiff to sequester the jury when court adjourned last evening. The jurors had just returned to the courtroom from an inspection of the Raymond home, 2261 Cheremoya avenue, where, the State contends, Kelly unmercifully beat Raymond in a fight over his wife, Dorothy Mackaye, inflicting injuries which caused his death two days later.

The order to keep the jurors under guard together at all times and "locked up" at night, and whenever they are not in court, was made following a conference between Judge Burnell, Defense Attorney W. I. Gilbert and Dep. Dist.-Atty. Murray and Kemp, who are prosecuting.

KELLY UNEASY

The trip to the Raymond home was ade at the request of the prosecuon to familiarize the jurors with e scene of the asserted crime so at the jurors could more easily unerstand the testimony of witnesses. he furniture at the house was arnged the same as it was on the ening of the encounter between elly and Raymond. No testimony as taken, however, while the jurors ere in the death bungalow.

For the first time since the pening of the case, Kelly appeared uneasy as he was escorted into the house by Deputy Sheriff Peters. He followed the jurors into the various rooms where the objects were pointed out by Police Detective Condaffer, who acted as guide, and appeared extremely nervous. He paled as he left the bungalow, where the tragedy occurred and seemed glad to get out and away from the house.

While no attempts have been made y moiest jurors and crank and nonymous letters have been few and ar between to date, Judge Burnell did he thought it best to take every recaution to safeguard the jurors gainst possible intimidation and ked the attorneys had agreed with im.

The jurors were instructed on being sent to the hotel not to discuss he case among themselves nor to ead newspaper accounts of the progress of the trial.

SLOW PROGRESS

On account of the visit to the Raymond home slow progress was made n the trial yesterday, only two witnesses being heard. County Autopsy Surgeon Wagner was on the stand when recess was taken at noon, and will be first witness when the rial is resumed at 10 a.m. today. Mrs. A. R. Cedarbloom of Forest Hills, N. Y., mother of Raymond, was he first witness called to raise the urtain on what is expected to be one of Los Angeles' most sensational court dramas.

Attorney Gilbert announced last evening that he believes it will take two hours to complete his cross-examination of Dr. Wagner, as the question of the cause of Raymond's death is one of the most important phases of the defense's case. In this event it is probable Miss Ethel Lee, negro housekeeper for the Raymonds, and the only eyewitness, probably will not be called until afternoon.

Miss Lee in all probability will be followed on the stand by Miss Mackaye. The prosecutors denied they will call little Valerie Raymond, 4½ years of age, daughter of Raymond and Miss Mackaye as a witness.

MISS MACKAYE ABSENT

Miss Mackaye and her chum, Helen Wilkinson, were not present when the jury was taken to the Raymond home. Miss Lee accompanied the jurors, however, but was not called upon to give any testimony.

The only emotional display on the part of Kelly was when he came upon Miss Lee as she was sitting in a front room holding Miss Mackaye's Pekingese dog in her arms. Kelly stopped to chat with Miss Lee and started petting the dog. His attorney chanced to see him and gave him a nudge. Kelly moved on.

Those who made the trip to the house included Judge Burnell and attaches of his court, Mr. Murray and Mr. Kemp, the bailiff and several officers and deputy sheriffs, Mr. Gilbert and others. Neighbors in the vicinity of the house looked on from the hillsides surrounding the bungalow.

A jury to try Kelly was sworn at 10:45 a.m. yesterday, forty-five minutes after the session started. It required but several minutes to pick the two alternate jurors. Kelly came to court yesterday wearing the same natty blue suit. Miss Mackaye was dressed in a black dress, but wore a fur instead of a coat.

Yesterday Miss Mackaye and Kelly failed to recognize each other as she took her seat in a far corner of the room ten feet or so behind Kelly's seat at the counsel table. Her two attorneys, Jerry Giesler and Roger Marchetti, were on hand prepared to protect her interests in event she was called to the stand.

The announcement that Miss Mackaye probably would take the stand yesterday brought out a record crowd in the morning, but the delay caused by the journey to the Raymond home prevented her from being a witness at yesterday's session.

Kelly was taken to the Raymond bungalow under guard of two officers. He was handcuffed, but these were removed when he was taken into the bungalow-courtroom. Yesterday was the first time Kelly had been out of the County Jail since his arrest and he said he enjoyed the automobile ride and the fresh air.

LIST OF JURORS

The jurors who will decide the guilt or innocence of Kelly are Mrs. A. E. Starr, Harold R. Thompson, Mrs. Meta Tarne, Mrs. Nettie M. Bailey, Mrs. Nellie E. Hill, Mrs. Helen W Dove, Laura B. Small, Mrs. Clara Hale, George Hahn, Mrs. Pherol Eggeter, Walter R. Lockwood and Mrs. Cora Wright. Two alternate jurors were ordered by the court because the trial may be a protracted one. These are Paul Foster Hill and Mrs. Issa Rhodebarger.

Mr. Gilbert exhausted all his peremptory challenges before a jury was finally chosen in seeking to get as many women as possible. Two men, Lyle M. Herrendean and Fred C. Christ, were excused when they expressed themselves as being opposed to capital punishment.

As soon as the jury was sworn in by Clerk E. E. Ekdale, Mr. Murray made his opening statement to the jury in which he outlined the State's case against Kelly and declared the defendant was "infatuated and in love with Mrs. Raymond," wife of the victim. Mr. Gilbert replied with a statement that the argument was started by Raymond and that no blows were struck which would have produced death.

BLOW TO DEFENSE

The first blow to the defense was dealt when Dr. Wagner testified on direct examination that the condition of hypostatic pneumonia which he found in Raymond's body followed a hemorrhage of the brain and that the marks and bruises on his body were caused by violence.

The autopsy surgeon testified he found two contusions on Raymond's forehead, his left eye was blackened and there was a large subdural hemorrhage on the left side of his head. His right shoulder was bruised and bruises were found on his left arm, on his shins and on the left side of the chest, Dr. Wagner said, and added he found one fractured rib and another which was cracked.

He expressed the opinion that most of the bruises could have been caused by a crashing blow from a fist and that the chest injury either could have been made by pressure from a knee or a glancing kick. To offset what apparently will be the defense contention that Raymond died from natural causes Dr. Wagner, in answer to a question by Mr. Kemp, said the condition of Raymond's kidneys would not cause a coma.

ALCOHOLISM SLANT

On cross-examination Mr. Gilbert questioned Dr. Wagner at length concerning acute alcoholism which, he testified, was contributory to Raymond's death. The surgeon, however, declared Raymond's heart was normal as were other organs of the body with the exception of the kidneys which were fatty.

Mrs. Cedarbloom was the first witness called by Mr. Murray. Dressed in deep mourning, her face drawn, Mrs. Cedarbloom, a woman of slight stature, took the stand with all eyes upon her. She withstood the ordeal bravely and did not break down as her friends expected in view of her conditions at the funeral of her son.

"Did you see his body at the undertaker's?" she was asked.

"Yes," was her reply.

"Did you recognize it as the body of your son?"

OBJECTION UPHELD

The prosecution next attempted to show through Mrs. Cedarbloom that on her arrival here she discovered arrangements had been made to cremate the body of her son. Mr. Gilbert objected to this questioning and when asked by the court for an explanation as to the reason for such questions Mr. Murray declared he wanted to show the jury that the cremation plans were made "to forever destroy the marks of violence on Raymond's body."

"We want to show this to prove motive and to show attempts were made to keep the authorities in the "dark," Mr. Murray informed the court.

When it was determined, however, that all Mrs. Cedarbloom's knowledge of this phase of the case was hearsay, the court sustained Mr. Gilbert's objections and Mrs. Cedarbloom left the stand.

Selection of a jury was completed in forty-five minutes yesterday morning. Those familiar with court proceedings said record time was made in getting a jury in view of the importance of the case and that the defendant is accused of murder.

WEIGHT COMPARED

In his opening statement to the jury, Mr. Murray said the State expected to show that Raymond, four or five months preceding the tragedy, objected to Kelly's asserted attentions to his wife and once ordered him from his home.

"We expect to show that Kelly was infatuated and in love with Mrs. Raymond and that he and others attempted to conceal the facts from the authorities," Mr. Murray told the jury. "Raymond, weighing but 135 pounds, was ill. Kelly, weighing 185 to 190 pounds, was strong and athletic. We expect to show that the defendant, after knocking Raymond down several times, held him by the neck and beat him and then gave him a parting blow which knocked him down and from which he suffered a cerebral hemorrhage, which the State will contend caused his death."

The defense attorney declared, in his jury statement, that for several years prior to the death of Raymond, he, Kelly and Mrs. Raymond had been the best of friends and were the best of friends up until his death.

VIOLENT TEMPER

"Raymond, we expect to show, was a man of violent temper," Mr. Gilbert asserted, "and was addicted to the excessive use of intoxicating liquor. He might have had trouble with his wife over liquor but Kelly in no way interfered with their pleasant relations as man and wife.

"Some time before his death, we expect to show, Raymond told Kelly he wanted their friendship to cease. Young Kelly here went over to explain things and to talk things over. We expect to show that Raymond was under the influence of liquor and that he made some derogatory remarks about Kelly and his wife; that Raymond made an assault upon Kelly and that Kelly struck him in self-defense.

"There was no murderous assault and young Kelly struck him just enough to end things and then went on his way. No blows were struck sufficient to produce death and Kelly used no more force than was necessary."

Mr. Murray and Mr. Kemp told the court they thought the case will continue through the week and possibly into next week before it is given to the jury. This was given as the reason for the picking of the two alternate jurors

Highlights as Kelly Faces Court in Fight for Life

Features of Murder Trial

A. L. Ewing, Times staff artist, presents impressions of the courtroom scene and the visit to the Raymond cottage—the high light of yesterday's session.

SENSATIONAL EVENTS AWAIT IN KELLY MURDER CASE

Promises of something really interesting in the Kelly trial are quivering in the offing, but as yet proceedings are hardly in full swing and the second day of the trial broke no records for breathless excitement. In fact, there was a fair supply of yawning in evidence during the first hour while the work of completing the jury went on. An air of languidness permeated the courtroom and everyone seemed genial and easy-going—more as though they were attending a friendly debate than a murder trial.

But by 11 o'clock the jury, with two alternates, had been sworn in, and when Dep. Dist.-Atty. Murray rose to give his opening advice to the jury the atmosphere electrified, the spectators sat forward in their chairs, and where before there had been an undertone of talking and moving about, an attentive silence and interest took its place.

While Murray was reviewing the story of the unfortunate incident that led to Ray Raymond's death, and telling what the State hoped to prove, the words "murder" and "punishment" were used frequently. Kelly's face betrayed no sign of any unusual emotion. His expression didn't change during the recital—he looked bored, if anything.

Up to the time the witnesses began taking the stand, Dorothy Mackaye appeared to be very cheerful and at ease. She looked around and smiled at several people and spoke frequently to Helen Wilkinson, who was at her side, as usual. When Murray made his opening statement, however, Dorothy sat up and took notice. Her attention was rapt, she moistened her lips nervously at frequent intervals, and there was a decidedly belligerent bearing about her as she watched Murray with her narrowed down to shrewd, calculating slits.

Quite the Beau Brummel of the courtroom is Roger Marchetti, Miss Mackaye's attorney, who puts all the others to rout with his sartorial elegance. Pince-nez glasses with a black ribbon attached, a faultless blue suit, a dapper polka-dot bow tie and tan spats completed a costume that should lend tone to any courtroom. It was even rumored that the subtle aroma of perfume floated about him.

Mrs. Cedarbloom was the first witness called. She seemed very frail and pitiful as she made her way with some difficulty and faltering to the witness chair. She had to be admonished a number of times to speak more loudly and it was only with the greatest difficulty that she was able to make herself heard. Her testimony only required a few minutes.

Dr. Wagner, county autopsy surgeon, was the next one called and when he explained in some detail the nature of the injuries which he found on Raymond's body, Ethel Lee, colored maid, sat forward in her seat and listened with tears brimming in her eyes. Miss Mackaye, on the other hand, seemed nervous and fidgety, and her eyes glinted and snapped.

Acute alcoholism was the theme of a large part of Dr. Wagner's testimony, and it was observed that most of the men in the courtroom drank in his words with more than ordinary interest.

When court convened for the afternoon session Judge Burnell announced that the jurors would be taken to the Raymond home at 2261 Cheremoya street, to look over the scene of the battle which is supposed to have caused Raymond's death. The judge's parting words to the jurors were to the effect that court etiquette under the circumstances would not be quite so rigid and that any of the lady jurors wishing to smoke should feel at perfect liberty to do so. None, however, called herself of the privilege.

Kelly got out of the machine at the house handcuffed to Deputy Sheriff Peters, but he gave no sign of any emotion and only rubbed his wrist when the deputy sheriff released him so that he might take a drink of water.

Inside the house, as the jurors were being shown around, Kelly passed Ethel Lee holding Miss Mackaye's pet dog in her arms. He stopped to stroke the dog, the while Miss Lee looked intently in an opposite direction. Kelly seemed not so complacent after the ordeal of visiting the house. Beads of moisture stood out on his forehead, he was somewhat pale and had a rather worried, intense expression on his face.

Word that Valerie, 4-year-old daughter of Miss Mackaye, was to be called as a witness in the case caused quite a stir as it was rumored about the court, but the bubble burst when it was later denied by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Murray that she would be dragged into the case.

Kelly Juror Served in Famous Trial

Mrs. Nettie M. Bailey

MEMORIES of the famous Burch-Obenchain murder trials flitted through the courtroom at the trial of Paul Kelly yesterday when one of the jurors trying his case was recognized as having served as a member of the first jury that tried Burch for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy.

As a member of the first Burch jury five years ago Mrs. Bailey was listed at Mrs. W. O. Bailey. She sat in the first seat, 1st, in the front row in the jury box. In the present trial she is seated in the third seat from the left in the front row.

The first Burch jury—there were three separate juries that tried Burch—went down into local court history as a noteworthy institution largely because the jurors battled for seventy-one and one-half hours before they were finally dismissed by Superior Judge Sidney Reeve as being unable to arrive at a verdict. When dismissed the jury stood ten to two for convicting Burch.

Mrs. Bailey was quoted as saying "I voted for Burch's conviction on the very first ballot because I felt that a very strong case had been presented against him. Three others of us who had no doubt of that he was guilty. Legally it was the man is sane and I cannot understand how any person who has been through that entire trial could be convinced otherwise. I have the utmost sympathy for Burch's family—for his father especially, as he is due the greatest amount of sympathy—but as to the defendant I observed every movement of his in court and can see him in no other light than that of guilty as charged. Only one juror felt that the evidence produced was not strong enough for conviction. The vote by ballot was cast alone on the question of sanity."

The late Thomas Lee was then District Attorney, prosecuting the case. He was defeated by present District Attorney Asa Keyes who was Woolwine's chief deputy.

...tie M. Bailey

Mrs. Bailey was quoted as saying "I voted for Burch's conviction from the very first ballot because I felt that a very strong case had been presented against him. There were several of us who had no doubt at all that he was guilty. Legally, at least, the man is sane and I cannot understand how any person who had sat through that entire trial could have been convinced otherwise. I hold the utmost sympathy for Burch's family—for his father especially, to whom is due the greatest amount of sympathy—but as to the defendant, I have observed every movement of his in court and can see him in no other light than that of guilty as charged. Only one juror felt that the evidence produced was not strong enough for conviction. The vote for acquittal was cast alone on the question of sanity."

The late Thomas Lee Woolwine, then District Attorney, prosecuted the case. He was assisted by the present District Attorney, Asa Keyes, who was Woolwine's chief deputy.

COUNCIL IN BOND ISSUE DEADLOCK

Wisdom of Going Before June Voters With Request for Funds Debated

At a meeting in President Boyle Workman's office yesterday members of the City Council were unable to agree on the question of submitting to the voters at the June election municipal improvement bond issues totaling $13,290,675. Councilman Golden was absent and a tie vote of 7 to 7 resulted.

The following bond issues were involved: Additional playgrounds, $1,500,000; Venice beach development, $500,000; additional branch libraries, $1,000,000; health center for clinics, $600,000; fire department, $4,740,675; sanitary trunk line sewers, $3,300,000; bridges, $1,850,000.

Workman pointed out that the margin at the present time for non-revenue-producing bonded indebtedness is about $6,600,000. Mayor Cryer informed the Council that no bond issue will be asked for furnishing the new City Hall.

Default of Oil Man Gives Wife Divorce Decree

Thomas H. Endicott, Long Beach oil operator, did not appear before Judge Gates yesterday to defend himself against charges brought by Mrs. Martha V. Endicott in her divorce complaint, wherein she named Marie Geralds as co-respondent, and Mrs. Endicott was granted a decree of divorce.

By a property settlement for the division of oil rights and realty worth more than $1,000,000, Mrs. Endicott was awarded several parcels of land and an allowance of $400 a month.

In her complaint she recited that her husband and Miss Geralds had been seen together in a San Francisco hotel and in Los Angeles apartment-houses, and there was testimony in support of these allegations.

Cautiousness Unavailing for Rum Suspect

Walter Stewart was a cautious bootlegger, but his self-imposed safeguards against ill-advised sales of liquor to masquerading police officers proved futile, it was revealed in police reports covering his arrest, as filed in Municipal Judge Turney's court yesterday.

Stewart was so cautious, Officer Washburn said, that when Stewart was asked to sell a little liquor the officer was thoroughly searched before he could even talk business.

NEW WITNESSES IN M'SHANE CASE

Investigator Lays Stress on Evidence Found

Testimony Will Prove Death Planned, He Says

Clews Held Confirmation of Fight Theory

Six witnesses who have never before appeared at any inquiry into the death of Ensign Julian J. McShane will be produced when the second naval court takes up the case here, L. W. Frankley of Frankley and Spray, attorneys for Mrs. Maria McShane, mother of the dead youth, said yesterday.

"These witnesses will substantiate our belief that McShane met death by design and not by accident, and by the time the court convenes we expect to have conclusive proof of this," Frankley said.

DETAILS RESERVED

He declined to go into details concerning the witnesses or give their names or a summary of what they may be expected to testify. His investigators will continue to work along present lines, he indicated, with the expectation that they will be able to lift finally the veil of mystery that has shrouded the case.

"Every bit of information we get," he said, "tends to confirm the theory that McShane was engaged in some sort of a struggle after leaving the naval officers' party at the California Yacht Club the night of October 8, and that he suffered mortal injuries in the course of it. We are practically certain now that he did not drown, as the first naval court of inquiry found."

McShane's body was found about 200 yards away from the California Yacht Club pier at Wilmington three days after the party. The court of inquiry found he had drowned accidentally, but his mother was not satisfied with this explanation and asked Secretary of the Navy Wilbur to reopen the case, which he did. The inquiry will get under way after the U.S.S. Tennessee arrives here from Bremerton, Wash.

INQUIRY BOARD NAMED

Members of the new board of inquiry have been named and will convene about June 1 at San Pedro, Capt. G. L. P. Stone, commander of the Tennessee, stated yesterday, according to dispatches received from Seattle last night.

Capt. Stone, it was declared, is taking no further action in the investigation at this time. Several of McShane's former shipmates will be on the board of inquiry, the dispatches stated, although their names were not revealed, pending approval by the Navy Department. The Tennessee is scheduled to sail from Bremerton on the 24th inst.

CONSTITUTION'S MARCH STUDIED

unfit by the author. Finally, was evolved a product that partially satisfied and with this he swept through the district contest.

AGAIN THROWS IT AWAY

Fully realizing the caliber of the talent with which he must contend in the grand finals, young Jefferson again decided that his then finished product was not of sufficient strength. Almost in its entirety it was then relegated to the wastebasket and still other efforts were made until again he was fairly well satisfied. With this new oration he carried away premier honors in the semi-finals—an event that brought into competition with him the chosen talent of the largest high schools in this city.

Still this youth, but two generations removed from slavery, was not satisfied that he had produced the best that was in him and he is today adding finishing touches, checking on actual data and spending endless hours in actual forensic performance. At least one-half of each day he is giving over to this work—also a goodly portion of the evening. In his work he is being ably aided by his sister and brother, either of whom would be as pleased to see Bernard capture the semifinals as though they were to be themselves the winner.

This young man was an entrant in this contest last year, finishing fourth in his school finals. Admitting the strength of the field in which he must contend, he said: "This will be a battle to the finish. It has been my ambition ever since brother Ed was entered in one of these contests to win the event. This is my last year in high school and the last opportunity I will have of entering this event. I am out to win and feel reasonably assured that my chances are good."

PASADENAN CONFIDENT

Orrin K. Earl, Jr., Pasadena High School, another winner in the semi-finals, is equally confident of success. Earl, who is 18 years of age, has had much oratorical experience in various sections of the country. Born in Evanston, Ill., he has attended grammar and high schools in that State, as Tucson, Ariz., and Pasadena. At Tucson he was elected president of the junior class and was vice-president of the Oratorical Society at that institution. At Pasadena he has been honored as president of Triple S Literary Society; business manager of the Little Athenaeum Literary Society; chairman of the Students' Advisory Committee and treasurer of the Latin Club.

ORRIN E. EARL JR

Through these contacts Earl has of necessity been an active participant in numerous essay, debate and oratorical contests. He has shown to excellent advantage in all of these and was a popular school finalist for the semifinals; winning over a strong field into the semifinals.

Earl is taking a novel method, also a practical one, of completing his preliminary work in advance of the contest. At the request of several civic and social organizations of Pasadena he is delivering his oration at their gatherings. This, he maintains, is building up the self-confidence and poise that he deems most necessary to his finished performance. On every appearance he is being well received and highly commended for his forensic ability. Many judges of the spoken word are loud in their praises and positive in their predictions that here is a young man who must be figured a most dangerous contender in the sweepstakes event.

NOT READY YET

AND LIZZIES

They used to say in France that Americans could be followed by their tin cans strewn along the roads. The same thing can be done in this country now.

NOT TO BE SHARED

The ripe philosopher says that happiness is not perfect until it is shared. But how is it when a man or woman find their great joy in a state of single blessedness?

TICKETS, PLEASE

Ten tons of lottery tickets were seized in a raid on a Chinese print shop as made by the San Francisco police. The Chinks must have figured on having a drawing some day.

SOON GET TOO OLD

Mrs. Victoria Claflin Woodhull Martin, who is now 88 years old and was a suffrage leader back in the '70's, says 25 is plenty young enough for both men and women to begin to vote. The trouble in this country is to get them to vote at any age.

THE QUESTION OF THE HOUR

It is not unusual nowadays for a girl of 14 to go out on a party and telephone from some other town that the car has broken down and she won't be home till morning. But if that is all the children's fault, what are parents for?

BARD OF THE STATE

The West Virginia Legislature designates a poet laureate and appropriates a salary of $900 a year for the official bard. This is supposed to be good wages for a poet, although it would be a pittance for a plumbing inspector. Playing with meters has two different aspects.

THIS KISSING BUSINESS

It has been declared perfectly legal for a man to kiss his wife anywhere on the streets of St. Louis, but this decision does not mean any particular boom for Missouri. The business will more likely go to Nevada, where a guy can kiss somebody else's wife wherever he can find her.

AFRAID TO WAIT

Towns on both sides of the English Channel are preparing to celebrate the 900th anniversary of the Norman conquest, which history records as of 1066. Looks like a celebration premature by thirty-nine years, but by 1966 nobody will dare celebrate anything except the woman conquest.

VITCH IS VITCH?

In the new Jugo-Slavic Cabinet of Voukitchivitch are Markovitch, Marinkovitch, Hardvitch, Serchvitch, Millisayevitch, Androvitch, Stankovitch and Wijevitch. Allovitch are said to be good men and trueovitch, even though the roll call is a little monotonous.

MAY ASK OFFICES

Nearly one-tenth of the voters in Chicago are negroes and they voted solidly for Bill Thompson for Mayor. Now some of them are insinuating that they ought to have one-tenth of the offices—as a matter of political justice. Chicago may yet have a race war to add to its human hazards.

IS A FIXTURE

If the Smith shouters can push the two-thirds rule out of the Democratic creed the New York Governor might bag the nomination on the second ballot, but with that antique regulation still on the books there is a long journey ahead. Nobody can find any modern-day warrant for the rule, but there it stands, as unbending as Mt. Baldy. It is hard for the Democrats to change anything—even their socks.

LOGIC AND BRICKS

A man wrote to President Coolidge the other day and wanted to know why a bricklayer was paid $9 a day while a government astronomer was paid but $5. The answer would seem to be that government astronomers can't lay bricks. But perhaps that isn't it, for, on the other hand, bricklayers don't seem to be discovering any new planetoids, though they sometimes see plenty of stars when they fall off a scaffold.

AN OIL MAGNATE

Lord Cowdray, who died at his Scottish estate near Aberdeen the other day, was a real pioneer in the oil industry in Mexico and was known to many of the heavy operators in this country. The interests of his firm in South and Central America were very great and his gifts to educational philanthropy were very large. He was born Weetman Dickinson Pearson in 1856, but was made a baron in 1894 and raised to the peerage in 1910.

ONE PORT, NOT TWO

With an acceptable plan of port unification almost in hand there appears to be no good reason for trying to get the United States government to modify the requirements laid down as a precedent condition to a Federal contribution of $7,000,000 toward a new breakwater. But there are better reasons for port unification than the appropriation.

Long Beach-Los Angeles Harbor is not merely the port of the two cities which own it; it is the port of the entire southwestern part of the United States, entirely too important to have its future endangered by small jealousies and petty rivalry. Geographically it is a unit; it should and must be developed and administered as a unit, for economy, for efficiency, and for the best interests of all concerned. The idea of port unity, when it was first proposed, met with opposition, particularly from politicians of both cities who were afraid their patronage would be interfered with, but it has gradually won favor in both cities, and a majority of the voters of each are on record as favoring it.

The Chief Engineer of the harbor service had excellent logic on his side when he recommended to Congress that it should insist that two competing ports should not be developed here side by side. The Army Engineer Corps considered the matter from an unprejudiced viewpoint and with a background of vast experience in harbor matters, and nothing has occurred to change the situation. To ask the Chief Engineer to reverse his position and make a decision on political rather than economic grounds is to ask him to abandon a fixed policy of his department, which might lead to mischievous consequences elsewhere. It is obvious that the Chief Engineer would be reluctant to take such a step, and it should not be asked of him.

The modificationists profess to believe that the unification recommendation was originally suggested by local authorities and not by the army engineers. Even if this were the case it would not be an argument for modification. The idea of unification is thoroughly sound, whoever originated it, and when an idea is sound its author does not matter. Nor does it matter that Congress might be induced to grant an appropriation without port unification. Port unification would still remain the best way of dealing with the situation.

There is no reason to believe that the two municipalities involved cannot agree upon a plan acceptable to themselves and to the United States government, and every reason to believe that it can and will be done. The movement for retaining port separation is ill-timed, against the will of the majority, and unwise. It should be dropped.

WELL-LOVED LEADERS

Los Angeles has suffered a double loss in the taking away of two of its pioneer business men and well-loved citizens, Hans Jevne, founder of the well-known grocery house that bears his name, and Arthur W. Kinney, former president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

These two men were intimately associated with the life of Los Angeles and intellectually, socially and commercially they have left the imprint of their efforts for the betterment of our city and its people in many fields of endeavor. Mr. Kinney, 21 years the junior of the veteran merchant, had filled many public offices, and in the natural course of events was looked upon for many more years of happy and useful service in the land he loved so well. Mr. Jevne, well past the three-score years and ten, had already retired from active work though still a well-known figure to the hundreds of friends and associates he had made in his long and successful career as a Los Angeles merchant.

But if death seemed to take Arthur W. Kinney while he still had so many possibilities ahead of him, the end came—as no doubt he would have wished it to come—in the home garden he had tended so carefully and among the flowers for which he was so devoted. For Mr. Kinney was filled with the sentiment of the Southwest and the city of his choice, to which he had often paid tribute in poems written from the heart. So in a work that came from the heart—far away from the toil of the brain through which he had carved his way to prominence—in the poetry of a California garden, amid the blossom of the roses—the reaper gently passed through with his sickle to take home one who had lived so well because he had loved so truly.

Full of honors and the center of a host of friends, Mr. Jevne was called almost at the same time, leaving behind him an establishment famous among those that blazed a way to prominence for the great mercantile emporium for which Los Angeles is today noted the world over. Both these pioneers were well known and highly honored for the part they took in the upbuilding of our new metropolis—but, above and beyond this, both were warmly loved by all who knew them intimately for their sterling human attributes—for hearts that were as responsive to human needs as their brains were to the demands of the business world.

"THE REST IS SILENCE"

Minutes pass into hours and every hour crushes the hopes—not for the success—that is past—but for the safety of the two intrepid French flyers, Charles Nungesser and Francois Coli. Their forty-hour supply of gasoline long exhausted, their aircraft still unreported, the immense silence of the Atlantic the only answer to the anxious watchers and searchers of two continents, these warriors of the air may yet be brought to shore by one of the numerous rescue crews combing the fog-drenched immensity of the waste of waters. That alone is now the prayer of the millions who but three short days ago expectantly awaited a triumphant finish for the flight of the White Bird.

Somewhere between the coast of France and the banks of Newfoundland, over a desolate trail nearly 4000 miles long and of unascertainable width, the misty Atlantic keeps the secret of what has happened to the first human beings who dared a westward air flight across its sullen, storm-swept desolation. Nungesser and Coli, the bravest of the brave, war veterans of 100 fights, feared nothing, dared everything, when in the face of adverse weather reports from the American coast they took off from the flying field at Le Bourget, trusting to their skill and courage and the faithful White Bird to start the air conquest of earth's most treacherous and stormy ocean.

Did they carry their confidence to the point of recklessness when they refused to equip their airplane with a message-sending radio? Did they dare too far the power of the Atlantic when they thus deprived themselves of the only means for breaking, in case of need, its still and awful silence? The ocean has its fog blankets to blind the eyes of its prospective victims and curtain the surface of the deep from those who embark on the work of rescue. But the ocean cannot deafen the ears of the wireless nor, for all its wind and mist, hide the rendezvous of the wrecked from the listening receiving station of the rescue crews.

Without the radio, with only thousands of silent miles of water for an objective, the ships of three nations must go blind and deaf into the search for some sign of the brave men, now so long overdue that the only hope left is on, not above, the surface of the sea. Endless waves and billows and somewhere in the trough of the mountainous combers an almost indiscernible object for whose discovery the whole world waits breathlessly. But the ocean has bandaged the eyes of the seekers and the "rest is silence."

GOING TO WASHINGTON

Washington correspondents report that never before have there been so many visitors at the capital as in these spring days. At this season of the year there always are more visitors than in other seasons. The custom of visiting Washington in the late spring and early summer has been growing for the last two decades, so that now the city is thronged by people all over the country.

Automobiles have aided the increase, while the practice of whole schools making excursions to the capital has been popular of late years. A trip to the nation's seat of government is recognized as an important lesson in history and geography. To gaze up at the dome of the Capitol in serious contemplation is to receive a message as to the meaning of our great democratic republic that can be had in no other way.

Speak to a man in symbols and he will understand you, though all other language fail. The truth of your image will appeal to him as no manner of abstractions ever can appeal, though you heap before him a very Alp of words. As the serious-minded American gazes with reverent eyes upon that noble dome for the first time, and with reverent feet approaches the Capitol, familiar as a photographed face, and yet now so strangely new, the message comes. To his elated sense the vast white dome, springing from its stately peristyle, lofty, massive, harmonious as a chord from Beethoven, conjures at once into concrete form the fondest dream of democracy. It grandly images the great idea. And he, the citizen of that democracy.

"The heir of all the ages, in the foremost files of time," feels anew and with a greater realization than ever the gift he shares with his fellow-countrymen in the fulfillment of that idea.

Up there stands the symbol of the highest national hope that ever dawned upon the world—the eagle-crested figure of Liberty, which, like the Blessed Damozel, stands "a thing enskyed"—and it is the finest symbol the American can gaze upon, embodying as it does not only the dream but the religion of the republic—a religion that cannot fail to find an echo in his heart.

A cordial welcome always awaits the visitor to Washington. He always is made to feel at home there by the permanent residents. It is a peaceful city. There is not the hurry and scramble seen in most of our great urban centers. The street car makes a longer pause for the passenger. In the spacious corridors of the Capitol there is a restful feeling, as there is also in the great Congressional Library in which the visitor gazes with rapt interest upon so many objects of historic value.

Also the American visitor has the feeling that here on the Capitol grounds is something that belongs to him and to which he belongs. He may be ever so poor, yet he shares this feeling with the richest, and none can deprive him of it, for it is his rightful inheritance.

It is good to know that the custom of visiting the national capital is becoming such a general one, and it is also good to know that visitors always are made to feel so welcome there.

FRENCH PROPAGANDA?

According to a story printed in certain American journals, pressure is being brought to bear on members of the American Legion to induce them to favor a resolution, to be presented at the Paris convention next September, for the cancellation of the debt from France to this nation.

The story is quite explicit. Propaganda of a very low order is being carefully circulated among American Legion men supposed to be amenable to such arguments. One of the meanest of these is that "it would insure a much heartier welcome to the Legionnaires than they might otherwise receive in view of the general French sentiment in favor of cancellation."

Care is being taken, the dispatch adds, to limit the discussion of the proposed resolution lest the rank and file of the Legion launch a counter-movement. This they certainly would do. No true American would accept the hospitality of any nation with such a rider attached.

The story is either an insult to the patriotism of America or a libel on the friendly professions of the French people. The American Legion should run it to earth and find out whether it originated in France or in certain American circles that have always been hostile to a good understanding between the two republics.

KEEPING FAITH

The economic purpose of the State administration and its obeisant Legislature is noticed by the flock of new names that will be added to the California pay roll—and many of them will be of high-priced duds, at that.

"IMMORTALITY

By James J. Montague

I have doubted, a very long time—
And these doubts I record to my shame—
If Senator Borah would climb
To the uttermost limit of fame.
I knew that he knew the political game,
I knew he was subtle and clever,
But I did not—I own it—believe that his name
Would endure both forever and ever.

I know that the people will flock
To the echoing chambers of state—
And sit there, enthralled and en bloc
Whenever he deigns to debate.
For hours and hours I've heard him speak on
And never grow weary or breathless,
Yet I never was certain that when he had gone

But I wronged a great statesman, dear friends,
I was on an erroneous track,
For each month, I have learned, that he sends
Though his colleagues, enraged and astonished, arise
To denounce and decry and upbraid him,
And a staggering populace gasps in surprise,
He declares Uncle Sam overpays him!

When the Capitol crumbles to dust,
And its tumult and shoutings have died,
When nothing but ashes and dust
Is the nation which now is our pride,
Wherever the records of history rest—
They will state on their immortal pages
That one politician—one only—confessed

What an "under-cover man" Machiavelli would have made!

A Chinese Napoleon might say God is on the side of the biggest bribe.

Blowout: A disaster that happens to a tire when the tire knows you are all dressed up.

It's fair enough. That one is boss who has sense enough to boss without letting the other partner know it.

Maybe a man talks that way when drunk because his tongue tries to travel in circles, also.

Village lads have ability. The thing that holds them back is the lack of proximity to anybody big enough to envy.

Americanism: A conviction that you are qualified to do the other fellow's thinking for him.

Does he sneer much? Ah, well; he has been important only a short time and is afraid you won't notice how he's developed.

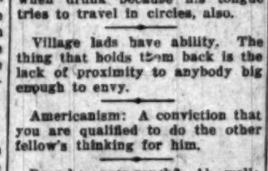
A successful practitioner is one who can confess that he doesn't know what is the matter with you.



Success depends upon foresight, and it's not too early to think up some reason why you can't beat the rugs.

The meanest form of vanity is to visit those less fortunate than yourself in order to enjoy the contrast.

Correct this sentence: "I have six children," said she, "and never have moistened my handkerchief with my tongue to remove a spot on one's face."

Nothing makes a stout woman so furious as to hear some one complain of being thin.

Every cloud has a silver lining, but we don't appreciate it when we get caught out in the rain.

Experience is the best teacher. No man is ever quite so conceited after he has attended his own wedding.

INVENTOR MAXIM

BY BAILEY MILLARD

On a rare day in June about twenty years ago a [illegible] man with a week-end respite from the treadmill was [illegible] New Jersey railroad station along the Lake Hopatcong [illegible] day was hot and the editor man carried his coat on [illegible] denly the wild, slide-toned cry of a siren sounded [illegible] auto stopped near at hand.

"Thanks, yes," was the reply. Before the passenger was fairly aboard the car it darted so madly down a hill and around a crazy curve that he clutched at the door in dismay. Holding his breath, he stole a furtive glance at the driver, and the alarming fact was made known to him that he had but one arm!

"Yes," boomed the cheerful motorist, reading the editor's look of misgiving, "I lost that arm by an explosion of fulminate of mercury years ago. How far are you going?"

"To Edwin Markham's. Have you two feet to work the clutch and brake?"

"Edwin Markham?" exploded the autoist. "Why, he lives in one of my cottages. Oh, yes, I have two feet."

"Pardon me," said the timid man beside him, "you are—"

"Hudson Maxim!" And the name reverberated across the lake.

"Thank heaven!" was the fervid response. "The man who invented Maximite ought to be able to run an automobile with his teeth."

This pleased Maxim immensely and he laughed immoderately while we swerved around a big stump and honked past an uprearing horse ridden by a man who looked as if he could have murdered us.

I say "us," for I was the editor man.

In the course of that and many other interesting visits to the Maxim estate at Hopatcong and the Maxim house in Brooklyn I came to see a great deal of Maxim and came to like his big booming voice. He had a charming, little, dark-eyed wife, his second, and much his junior. She was an Englishwoman, had been his secretary and still loved to rattle the typewriter keys for him. They were the most entertaining of hosts. Markham and I went for dinner occasionally in the big concrete house on the lake shore, where Maxim had power boats, row boats and canoes lying by a wonderful concrete pier which was his special pride.

Across the lake were low buildings from which arose strange noises and strange odors. That was the Maxim plant. There he carried on his experiments in high explosives. There he had a huge press used to squeeze motorite down to thin sheets. Once I saw the inventor tear off a piece of this terrible explosive and light his cigar with it.

"It's the way it's discharged that makes it explode," he explained. "You can light a fire in a stove with it without danger."

"I'll take your word for it, Mr. Maxim," I assured him.

Motorite, which is used to propel torpedoes, came after Maximite, his great smokeless powder, on which he spent years of experiment and over $50,000. These inventions made a great fortune for him. He showed me a new flashlight powder, since used extensively by photographers. Another of his inventions, now generally in use, was a simple process of making calcium carbide. Maxim, his inventions and his advice came in very handy during our part of the war. He was on the Naval Consulting Board and on the Advisory Board of American Defense and was no silent member, either.

Maxim loved birds. By his encouragement more of them came to the Hopatcong country than elsewhere in New Jersey.

"When I see anybody trying to shoot a bird around here," he once said to me, "there's trouble for that fellow right away."

This from the inventor of Maximite, which has slain so many men!

Gently I pointed out his anomalous position.

"Nothing anomalous about it," he said. "Though I invent war explosives, I am a man of peace, and nothing will more surely bring about universal peace than the arming of the nations with the biggest guns they can buy and the storing up of vast quantities of high explosives and heavy projectiles."

Walking along the lake shore Hudson Maxim told me of his eager, struggling youth and that of his brother, Hiram, inventor of the Maxim gun. The Maxims all seem to have had a fondness for weapons and other fighting material. Hiram Maxim's son invented the Maxim silencer. Hudson said that while he was still a very young man in his native Maine, he drove about the rough roads in a buggy peddling a wonderful patent medicine of his own make, which bore the comprehensive label, "Good for What Ails You." It is evidence of the credulous American nature and its love of panacea that he was able to sell this one by the hundreds of bottles. These sales gave him his first start in business.

Afterward he was in the printing trade in Pittsfield, Mass. In 1888 he took up the business of ordnance and explosives with his brother Hiram. Both were headstrong men, each with a great bent for leadership. They quarreled and set up separate establishments, Hiram afterward going to Europe and selling to the British government his famous gun, in the invention of which Hudson told me he had an unrecognized share. This was the bone of family contention.

He was very proud of Maximite, the first high explosive to send a shot through a heavy armor plate, so he said, though that claim has been disputed. He sold his formula for it to the United States government, as also that for smokeless powder.

He would have no careless employee in his plant.

AERIALS HELD LIGHTNING RISK

Fire Insurance Companies Require Arresters

Added Danger from Bolt Declared Slight

Arresters Serve Purpose of Checking Static

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

[illegible] story of the present-day insurance [illegible] rules and regulations require that [illegible] lightning arrester be placed as [illegible] near as possible to the point where [illegible] outdoor antenna enters the build-

[illegible] For some time many families have [illegible] had a wire clothes line with ends [illegible] fastened to the house. Ungrounded [illegible] ridge poles on roofs are ex- [illegible] cellently well insulated antennae as [illegible] the ungrounded eave trough. These [illegible] things have been in use for genera- [illegible] tions, but when we attach a radio [illegible] receiver to the end of a wire we are [illegible] doing what constitutes a serious fire [illegible] hazard.

[illegible] As a matter of fact, if the antenna [illegible] is grounded it serves as a minimum [illegible] protection against lightning in the [illegible] same way that the proverbial light- [illegible] ning rods on farms serve, although [illegible] the amount of protection from the [illegible] antenna will be fearfully small.

HELP KILL STATIC

[illegible] We do not all know that light- [illegible] ning arresters have considerable value [illegible] in permitting static charges to leak [illegible] off the antenna. Sometimes during [illegible] storms an antenna becomes charged [illegible] with electricity from drops as they [illegible] fall. The drops were previously [illegible] charged, often sufficient to make [illegible] a spark jump between plates of the [illegible] receiving tuning condenser.

[illegible] It is equally true that in most [illegible] cases of the day the antenna goes to [illegible] earth, and of which the other end goes [illegible] directly to the ground and these [illegible] charges do not accumulate but, in- [illegible] deed, flow directly and constantly to [illegible] ground.

[illegible] In an actual fact, there is little [illegible] danger of fire from lightning [illegible] striking an antenna. But it seems [illegible] that lightning arresters must be at- [illegible] tached to houses which have out- [illegible] door antennae not so much because [illegible] of their practical value but because [illegible] some of the insurance companies re- [illegible] quire it. Indoor antennae, of course, [illegible] do not require such apparatus.

[illegible] Tuesday children's hour from [illegible] 5 to 6 included Lois Jane Campbell, [illegible] "Blue Eyes," with a Mother's Day [illegible] song; George Kerr in mandolin solos [illegible] including the "Titania Overture," [illegible] and after the KHJ Queen Titania; [illegible] Juanita Bringham, "Nightingale," [illegible] songs including a duet with Pal [illegible] for the weekly radio visit of the [illegible] playground department, har- [illegible] monica band; Corinne Slocum, 10- [illegible] year-old pianist; and Baby Jeannette [illegible], reader.

COMPOSER PLAYS

[illegible] An early part of the evening [illegible] was presented a manuscript [illegible] program featuring the unpublished [illegible] songs of Alice Lee Wiley, local com- [illegible] poser, including Ruth Pitts, dramatic [illegible] soprano; Margaret Clark, contralto, [illegible] and John Slingerland, baritone.

[illegible] Miss Wiley played the accompani- [illegible] ments for the selections, which in- [illegible] cluded "My Heart is a Rose," "Com- [illegible] munion," "Highways," selections from [illegible] the Persian song cycle, "Love [illegible] Lilts," "Song of the Sea," "Wings [illegible] of the Morning," "My Dream of Thee," [illegible] "The Blackbird Suddenly," "Song of the [illegible] Wade of Hollywood: "Bridges [illegible]," "Tears," "The Sea Gypsy," [illegible] "The Moon's a Troubadour," [illegible] "Dreams," "Flowers of Death," [illegible] "Desert Requiem," and a group [illegible] I A Bird of the Air," "The [illegible]

Muted Strings" and several other selected numbers.

Although Alice Lee Wiley has played from KHJ a number of times in the past few years this was the first broadcast offering composed entirely of numbers by this composer. The entire radio recital was presented in a professional manner by the participants and the themes show the composer to have an exceptionally well-ordered sense of musical values as well as breadth of vision in the treatment of characteristic themes and motifs.

VIOLINIST ON PROGRAM

From the moment that a tonal conception becomes more or less defined in the composer's thought until the melody is actually translated into notation, by which the tonal effects are definitely recorded for preservation and reproduction, the musician must go through many stages of study and labor. But Miss Wiley has a thorough background of theatrical and practical application, which will in time elevate her to the ranks of well-known composers of California.

Following the first part of the evening broadcast Laura Berkovitz, talented young Hungarian violinist and pupil of Oscar Seiling, presented two groups of solo selections accompanied at the piano by [illegible] teacher; Swami Paramanada of La Crescenta delivered his weekly address; and Pearl Meade Barry, one of KHJ's favorite readers, entertained with numbers, including the Kate Douglas Wiggins, "The Ruggles Dinner Party."

EAGLE GOAT TO BE BUSY ON SUNDAY

Class of 200 Initiates Will be Inducted as Part of New Building Drive

Another milestone of progress in its drive for 5000 new members and a new $1,000,000 clubhouse will be passed by Los Angeles Aerie No. 102, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Sunday afternoon. In the presence of State officials and ranking officers a class of more than 200 candidates will be initiated. The large group of initiates, one of the largest in the history of the aerie, will be known as the "Mothers' Day Class."

"It is the custom of the aerie," President James Bean declared, in announcing progress of the campaign, "to initiate this honor group the Sunday following Mother's Day. This organization was the original sponsor of this great day of tribute to the American mothers and for that reason our Mothers' Day classes are initiated the following Sunday, which arrangement permits the candidate to spend the whole of Mother's Day with his mother."

The Sunday class, which was made possible through the efforts of the lodge's deputy grand organizer, Thomas Armstrong, here from Kansas City, will have as its guests of honor, Lieut.-Gov. Buron Fitts, Rex Goodcell, a past grand worthy president; D. D. Heagerty, worthy State president; James Cunnison, worthy State chaplain, and Mr. Armstrong.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

There seems to be prevalent an erroneous impression to the effect that the dining room of the new Garden of Alla Hotel at 8152 Sunset Boulevard, Hollywood, is conducted for the benefit of guests of the hotel only. Nothing could be further from the fact, as the dining room is not only open to the general public, but is rapidly becoming one of the favorite eating places for those who appreciate the highest class of food and service.

The owners of this unique hostelry were determined to place their dining room on a par with the finest restaurants in New York and Paris, and the constantly increasing patronage of the elite, not only of the motion-picture colony in Hollywood, but from Los Angeles as well, indicates that this aim is being accomplished.

R. D. McLean, who plays the part of Fray Junipero Serra in the Mission Play, was host recently to Alice Gentle, famous grand opera soprano, at a dinner party given at the Mission Cafe located just opposite the Mission Playhouse in San Gabriel.

The kitchen of the Mission Cafe is under personal supervision of M. A. Griffin, formerly chef steward of the Waldorf Hotel in San Diego. One of the features of the culinary department is their much-advertised "chicken on the wooden plate," a palatable and altogether wholesome meal, specially prepared for visitors to the Mission Play.

Cinema night will be celebrated in Brandstatter's Hollywood Montmartre Cafe this evening with Georgia Hale, film actress, as guest of honor.

A new series of prize dances will be in augurated under the auspices of Mandel's, Inc.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

St. John's Church, West Adams street at Figueroa, will be the scene of one of the loveliest of the spring weddings today when at high noon Miss Marjorie Hamlin, attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hamlin of Kingsley Drive, becomes the bride of Garnet Cecil Rainey, the service being read by Rev. George Davidson and the lovely bride given in marriage at the chancel rail by her father.

Miss Glory Kennedy has been chosen to assist as maid of honor at the ceremony, while the bridesmaids will include Miss Alice McManus of Reno, Nev., classmate of Miss Hamlin at L'Ecole Francais, New York; Miss Virginia Laswell, Miss Warrene Swetland, Miss Consuelo Baker and Miss Helen Worthington, other attendants being Mrs. Charles Frances Forbes (Mildred Lewis,) Mrs. Donald McCaffey (Helen Seeley) and Mrs. Albert Rogers (Eleanor Lamb.)

Harold Hopper will serve Mr. Rainey as best man and the ushers will include William Smith, Robert Smith, Harold Davis, Frank McClure, Mortimer Kline, Lewis Runge, Roscoe White and Charmley Atwater. Following the ceremony a reception and wedding breakfast will take place at the lovely Uplifters' clubhouse at the rancho in Santa Monica Canyon, and afterward Mr. Rainey and his bride are leaving for their honeymoon trip, which will include a cruise through the Panama Canal to New York for five weeks, after which they will return to Los Angeles by way of the Canadian Pacific and will make their future home here.

For Bride-Elect

Miss Kathleen Campbell, attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Campbell of Glendale, whose wedding with Donald Cameron will be a brilliant event of June 6, is being much entertained with prenuptial affairs these days. Saturday afternoon Miss Dorothy Bouck and Miss Kathryn Chapman entertained with an afternoon bridge party at the home of the latter in South Bronson avenue, the guests being Pi Beta Phi sorority sisters at the University of Southern California. Eleven tables were arranged for the bridge games and the decorations of the tea tables were carried out in an orchid and green color scheme. There were prizes for each table and the hostesses were assisted by their mothers, Mrs. C. L. Chapman, Mrs. Thomas L. Bouck and Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Miss Mary Chapman and Miss Margaret Bouck.

An interesting feature of the afternoon was the discussion of the approaching departure of Miss Chapman and Miss Bouck to attend the annual national convention of Pi Beta Phi at Breezy Point Lodge, Minn., next month.

School Entertainment

A delightful and unusual fete will be given by students of the Gordon School, 1455 Laurel avenue, Hollywood, in the spacious gardens surrounding the school. The play will be "The Enchanted Garden," by Constance D'Arcy Mackay, and a ballet will be one of the principal features of the afternoon, dances being interpolated between the acts of the play. The personnel will include Florence Altman, Lucile Fairbanks, Beryl Pierce, Elaine Holbrook, Janice Kirker, Janice Morris, June Garner, Patsy Greenough, Jane Platner and Elizabeth Morris, the ballet composed of children from the lower grades and kindergarten as well as junior and senior high school students. All friends are cordially invited to attend the performance.

Crisp-Synan

The marriage of Miss Vera B. Crisp of Kansas City to William H. Synan of Los Angeles was solemnized Tuesday afternoon, the ceremony taking place in the Little Church of the Flowers, Glendale, with Rev. Willsie Martin officiating, while Helen E. Walker played the weddnig marches and Bill Blake sang several solos preceding the ceremony. Fifty relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony.

The bride was becomingly gowned in white embroidered georgette with small close-fitting hat of pink and carried an arm bouquet of Russell roses and maidenhair ferns.

After their return from a motor trip through California Mr. and Mrs. Synan will make their home in Los Angeles.

Mothers' Dinner

One of the lovely affairs of the month was the Mothers' Day dinner with which Mrs. Roy Massie entertained at her home, 4608 South Figueroa street, her guests being members of the Massie family. After reciting a beautiful motto for mothers a delicious dinner was served, and afterward a musical program was given by the hostess. Red roses, carnations and ferns furnished the decorations of the table and various rooms of the house.

Gone Abroad

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pate and their daughter, Miss Florence Pate, of La Canada, left Thursday for England, by way of the Panama Canal, planning to be away for a year, visiting with relatives and friends. Miss Pate is expecting to visit in Italy before her return here. Many farewell courtesies were extended the voyageurs, who have a host of friends throughout Flintridge and La Canada, as they are one of the old families of the valley and are also active in the La Canada - Flintridge Community Church and Thursday Club.

Campus Activities

Formal dinner dances and informal sports dances seem to be the most popular form of diversion for University of Southern California students, as every day brings the season of final examinations nearer. Week-ends especially are crowded with gala social events for the collegiate set. The all-university informal sport dance was held last Friday evening at the Elks' Temple, where the spring motif was beautifully carried out in decorations and favors. Arrangements were in charge of Ruth Carr, Arthur Preston, Everett Miller, Eleanor Mix, Bill Stewart, Eloise Parke and Marcus Beeks.

Alpha Sigma Delta held its spring formal dinner-dance Saturday night at the Pacific Coast Club at Long Beach, the guests being presented with attractive book-ends as favors. Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Turner and Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Edwards.

Phi Kappa Psi chose the Uplifters' Club as the setting for their supper-dance given Friday evening. The dance was formal, with bronze clocks, bearing the Phi Psi crest on the base, given as favors. Patrons and patronesses for this affair included Mr. and Mrs. Shirley R. Meserve and Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Bergwald.

The Skull and Dagger formal dinner-dance at Westport Beach Club was also an event of the last week-end. Patrons were President and Mrs. R. B. Von KleinSmid, Mr. and Mrs. Warren B. Bovard and James Musatti.

Alpha Gamma Delta sorority at U.S.C. entertained with an informal dance at the Kanst Art Studios on Saturday evening, and Iota Sigma Theta sorority chose the Surf and Sand Club as the scene of an informal sport dance the same evening.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Sense in Shoes

Alternate different pairs of shoes if you wish them to last.

Never wear shoes when in need of repair. Have them mended before they are hopeless.

Have your shoes polished regularly so as to remove dirt before it has worked into the leather and caused real damage.

Consider what you need most when purchasing shoes and don't wear thin-soled dancing shoes to work and expect them to last as long as a business shoe.

Whiter Hands

To whiten the hands, mix glycerine and camphor in equal proportions and rub well into the skin. Camphor whitens and glycerine smooths.

During Housecleaning

If care is taken the job of housecleaning can be accomplished without utter ruin of the hands. Before starting to clean moisten some white soap and work it into the pores, around the cuticle and under the fingernails. Then proceed with your work and after it is over you will find all soil will wash off with the soap and the pores will not have taken up any of the grime.

Culled From Experience

Brush the crumbs from the electric toaster after using. Otherwise it will smoke when next used.

A little alum added to the water when rinsing children's clothes renders them less liable to catch fire.

Streaks from white clothes may be removed by washing in clean water to which a little ammonia has been added.

Too hot water will turn yellow any garment composed of silk or a silk texture. Always use lukewarm water for white silk material.

Keeping a Schoolgirl Complexion

Never touch any but true complexion soap to your face

Modern beauty culture calls for soap and water. But that means a TRUE COMPLEXION SOAP. Soaps good for other purposes are often too harsh for the skin.

Thus, largely on expert advice, millions use Palmolive Soap; touch their faces with no other. It is made of cosmetic oils. It is made for one purpose only—to protect and beautify the skin.

Wash the face gently with Palmolive. Massage its balmy olive and palm oil lather into the skin. Rinse with warm water; then with cold. That is all—it's nature's rule for keeping that schoolgirl complexion.

Do that regularly, and particularly before bed. Never let powder, rouge or make-up remain on your skin over night. Note how much better your skin is in even one week.

GET REAL PALMOLIVE

Get Palmolive today. Costs but 10c a cake. Use no other on your face. But be sure you get GENUINE Palmolive. Crude imitations, represented to be of olive and palm oils, are not the same as Palmolive. Remember that and TAKE CARE. The Palmolive-Peet Co., Chicago, U. S. A.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

FOOD REFORMS

If you have read the series of articles written by Mussolini, you have found that he has some quixotic ideas on diet. He has kept up with the advance of modern nutrition.

In Italy, as you know, macaroni is one of the leading industries, and macaroni is used as we use potatoes. However, macaroni does not take the place of potatoes; while it is made of wheat and so is a starchy food, it leaves an acid reaction in the body rather than an alkaline, which potatoes do. Mussolini is encouraging the cultivation of potatoes in Italy so as to lessen the use of macaroni.

Another food reform that he has instituted is the prohibition of the use of white fine flour bread, and the substitution of the whole grain loaf. There is no doubt, if this change in the eating habits of Italy is permanent, that it will result in an increased stature and vigor of the people.

ANEMIA

Mrs. B.: The instruments which are used to test the meoglobin (the red coloring matter of the blood) and standardized by the blood of young men in the German army and the standard is very high. (Hence so it is considered that a reading even as low as 80 deg. may not show anemia. If you have anemia it will show by the count of the red blood cells and the general condition.

One of the late treatments for anemia is the inclusion of liver in the diet, twice a day. Liver is high in iron and, aside from this, it is believed that it also has some power to regenerate the blood cells. With liver are given the other foods that are high in iron; green vegetables, egg yolks, etc., and enough calories in food to build up the weight.

You had better go back to your physician for a thorough check-up of yourself and get specific directions to follow if you are not feeling well.

Mrs. B.

INFLAMMATION OF KIDNEYS (NEPHRITIS)

As the kidneys excrete the waste from the protein in foods, an excess of such wastes will irritate them at times. It has been a practice, in the diet of nephritics, to limit the amount of protein to the lowest possible point compatible with good health, so that high protein foods have been excluded from the diet. (Most natural foods have some protein in them, but foods that are highest in the protein element are known as protein foods, all the flesh foods, cheese, eggs.)

An interesting fact that has been brought out by some British research workers, which no doubt is applicable to the human family. These investigators found that high protein diets fed to rabbits very quickly produced evidences of kidney irritation. Also this irritation was quickly relieved when a small amount of green food was added. No matter what the protein content of the diet was, it seemed in the experimental work to be the absence of green foods which established the kidney irritation.

It is quite probable that those who are excessive flesh eaters limit their consumption of vegetables and fruits below what is normal, and from the experiments it would look as though this fact was partly responsible for the kidney inflammation. So if you like high protein foods, see that you do not eat so much that you omit your green vegetables (and fruits).

PANAMA SHIP'S CREW SET FREE

Hakadate's Seizure Held to be Illegal

Was More Than Hour Run from Coast

Vessel, Used by London in "Sea Wolf" Tale

Members of the crew of the rum-running vessel Hakadate, which was seized April 7, last, by the Coast Guard cutter Vaughan with 200 cases of alcohol aboard as she was plying her way up the Mexican coast about seventy-five miles south of San Diego, were ordered released yesterday in a decision given by Federal Judge James.

In freeing the members of the rum-laden ship, Judge James declared that the seizure of the vessel was not permitted by the terms of the special treaty with Panama, as the Hakadate was more than an hour's voyage from the nearest point in the United States. The treaty provides that only where a vessel is within an hour's journey to the United States' coast, can she be seized.

SHIP RELEASE SOUGHT

Members of the crew of the ship had questioned the jurisdiction of the court. Judge James declared that since the men had been seized illegally, the Federal Court had no jurisdiction and he therefore instructed United States Marshal Sittel to free the men.

Attorneys McDonald, Thompson and Herron, representing the defendants, said that a separate motion requesting the release of the Hakadate from custody will be made, inasmuch as Judge James has held that the arrest of the crew, which was incidental to the seizure of the ship, was illegal, it is believed that the release of the ship will be made as soon as motion is presented.

The Hakadate is a vessel of Panaman registry. When seized she had papers stating she was "bound for" Vancouver. According to Federal agents, the vessel has been engaged in rum running along the coast for the past two years. The vessel formerly was the "Saucy Lass," on which Jack London wrote some of his books, including the "Sea Wolf."

WAS USED BY LONDON

The members of the vessel who were freed yesterday by Judge James's order are: Capt. Ernest A. Kolberg, Chief Engineer M. Johnson, Seamen Erick Frisk and Oscar Ebenhoch and L. Salvadore, Mexican cook.

Immediately upon the release of the men they again were taken into custody by immigration officials on the ground that they are foreigners and without legal right to be within the United States. Attorneys for the prisoners quickly arranged for their release upon giving assurances that they would depart immediately from the country.

Unnoted Victim of Suicide Try Suffers Agony

Exposure may accomplish what poison and lead failed to do for Ewald F. Schutte, 55 years of age, of 1313 Cloverdale avenue, police reported yesterday. Schutte is in a critical condition at the General Hospital, having remained unnoticed in his automobile for twenty-four hours after a suicide attempt.

Monday morning, according to the report, Schutte drove out Monterey Road and turned into a side street, where he swallowed ant paste and shot himself in the left breast.

He came to later in the day and scrawled a rambling note to his wife, Police said. He again regained consciousness yesterday morning and went to a near-by house, from which a call was sent for the ambulance.

Police said Schutte was dismissed several days ago from a position he had held for seventeen years, and had brooded over the thought that age was responsible for his dismissal.

Officer Says Harbor Fort Offers Fine Opportunities for Military Training

Fort MacArthur, Los Angeles Harbor, will offer more fascinating advantages to the young men who enroll for the Citizens' Military Training Camps this year probably than any other of the nine C.M.T.C. in the western States, it was declared here by Maj. The camp dates are from June 26 to July 25. There is still opportunity for a number of men between the ages of 17 and 31 to enroll for the month's free vacation, with transportation and all expenses paid by Uncle Sam, Maj. Suydam announced.

NEW PLANE STABILIZER UNDER TEST

SANTA MONICA, May 10.—Tests which the inventor declares were entirely successful were made at Clover Field today of a new airplane stabilizing device, designed by Robert Mitton of Salt Lake City. In a plane equipped with the device, Leo Nomis, an Air Reserve officer, flew for forty-five minutes with his hands outstretched, part of the time facing the rear of the plane. The tests followed six months of experiments here by Mitton and his backer, J. F. Dormer, a Salt Lake City attorney.

The device consists of a pendulum attached to a compressed-air device which in turn is attached to the controls of the plane, and a gyroscope on the rudder. The two combined, it is declared, will keep a plane perfectly level and is expected to be particularly valuable at night or in a fog. Mitton calls his device the Mitton-Braley Automatic Airplane Control. He is 26 years of age.

WIFE WINS SCHIFFMAN PROPERTY

Interest in Patent Medicine Business Worth $5,000,000 Awarded to Woman

Mrs. Mabel Schiffman won an award of property she considers worth more than $5,000,000 yesterday upon trial of her suit for separate maintenance against Rudolph J. Schiffman. The action was heard by Judge Guerin in Superior Court. Schiffman was not present. He was said to be abroad.

Mrs. Schiffman was granted an interest in the Schiffman patent-medicine business, which she values at $5,000,000. In addition she was awarded the family home on South Hobart Boulevard, of an estimated value of $50,000, a fee of $2000 for her attorney, S. S. Hahn, and the custody of her son.

Several years ago the Schiffmans were divorced in St. Louis. They remarried, but difficulties arose again and the wife sued for separate maintenance. At this time Schiffman left for Europe, entering no contest to her action.

Schiffman's family, however, contended that he had no interest in the patent-medicine business at the time of the filing of the separate maintenance suit. Later the elder Schiffman, founder of the family fortune, died. His will, when offered for probate, showed no bequest directly to Rudolph J. Schiffman, but it developed that valuable properties had been placed in trust with a Minnesota corporation.

Wild Horses Imported for Rodeo Events

Two carloads of wild horses and steers are en route here from Tucson, Ariz., as the latest consignment of four carloads of untamed Arizona four-footed performers for the $200,000 Los Angeles rodeo to be staged the 20th to 22nd in the Coliseum, according to an announcement just made by Addison P. Day, director-general for the Los Angeles National Horse Show Association.

Before being loaded into the stock cars the horses were never corraled. They are to furnish the thrills for spectators in the wild horse races which will comprise one of the fifteen major events.

The Los Angeles stock yards are affording a resting place to more than 150 wild Brahma steers from the San Antonio (Tex.) country after their long trip. Brahma steers have a reputation of being as clever buckers as outlaw bronchos.

Mat S. Cohen, secretary of the rodeo, reports that the allotment of 10,000 reserved seats for the "world series" contests at the Coliseum is rapidly being reserved. The central box office for the rodeo is at the B. H. Dyas Company.

MAY FETE OF SCHOOL ATTRACTIVE

Garvanza Pupils Prepare Veritable Mardi Gras in Honor of Holiday

The playground at Garvanza school, 301 North Avenue 62, took on the appearance of a Mardi Gras yesterday when the fourteenth annual May festival was presented by 600 pupils under the direction of Clifford Clark, instructor in history and social science. There were clowns, pirates, two-gun westerners, hula dancers, spring maids and almost every racial type represented.

An exhibit of the work of children of the various grades was one of the most interesting features and hundreds of parents familiarize themselves with what their children are doing. A parade of miniature floats and gaily-decked vehicles of every description was given, in which the entry of Teddy Bayard, a large bust of Luther Burbank, modeled by the boy's father, drew applause. Another which attracted much attention, the "Little Red School House," was constructed entirely of flowers.

The honor of Queen o' the May, was accorded to little Miss Lynette Russell, while her ladies-in-waiting were Bettina Wintervelt, June Brooks, Dorothy Ingham and Ruby Bolotte, all first-grade pupils.

Among other features of the parade which elicited applause were the toothbrush and nail-file boys, each of whom carried one of these instruments of hygiene musket-fashion. Following the Maypole dance, a program of music and other entertainment was given in the school auditorium.

Man Gets Year to Get Over His Two-Weeks' Jag

When Rex Morrow appeared before Superior Judge Craig yesterday to be sentenced on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, he said: "I was terribly drunk when this happened. In fact, I had been drunk for nearly two weeks, and did not know what I was doing."

"That's a uretty long jag," Judge Craig replied. "I believe it will take you nearly a year to get over it."

The court then denied Morrow's plea for probation and sentenced him to one year at the county road camp.

Morrow was accused of posing as a deputy sheriff and attempting to force Mrs. Evelyn Ladford of Lennox and her niece, Julia Bestor, 15 years of age, Los Angeles, to accompany him for a ride in his automobile.

FILMS BLAMED FOR CHINA WAR

Refugee Says They Caused Coolies' Unrest

Poor Demand Wages Enough to See Shows

Producers Cautioned About Inciting Crime

The Chinese have developed into great picture fans—they can't go often enough, Mrs. Krisel explained. When they can raise the money to pay their admission they go early and stay through till the theater closes, watching the pictures repeat time after time.

But at 40 coppers a week salary one can't afford to spend 5 coppers very frequently for amusements and when there is a large family to take the visits are reduced in direct ratio. So most of the coolies don't get to see enough of American pictures to satisfy them. The revolution is the result, according to Mrs. Krisel. The lower classes want to improve their condition, to get their wages raised so that they can have more of the necessities and a few of the luxuries, and the desire to go to the theaters is one of the greatest motives actuating them in their revolt, she believes.

"American producers should be very careful about what kind of pictures they send to China for the Chinese are very susceptible to the influence of the films," Mrs. Krisel said. "For instance, wild western pictures are dangerous for the coolie is apt to think it is the proper thing for a person to ride up on a house and shoot five or six innocent bystanders. They're a good deal like bad boys—you've got to be careful what you show them."

Mrs. Krisel is particularly interested in films because her husband, Alexander Krisel, a Shanghai attorney for the past twelve years, is representative in Shanghai and other ports of China for the United Artists at Los Angeles. She left Shanghai when things began to get uncomfortable, a Chinese gunboat having shelled the French concession in which she was living a few days before she departed. She has her three children with her and is on her way to visit relatives in New York.

Woman Feels Suitor Loved Home, Not Her

It's worth $35,000 to build an $8000 home and move into it with the expectation of becoming a bride, only to be disappointed, in the opinion of Marie Gilmore, who yesterday filed suit in Superior Court against William Lais, asking that amount as damages.

Mrs. Gilmore asserted in her complaint that she became engaged to Lais in February, 1925, and that he repeatedly postponed their marriage. They proceeded to build a home, however, the complaint states, in anticipation of the wedding.

Finally Lais flatly refused to marry her unless she deeded him a half-interest in her home, Mrs. Gilmore asserted in her complaint, and when she refused to do this he married another woman, Mrs. Gilmore's attorney in the action is Charles F. Adams.

LOS ANGELES LOWEST FOR FIRE LOSSES

Only $1.66 Per Capita Over Five-Year Period, Less Than Half of Average

The fire loss in Los Angeles was lower per capita for the five years, 1921 to 1925, inclusive, than in twenty-four other large American cities, according to a report made yesterday by the National Fire Protection Association. The nearest approach to Los Angeles' low mark of $1.66 was the figure of Rochester, N. Y., with an average loss of $2.03 per person, while Kansas City was high with an average per-capita loss of $8.04.

Leaving out Kansas City, the average for the twenty-three other cities was $3.35, or more than double the Los Angeles average. A check of the 1926 records, the association says, indicates that the low average is being maintained, the loss in that year being $2,500,000, or $1.66 per capita.

The association says the low fire loss here is due to the efficiency of the fire department, especially the fire-control bureau, which eliminates life and property hazards by systematic inspection, and to the building code, which discourages inferior construction. Efforts to reduce the loss still further are being made by the association, it says, and special attention is being paid to the central manufacturing district, most of which is within the city limits of Vernon. A booklet on fire prevention has been prepared and distributed through the Vernon Fire Department.

Wysong Found Guilty of Two Bank Robberies

Joe Wysong, charged with robbing two Hollywood banks, was convicted yesterday by a jury in Superior Judge Stephens's court less than a month after the crime he was charged with was committed.

Wysong was accused of robbing the Pico and Bronson branch of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, and the Bank of West Hollywood on April 11, last. He was arrested April 12, indicted April 18 by the grand jury, and convicted yesterday.

Edwing Waterman, who was arrested with Wysong and indicted with him, obtained a dismissal of the charges when he proved an alibi. He was later indicted upon a charge of receiving stolen property when officers testified that they found some of the money taken from the bank hidden in his trunk.

Consular Corps Hears Cassell Speak on Trade

Commercial reciprocity, as the basis for mutual understanding and world progress, was the keynote of an address delivered yesterday to the Consular Corps at the Chamber of Commerce by Harrison Cassell, founder of the International Mart, a permanent-exhibition building now under construction.

"To properly exploit the rich market in the Western States region, the adoption of American merchandising methods is absolutely essential," Mr. Cassell said.

"By following American methods, your exporters not only broaden their markets, but are more certain of receiving consideration from our bankers, whose basis for credit extension is predicated as much on methods as it is on men."

LOCAL GIRLS WIN TYPEWRITING HONORS

Two Los Angeles girls won high honors in the eighth annual State typewriting contest conducted last week, it was announced here yesterday by the Western Business College, where the girls are students. Patricia Gall, 1029 North Ardmore avenue won first honor and Isabelle Jelks, 1529 Courtney avenue, won second honor. They competed in the private-school class, southern section. They won over sixty-five competitors. Speed and accuracy gave them their lead.

JERSEYITES GATHER SATURDAY

Several thousand New Jersey folk, now Californians, are to hold their annual picnic reunion all day Saturday in Sycamore Grove Park. President Linnard and Secretary Miller have arranged for county registers, hot coffee, silk badges and program. New Jersey people visiting California are urged to attend.

QUITTING RUMOR DENIED BY DAVIS

Gives Address to Group of Women at University

Calls Parole Greatest Foe to Law Enforcement

Declares Crime Cost Would Soon Build New Prison

Definitely denying rumors to the effect that he will resign hortly as Chief of Police of Los Angeles addressed a group of local club women at the University of Southern California.

Speaking on the subject, "City Law Enforcement Problems" in the seventh of a series of weekly lectures conducted by the Woman's Law Enforcement Committee of Southern California on the general theme, "Theory, Value and Machinery of Law Enforcement." Chief Davis gave an extemporaneous talk on the problems of the police department.

PAROLE LAW HINDRANCE

The police official said he found the greatest hindrance to law enforcement in the parole procedure by which many vicious criminals are released from penitentiaries to continue their careers of crime.

"California was forced to foot a crime bill of $70,000,000 last year, principally because too many of our prisoners are released on parole for want of more accommodations at San Quentin and Folsom. Our prisons were fitted for conditions of twenty years ago when crime was not the gigantic problem it is today.

"We are still being burdened by the parole of prisoners turned out of the penal institution to make room for newer arrivals. A comparatively small percentage of this crime bill cost could well be used to construct another penitentiary in Southern California, where more than 50 per cent of the law violators are convicted and sent to prison. Frequently our efforts are wasted energy when these convicts are thrust upon the public to pursue their virulent careers. I fully agree with the statement attributed to former Chief Vollmer, now head of the Berkeley police department that a few of these paroled convicts can start a good-sized crime wave all their own within a few nights and then depart to other communities while the police department assumes the blame."

BUTLER DENOUNCED

Dr. Lena Leonard Fisher, a member of the faculty of the University of Southern California and vice-president of the Woman's Law Enforcement Committee called Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, "an arch traitor to the true idealistic conception of the Volstead Act because of his widely published statement that prohibition is wrong." Dr. Fisher also took issue with Los Angeles merchants that display liquor glasses, cocktail bowls and hip flasks in their show windows. "They are encouraging violation of the law by spoiling the psychology of righteous . . in the minds of our young."

getting employees names but he insisted that his purpose was official. He possessed zeal for unionism but denied that he mixed it with zeal for his city official duties.

In assailing Buzzell's activities before the Council, Councilman Hall said it is especially repugnant to the public to have a member of the commission, whose particular duty it is to protect employees from exterior influences "attempt to control their votes by coercion."

Councilman Jacobson charged Buzzell with injecting questionable politics into the commission activities. Councilman Barnes characterized Buzzell's actions as unethical to say the least and Councilman Allan as an insult to labor itself.

The motion to smother the Council report on Buzzell was made by Councilman Criswell, high in union circles, supported by Councilmen Sparks and Hughes, both of whom face difficult run-offs in the coming election. With them voted Councilmen Ash, Randall, Sanborn, Shaw and Zahn. For the report were Councilmen Allan, Barnes, Hall, Jacobson, Moore and Workman.

VOTE CANVASS NOW COMPLETED

Twelfth, in view of the fact that Clarence W. Horn, who trailed Barnes by one vote, yesterday filed contest and demanded a recount. Horn asserts that in Precinct 605 "not less than three votes" cast for him were credited to Barnes and also charges that "in numerous other precincts like errors and irregularities occurred."

The recount sought by Horn will be started tomorrow, the contest board, under the provisions of the City Charter, consisting of the Mayor, City Clerk and City Attorney.

TWO ELECTED

The tabulation also showed Carrie P. Bryant and Clair L. Peck elected to the Board of Education. Mr. Peck will serve the unexpired term. Board of Education candidates who were nominated and whose names will appear on the June 7 ballots are Frederick J. Beaton, Robert L. Burns, Donald B. Cribbs, Walker R. Flint, Letitia J. Lytle and J. L. Van Norman.

Candidates who will appear on the June ballot for election to office No. 14 of the Municipal Court are Caryl M. Sheldon and A. J. Bledsoe.

Only two present Councilmen, Callahan and Evans, comprising the minority, were urged for re-election by the people's ticket organization. Personalities, charges of maladministration, waste of public funds and obstruction were high lights of the campaign throughout the past three weeks, with newspapers representing opposite sides hurling the ammunition.

New Trial of Huge Damage Action Denied

Judge Westover yesterday denied a motion for new trial of the action of the Laughlin Engineering Corporation against J. W. Leavitt & Co. for damages of $880,000.

The plaintiff sued for damages asserted to have resulted from breach of a contract whereby the defendant had engaged to act as sales agent in distributing a tractor to be manufactured by the plaintiff. The Leavitt company, in defense, contended that the reason the sales campaign had fallen down was the tractor was not well built. On trial of the action several weeks ago, Judge Westover found for the defendant. Plaintiff asked for another trial, and counsel spent a whole day in argument on the motion, but Judge Westover ruled that justice had already been accomplished and that further hearing was not necessary.

STUDEBAKER OFFICIAL ATHLETIC CLUB GUEST

Frederick S. Fish, chairman of the board of directors of the Studebaker Corporation, was a guest at a luncheon at the Los Angeles Athletic Club given yesterday by H. A. Biggs, a former vice-president of the Studebaker Corporation, and E. R. Carpenter, president of the Paul G. Hoffman Company. Mr. Fish, accompanied by Mrs. Fish, is making a trip around the world on the steamship Resolute. He said his trip is purely a pleasure trip and he had nothing to say along the line of business.

NATIVE SONS SPEND DAY AT AVALON

Thousand Delegates to Semicentennial Guests of San Pedro Parlor

One thousand delegates, who are attending the semicentennial grand parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West at San Pedro this week, with their families yesterday spent the day on Catalina Island as the guests of Sepulveda Parlor, San Pedro. The visitors made the trip across the Catalina Channel on the steamer Avalon, viewed the island's submarine gardens and had luncheon at the Hotel St. Catherine.

Last night at the California Yacht Club Sheriff Traeger, as past grand president of the order, welcomed fourteen other former chiefs to the annual past grand presidents' banquet. A dance for all visitors was also held at the Liberty Auditorium, San Pedro.

At a special meeting of the ritualistic committee a new ritual for the tree-planting exercises of the Native Sons of the Golden West was outlined. It was likewise decided that the order will hereafter afford all possible aid to the National Green Cross in the reforestation of the State.

Today, when the convention's business sessions are resumed, Superior Court Judge Cutler of Burlingame, will succeed Hilliard E. Welch of Lodi as grand president. Visiting ladies will be taken on a tour of Southern California today and this afternoon will see the California Mission Play at San Gabriel as the guests of Rudecinda Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West.

TRIAL DATE FOR KERRICK MURDER SET

Wife and Four Guests Will Face Charges of Slaying Actor Next Monday

Mrs. Sarah Kerrick and four motion-picture colony guests charged with the murder of Tom Kerrick, cowboy actor, during a Hollywood gin party, will be tried in Superior Judge Hardy's court next Monday, Judge Hardy announced yesterday.

Mrs. Kerrick, Anita Davis, Joseph Hunt and Henry Isabell were taken into court yesterday and pleaded not guilty to the charge. Through their attorneys they asked for an immediate trial. Iris Burns, another member of the party, pleaded not guilty to the same charge last Friday and will be tried next Monday with the other defendants.

Mrs. Kerrick appeared to be on the verge of collapse as she stood up to make her plea, weeping silently throughout the reading of the indictment. Her plea of not guilty was only a whisper and she leaned on the arms of her attorneys, Welburn Maycock and C. M. Bruce, for support.

Mrs. Davis also appeared to be shaken by the seriousness of the charges. Her attorney, Stanley Visel, who also represents Isabell, acted as spokesman in urging an immediate trial.

F. M. Andreani was named as Miss Burns's attorney to replace S. S. Hahn, who is to leave for a tour of Europe before the trial starts.

EXTRAVAGANZA TO BE GIVEN BY GLEE CLUBS

Boys' and girls' glee clubs of Harding School will present the extravaganza, "Rumpelstiltskin," Thursday and Friday, with a cast and chorus of eighty-eight. The school orchestra of thirty pieces, directed by Chester A. Paton, furnishes the music. Principal parts will be taken by Onward Cochran, Adrian Bellinger, Avalon Hoisenberg, Stuart McComb, Maxine Page and Margaret Layton. The production is directed by Miss Beryl Jeter, formerly of Los Angeles High School. The costumes were those worn in a recent costly motion picture and are very elaborate.

TO FILM LONGFELLOW POEM

Elmer Clifton Will Produce "Wreck of the Hesperus;" Lasky, Wanger, Schulberg to Arrive Today; Will Rogers to Write Own Subtitles

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

This story will be a film version of Longfellow's poem, "The Wreck of the Hesperus," on which Harry Carr and Clifton are now at work.

But don't worry about that unhappy ending. It seems that, if you read the poem carefully, you will find there is no direct statement that the skipper's lovely little daughter really was drowned. And therefore you needn't be made miserable after all.

Other traditions in connection with the story likewise are shattered. Research work has developed the fact that, while several vessels were wrecked on the reef of Norman's Woe, the Hesperus was not (although it did figure in a disaster,) but come to grief rather ignominously pounding wharves.

A charming romance has been written around the skipper's daughter, and the picture promises to be one of the most pleasing which De Mille has made in some time.

The cast has not been settled on, although I believe there are rumors that Bessie Love and Gardner James may be the center of the romance, with the appealing Bessie playing the skipper's daughter.

Paramount Heads Arrive

Armed with plans for the greatest production drive in Paramount's history, the three men who will be responsible for it in greater part will arrive in Los Angeles this morning. They are Jesse L. Lasky, first vice-president of the corporation; Walter Wanger, general production manager, and B. P. Schulberg, associate producer in executive command of the Hollywood plant.

These three captains of the world's greatest motion-picture organization will spend but three days in Los Angeles, leaving after that time for San Francisco and the opening of the western sales convention, which was held in Los Angeles last year.

Lasky, Wanger and Schulberg face an active three days. Immediately after their arrival this morning they will confer with a group of directors and studio officials, summoned by telegraph yesterday. Among these will be Mauritz Stiller, soon to start direction of Emil Jannings's second American-made picture, "Hitting for Heaven;" William Wellman, about to begin "Beau Sabreur," and James Cruze, already deep in the story for Thomas Meighan, "We're All Gamblers."

A special car will leave Los Angeles tomorrow, carrying delegates from Los Angeles to the San Francisco meeting, which runs three days, the 15th, 16th and 17th inst.

Rork-Rogers Plans

Sam Rork comes marching home today from New York, all triumphant in the fact that he is to produce

"The Texas Steer," starring Will Rogers. He will at once begin preparations for the picture, the story of which is based on the old Hoyt comedy.

Naturally Will Rogers will write the subtitles, because he would probably talk them on the set anyway, so that he might as well get the credit. John Francis Dillon will direct, and Ann Rork is to play the role of the Texas Senator's daughter.

Bebe to Grand Canyon

If all goes well with Bebe Daniels, that fascinating young actress will be en route to New York bright and early next Wednesday morning, a week from today.

Miss Daniels is not only to see the city canyons, however. She says that she also means to give herself a treat and visit the Grand Canyon before she returns, this being her first peek at this great national landmark.

Duncans to Vacation

Just for once in their lives those energetic Duncan sisters, Rosetta and Vivian, are at least going to make a stab at taking a vacation. Following the completion of "Topsy and Eva," they expect to repair to their house at the beach, where they will swim and entertain their friends.

However, I believe it is in their plans to write some sort of story of their most interesting lives, and on this they will labor, as well as get ready for some picture work in the fall, when they will probably make "The Heavenly Twins" for United Artists.

Karl Brown's Next

Although Karl Brown is nearly finished with "My Dog," the story which he is now making for Cecil B. De Mille, with Joseph Schildkraut starred, the word rest is not in the bright lexicon of that director's youth.

This young director, whose story of mountain folk, "Stark Love," has rattled some of the old-timers out of their time-worn seats and has set a new pace in picture-making, is already at work on his new one. It will be a story of up-reaching youth, and so far is tentatively titled "Skyscraper," suggesting a symbol of ambitious youth.

Gladys Quartaro in It

If plans do not go awry, that lovely young actress, Gladys Quartaro, is to have a nice role with Ramon Novarro in his forthcoming Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle, "Romance," adapted from the novel.

Miss Quartaro at present is appearing in Fox pictures. She began her career as a mere child in D. W. Griffith's "The White Rose." Since that time she has become one of the most charming actresses of the screen.

Del Lord to Race

Del Lord, who directed "Topsy and Eva," starring the Duncan sisters, is also president of the Hydroplane Association of Southern California and the owner of three fast motor boats.

DEL LORD

The director has had a promise exacted from him by Rosita Duncan that he would let her know what it was like to make fifty miles an hour in a speed boat. Now he has taken her up on her enthusiasm for rapid movement, and has her booked as mechanician this coming Sunday, when he will race Midge II at at Balboa in three heats. Midge II has broken all records and has won thirteen cups.

John Waters Signs

John Waters, the director who spent fourteen years training for his job, and who has attained front-rank distinction as a creator of outdoor drama, has been signed to a new contract by Paramount, the organization that gave him the big chance.

Jesse L. Lasky made Waters a director in February, 1926, after the latter had proved a valuable assistant to such established megaphone wielders as Ernst Lubitsch, George B. Seitz, Raoul Walsh and others.

Alice Lake Returns

That very excellent actress, Alice Lake, is playing the leading role in a Phil Goldstone production. Miss Lake recently completed a vaudeville tour.

Here and There

Blanche Payson, policewoman and actress, has been added to the cast of "The Callahans and the Murphys," which George Hill is directing for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, starring Marie Dressler.

Yola D'Avril, the talented little Parisian actress, has been cast as a secretary in "The Road to Romance," which Charles R. Rogers is producing for First National.

Walter Goss has been added to the cast of Gary Cooper's second Paramount starring picture, "The Last Outlaw," which Arthur Rosson will direct.

Olga Printzlau has signed a new contract to write scenarios for Cecil B. De Mille productions.

Tante Tiggott, formerly well known to the stage, and Burr McIntosh have signed to play important roles in Laura La Plante's current Universal starring vehicle, "Silk Stockings."

Universal has purchased "The Tiny Toreador" as a vehicle for Hoot Gibson. The story is by Peter B. Kyne.

DIRECTOR OF BILLIE DOVE PICTURE NAMED

Negotiations have been concluded between John McCormick, representing the film organization, and E. M. Asher of Asher & Small, subsidiary producers, where by Richard Wallace will direct Billie Dove, just elevated to stardom by First National, in her first starring vehicle. Miss Dove is featured in "The Tender Hour," which comes to Loew's State on Friday.

McCormick, it was announced, recently purchased a magazine story written by Wallace Irwin, called "An American Beauty," which is said to be ideally suited to the talents of the actress.

The acquisition of Wallace, it is said, was made after he had considered offers from other producers seeking his services. His direction of "McFadden's Flats," it is claimed, established him as one of the foremost executives in the industry.

DRAMA GLORIFYING MOTHER CONTINUES

"Mother" with Belle Bennett, continues to attract to the Figueroa Theater, it is reported.

Leo Meehan, the director, is said to have shown good judgment in selecting the cast in support of the star. William Bakewell as the 17-year-old son, Joyce Coad as the mischievous little sister, and Crauford Kent as the husband, are a trio of performers.

"Horse Shoes," a Monty Banks comedy, will be the feature film beginning Friday with five vaudeville acts.

HINTS OF SPOOKS

While Edward Sloman was shooting "Butterflies in the Rain," coming to the Uptown Friday, Robert Ober worked three consecutive nights before the cameras with no other member of the cast present. Ober says a studio set full of people is a thrilling place at night, but as a place to pass the dark hours alone, it's not so good. Ober is also to be seen at the Hillstreet this week in "The Little Adventuress," a De Mille production.

COMPLETES FIRST

Ivan Moskine, the latest actor to be brought from Europe, has completed his first American-made picture, "Surrender," in which he is co-starred with Mary Philbin. He will start immediately upon "He Knew Women," with Lya De Putti, which will be a Universal Jewel.

DAVE GOOD TO STAGE FROLIC

The children are asked to meet Good at 2 p.m. Saturday, at the theater, where he will give them a hearing and direct their performances. Prizes for the best performers will be awarded.

Hi Jinks and Ball Given to Lift Mortgage

The ballroom of the new Concordia Club, 360 South Westlake avenue, was transformed into a facsimile of the mining camps of the old West of '49 last night, when the Men's Club of the Temple Emanu-El staged the first of their three-night festivities, the hi jinks and grant ball, to reduce the mortgage on the temple at Manhattan and Wilshire Boulevard.

Several hundred members of the temple and of the Concordia Club and their friends and families participated. Arthur Bard, director-general of the affair, was assisted by the sisterhood of the temple, by the Men' Club and by the members of the Temple.

COURT GIVES BOY CHANCE TO REFUND

Money Obtained by Fraud in Missing Girl Case to be Restored

Restitution today stands as the only way Herbert Mulney Bell, styled leader of the ring in the missing daughter of Mrs. J. S. Leath can evade a six months jail sentence imposed yesterday by Superior Judge Fredericktson after the youth had been found guilty by a jury on a charge of petty larceny.

The charge against Bell was based on his obtaining more than $50 from Mrs. Leath on his false representations to her that he had found her daughter and would bring her home, according to testimony introduced by Deputy City Prosecutor Barnes.

According to Mrs. Leath, she received a telegram from Bell from Las Vegas, Nev., saying he had found her long lost daughter. Mrs. Leath had disappeared from her home last September, 1926. The girl had promised to mail a letter at a near-by post office and was never seen again.

Hart wired, Mrs. Leath said, that he had the girl, but that he would have to bring her home. The money was sent and Mrs. Leath kept the wire burning in vain in her home at 1200 West Eighty-seventh street for the welcome homecoming.

In suspending a six months jail sentence on Bell, Judge Fredericktson placed him on probation, with the provision that he go to work and help pay Mrs. Leath the money she advanced him on his false representations.

Arrest Blame Laid to Politics by Southerner

Col. E. Garland Brown, 58 years of age, blamed North Carolina politics for his arrest yesterday on a charge of being a fugitive, wanted by police.

Brown is being held at the office of Sheriff J. A. Ammons at Greenville, N. C., who said he is wanted in connection with an embezzlement case.

When Brown was arrested he had in his possession, according to the Dist.-Atty. Memorials, a letter asking to come from Chief Justice Stacy recommending Brown to the State Board of Bar Examiners for admission to the bar here, but was denied at $5000. Arrangements were made for his release.

FARCE TO INTRODUCE GIRL LEAD

Ruth Saville Heads Cast of 'Just Married;' Woman Producer Leaves

A new leading lady will make her debut Sunday night with the Ruth Helen Davis players. Her name is Ruth Saville, and she becomes a member of the resident company with the opening performance at the Belmont of "Just Married," the farce by Anne Nichols, the now famous author and producer of "Abie's Rose." "Just Married" is the play in which Vivian Martin — starred some years ago.

RUTH SAVILLE

Ruth Helen Davis, the enterprising Los Angeles woman producer whose company bears her name, left last night for New York and beyond. She will travel to European centers, returning to the coast in September. Miss Davis will seek new dramatic material, and study innovations in stage production at various ports of call.

Eddie Cantor to Lead Next Orpheum Bill

Eddie Cantor headlines the new bill coming to the Orpheum Sunday matinee. The star of Ziegfeld's production and more lately of the screen will appear only at the Orpheum, where he will present his own act interspersed with some of the latest song hits sung in typical Cantoresque fashion.

Daphne Pollard will be another feature on the new bill, as she remains at the Orpheum for one more week presenting the skits which have been found pleasing during the first week of her engagement.

Other interesting offerings on the new bill will be Herma and Juan Reyes, vaudeville's concert pianist and violinist; Tom Smith, the "nut" comedian; "Fluttering Hearts," a new Hal Roach comedy featuring Charley Chase and Martha Sleeper; Luly, Henri and Crooker in "Three Rubes," and one other Orpheum Circuit feature.

SEND OUT COMPANIES WITH SOCIAL DRAMA

After the reception given "Is Your Daughter Safe?" by the Los Angeles theater-going public, C. C. Millard, owner of the film and manager of the California, where it has played for eight weeks, announces that five road shows will leave here for the East starting the 30th inst. The picture is to open in Chicago, Cincinnati, Toronto, Buffalo, Rochester, Boston, Baltimore, Washington and Jersey City. Further bookings will be made for every other large city in the East, according to Millard.

SPANISH DRAMA TO PLAY THREE NIGHTS

Marion Craig Wentworth, under whose direction the special performances of Jacinto Benavente's "The Evil Doers of Good" are being given, is well known here and in New York as the author of "War Brides" and other plays.

The special performances of "The Evil Doers of Good" which Mrs. Wentworth has directed, will take place on the evenings of Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 925 South Flower street, and are the first of a series of Spanish plays which are entirely new to local playgoers.

SAVOIR'S COMEDY IS FIRST OF NEW GROUP

The Little Theater of Los Angeles, Inc., is the new name of the Potboiler Art Theater. This reorganized group announces a new list of productions under the direction of Ole Ness and Henry Koiker. The first of these will be "The Lion Tamer," by Alfred Savoir, to be followed shortly after by Shaw's "Man and Superman."

"The Lion Tamer" is a good-natured commentary on all those things which Russian dramatists present with much moaning and sighing. Savoir, being French as well as Polish, has a grateful humor about his soberest themes. "The Lion Tamer" was one of the offerings of the New York season.

LANGDON FEATURE IS BOULEVARD OFFERING

Tragic relief is the newest note in feature film comedies. Harry Langdon illustrates the value of this emotional element in "Long Pants," which opens a four-day run at the West Coast Boulevard Theater today. At points in the play where the audience is on the verge of laugh hysteria, Langdon injects pathetic situations—only to return in the twinkling of an eye to comedy sequences. The supporting cast is headed by Priscilla Bonner.

On the stage will be selected specialty acts and Vod-Bits featuring Lynn Cowan and the Boulevard Band.

USES ELBOW "GREASE"

Neely Edwards is said to be making the hit of his life as the nephew of a rich and indulgent chap in "Applesauce," which is in its concluding weeks at the Egan Theater. He is one of those college boys who "soft soaps" his way through life. All the women of the town, both young and old, love him, but his reputation among men is that of a loafer. The actor studied young fellows hanging around railroad stations and pool rooms to get a slant on how to loaf.

Scourged by Vindictive Fate

Leslie Fenton

The Clyde Griffiths of Dreiser's novel and Kearney's drama, hapless victim of uncontrollable impulses in "An American Tragedy," now being unfolded on the Majestic stage.

Belle Baker and Jack Benny Listed on Bill

There is much interest attendant on the announcement that Belle Baker, the Hebrew comedienne, will head the bill at the Hillstreet next week. Miss Baker is one of the most loved players of her race and has gained the reputation of being a foremost exponent of comedy songs and characterizations on the American stage in a short period of seven years.

Another feature on this same bill is Jack Benny, who promises much entertainment with his fiddle and wise-cracks in addition to acting as master of ceremonies throughout the performance.

Grace Nile and Dick Mansfield will offer a comedy bit entitled, "The Man Said—," while George Beatty, who is known as the Humoristocrat, will discuss current events. The Tumbling Clowns offer a novelty and display of equilibristic art. Jenny and Nylin present a "cyclonic novelty."

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer offer for the screen feature, "The Valley of Hell," an episode of the early west featuring Francis McDonald and a cast including Edna Murphy and William Steele. Pathe Newsreel, Comedy and Aesop's Fables will also be shown.

EXPECT SPECIAL TRAIN

Announcement Made of De Luxe Cars to Grauman Opening

So far-reaching is the news of Grauman's Chinese Theater opening that representatives of New York will invade Hollywood on a flying trip, according to announcement, by special train. The train proposed by the delegation from the metropolis will be made up exclusively of drawing-room cars, with special observation car containing a dance floor, motion-picture equipment, stock-market ticker, radio and orchestra, according to plans.

A reception committee composed of Joseph M. Schenck, Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Norma Talmadge, Constance Talmadge, Buster Keaton and others will meet the train and escort the visitors on a tour of the De Mille studios to inspect the $2,000,000 sets built for "The King of Kings," the motion picture which is the dedicatory attraction at the Hollywood playhouse.

The New Yorkers will spend only two days here and then return on the same de luxe train. On its trip west the train will stop only at Chicago, where two cars will be added.

The trip as planned in the eastern metropolis involves an absence of ten days, a train, theater and banquet expense of $481.68, the statement concludes.

DIX COMPANY LEAVES FOR SONORA SCENES

With several carloads of technical equipment and a crew of nearly 100 men, Richard Dix, Mary Brian, Philip Strange and other members of the unit working on Mr. Dix's new Paramount picture will leave tonight for Sonora, Cal.

Spectacular scenes are to be made near the Malone dam, where there is a heavy overflow of water at the present time.

Among the props is an enormous Caterpillar tractor, five trailers, air-compressing machines and drills. In the scenes Mr. Dix drives the tractor up a precipitous slope in the mountains and brings a supply of materials to save a valley from being flooded in the nick of time. To get to the camera locations it will be necessary part of the time to use pack mules.

EXOTIC STAR INVADES EASTERN TERRITORY

"Fighting Love" is to show locally at the Figueroa Theater within the next three weeks, possibly with Miss Goudal in attendance at the Los Angeles premiere, providing she returns in time.

Sixth Week of "Patsy" Finds Interest Keen

When the closing date of "The Patsy" at the Morosco was announced, a demand for tickets caused the management to extend the run. "The Patsy" is now in its sixth week. The extended run, however, is only a limited one.

Kay Hammond, who is playing in her first production for the Morosco, and John Litel have a great deal to do with the success of the play. These two stars are among the most popular players in Los Angeles and their acting in "The Patsy" has brought them rounds of applause.

Hazel Reading, a new member of the Morosco company, will appear for the first time next week. This actress, who comes here from Chicago, will play ingenue roles. She has been signed to take the place of Elisabeth Allen, who is leaving for New York.

Miss Del Rio to Be Hostess at Criterion

Tonight will be "Spanish-Mexican" night at the Criterion Theater.

Dolores Del Rio, star of "Resurrection," will act as hostess in honor of this occasion, at which the Consuls, Allesandro Torres of Spain, and F. A. Pesquiro from Mexico City, will be guests of honor.

Large audiences are expected to pay tribute to Miss del Rio whose work in "Resurrection" reportedly has brought forth praise from critics throughout the country. Manager Ralph Allan of the Criterion has completed arrangements for this "Spanish-Mexican" night.

FINNISH LEADER FOR PHILHARMONIC

George Schneevoigt

The newly appointed conductor of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra, George Schneevoigt, was formerly a violoncellist. He is especially well known in Europe for his work with the orchestra at Scheveningen, a popular watering-place near The Hague. Mr. Schneevoigt has an English wife and makes his home in Oslo, Norway. He is to make his first guest appearance as conductor in the United States, some time this summer.

SPECIAL TO BRING BIG CAST

Santa Fe Will Rush Train from Denver With Jolson Company

Arrangements have been completed with the Santa Fe for the running of the Al Jolson special train from Denver to Los Angeles in the record time of thirty-five hours. This special will leave Denver Sunday morning, the 22nd inst., at one o'clock, and will arrive here Monday noon, the 23rd, in time for the show to open that night at the Biltmore Theater.

This schedule is thirteen hours faster than the California Limited running time from Denver here, and is even five hours faster than the Chief, from La Junta.

Jolson's "Big Boy" company totals 112 people, counting principals, show girls, dancers, musicians, stage crew, wardrobe matrons, colored jubilee singers, and managerial staff. Six race horses and four jockeys are also carried.

The equipment of the train consists of five Pullmans, three baggage cars, a horse car, a diner, and Jolson's private car. The Santa Fe is providing de luxe service, with barber, valet, maid, library, smoking lounge, and shower baths.

Jolson's engagement at the Biltmore is limited to three weeks only, after which he opens June 13 at the Curran Theater, San Francisco. This will be his first appearance here since "Bombo," three years ago.

Wins Stardom as Reward for Previous Work

The young lady who scored so successfully in "Padlocked" and "God Gave Me Twenty Cents," will be seen in the role of Nancy Hawthorne in Paramount's picturization of A. Hamilton Gibbs's novel, "Soundings." Her part will be that of a sweet, unsophisticated young English girl who is suddenly thrown into the hectic whirl of Parisian studio life. The love story which forms the theme of the story is given a novel twist in the picture, which is said to make the photoplay one of unusually intense appeal.

RED HAIR REQUIRED OF ACTOR IN ROLE

Almost any leading man could play the average stage role, but "The Strawberry Blond," which Louis O. Macloon is presenting at the Orange Grove, is one of the rare exceptions to the rule. The one who portrays the leading role of Herbie Salute must have red hair and plenty of it, for by his crimson thatch he obtains the nickname which is the play title.

Critics and theater-goers alike are said to enjoy the work of Sterling Holloway, who is seen in the leading role. Holloway is called a light comedian of ability and talent and his initial appearance on a western stage is proving one of the eventful ones of his career.

The majority of the play action revolves about Herbie unexplained ventures away from his home and wife. During the day he is a floorwalker in a department store, but in the evenings it is reported to be quite a different matter.

CALLS PART UNUSUAL IN PLAY, "CHICAGO"

"There never was a part like Roxie Hart," says Nancy Carroll, who plays the role of "the world's most beautiful murderess," in "Chicago," which closes at Macloon's Music Box Saturday.

"The role of Roxie is one of the most unusual in the history of the American stage, I dare say. Although she is the leading lady in the play, there is not a word of sympathy for her. No one says a good word for her and she never says a good word for herself. She is drawn as a selfish, sunning and dumb creature who has only her own interests at heart.

"The most difficult scene for Roxie is the courtroom scene. Here I really have two audiences, the jury which is trying me and the audience on the other side of the footlights."

GARDNER SULLIVAN SEEKS TRUE TYPES

C. Gardner Sullivan promises that "Brigadier Gerrard," his Rod La Rocque production for Cecil De Mille, will be absolutely authentic as to casting of historical characters as well as costuming and settings.

In the Conan Doyle story in which La Rocque portrays Garrard, the "friend of Napoleon," such famous characters appear as the little Corsican, Talleyrand, Marshal Ney, Comtesse De Launay, Josephine and Marie Therese. In Max Barwyn, Sullivan feels he has a new and ideal Napoleon. Two hundred applicants were tested for the role before it was awarded Barwyn. Similar care is to be exercised in further "typing" of the characters, Sullivan avers.

CONCESSION MADE ON SHIP TO LON CHANEY

Lon Chaney boasts a unique distinction. He is the first civilian to ever be allowed to fire one of the huge guns on a United States battleship.

During the filming of "Tell It to the Marines" he acted as gun captain with a picked crew of regulars, firing a huge rifle in target practice on the battleship California.

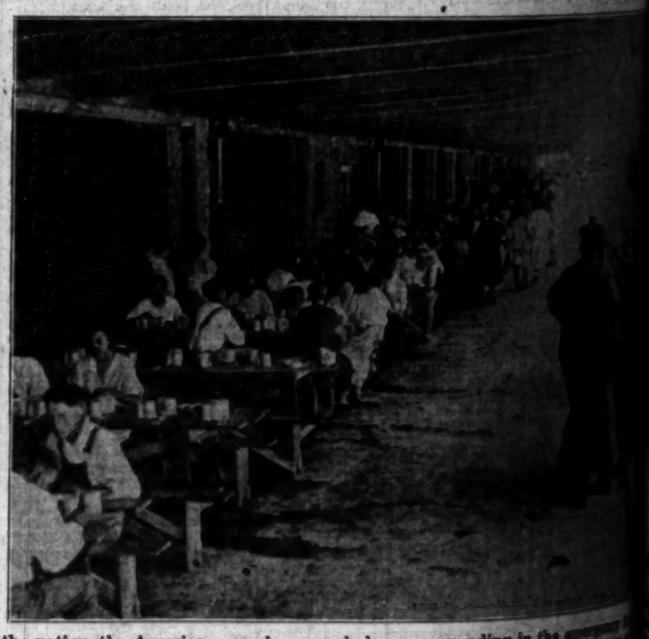
A Few of the Many Artists Who Will Appear on the Program at the Monster Benefit for Mississippi Flood Victims at Hollywood Bowl, Thursday night, are pictured above. The benefit is sponsored by the combined service clubs, business and social associations of the city, the chambers of commerce of Los Angeles and Hollywood and the various motion-picture interests. The Los Angeles chapter of the American Red Cross is co-operating with the Committee of 1000, of which Douglas Fairbanks is chairman, on arrangements.



While the Raising of Funds to Alleviate the Suffering of the Thousands Made Homeless by the Unprecedented Flood is being carried on throughout the nation, the American people as a whole are responding in the emergency in many ways. At left (above,) women behind the bars in the Los Angeles County Jail are shown fashioning garments for the infant victims. Middle, Red Cross nurse administering to mother and child. OUR HISTORY IN PICTURES 713 Appomattox Court House. by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

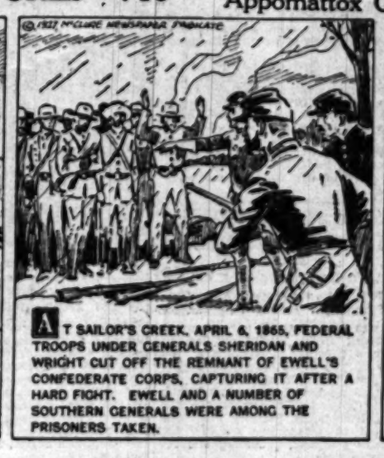
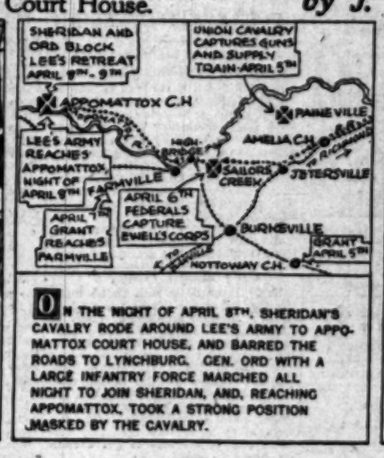
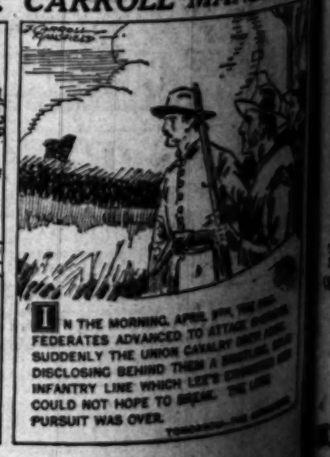
WEARY AND HUNGRY, LEE'S TROOPS STRUGGLED ON TOWARD LYNCHBURG, OCCASIONALLY PAUSING IN THEIR RETREAT TO STRIKE BACK AT GRANT'S UNION FORCES WHICH HUNG TENACIOUSLY ON THE CONFEDERATE FLANKS AND REAR.



AT SAILOR'S CREEK, APRIL 6, 1865, FEDERAL TROOPS UNDER GENERALS SHERIDAN AND WRIGHT CUT OFF THE REMNANT OF EWELL'S CONFEDERATE CORPS, CAPTURING IT AFTER A HARD FIGHT. EWELL AND A NUMBER OF SOUTHERN GENERALS WERE AMONG THE PRISONERS TAKEN.



ON THE NIGHT OF APRIL 8TH, SHERIDAN'S CAVALRY RODE AROUND LEE'S ARMY TO APPOMATTOX COURT HOUSE, AND BARRED THE ROADS TO LYNCHBURG. GEN. ORD WITH A LARGE INFANTRY FORCE MARCHED ALL NIGHT TO JOIN SHERIDAN, AND, REACHING APPOMATTOX, TOOK A STRONG POSITION MASKED BY THE CAVALRY.



IN THE MORNING, APRIL 9TH, THE CONFEDERATES ADVANCED TO ATTACK SHERIDAN. SUDDENLY THE UNION CAVALRY SWUNG ASIDE, DISCLOSING BEHIND THEM A POWERFUL GRAY INFANTRY LINE WHICH LEE'S EXHAUSTED ARMY COULD NOT HOPE TO BREAK. THE LONG PURSUIT WAS OVER.

CHEF'S LECTURES POPULAR

"Times" Food Class at Manufacturers' Exhibit Crowded by Eager Housewives

"Omelettes must be appearing on every table," Mrs. Mabelle E. Wyman declared yesterday as she again responded to a popular demand for the recipe and method of preparation. The food class in the Southern California Manufacturers' Exhibit at 130 South Broadway again was crowded with eager women, note books in hand.

Corn pudding as a meat substitute and salmon loaf were the chief demonstrations of the day. Artichoke salad and whole wheat date cookies also were demonstrated. While these were in the making and baking, recipes for gelatin icing and the preparation of tarragon vinegar were explained.

Mrs. Wyman is an advocate of "cooking with brains," and suggests ways of improving recipes by the addition of chopped chives, pimiento, olives, nuts or green peppers. "You can always improve a simple recipe by the addition of harmonizing ingredients," she told her students.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock an unusual talk will be given in the building trades section of the Manufacturers' Exhibit on "Steel as the Ideal Building Fabric." The speaker, a veteran in steel building and construction, will be James A. Walker, general sales manager of the Modern Iron Works, 4850 Pacific Boulevard. Mr. Walker, who has put up some of the finest steel buildings, believes that the time has come to incorporate steel into home construction and will voice his ideas this afternoon. To this the public is invited at no charge and all who contemplate home building are urged to come and obtain a new viewpoint on cost, permanency and fire and earthquake proof structures. Mr. Walker's talk will be non-technical.

The city's Bureau of Power and Light, which has an elaborate display on the second floor, will supply a talk under the direction of D. R. Moody tomorrow afternoon, first in this patio, where electrical kitchen equipment will be demonstrated, and later in the model dining room where appliances for table cookery by electricity will be shown in use. These talks are also free and the public is invited.

An elaborate display of "Care of the Teeth" posters is offered now on the third floor, north side, under auspices of the County Health Department. One series, from Huntington Park, Irvington branch, won the "Times Junior" cup offered for the best series, taking it away from Sierra Madre, which had won it two years in succession. This display is a remarkable exhibit of poster art by school children and will be found of surpassing interest. The department has an attendant to explain the work.

FRUIT THEFT SUSPECT TAKEN

Deputies Arrest Man Declared to be Member of Gang Raiding Avocado Orchards

With the arrest yesterday in this city of Luci Chiuma at a fruit stand at 2301 West First street by deputy sheriffs from Santa Ana and Los Angeles counties, it was stated that the first of an asserted gang of avocado thieves who have been reaping rich spoils in Santa Ana and Los Angeles counties was placed in custody.

The investigation which led to the arrest of the man, who was later taken to the County Jail at Santa Ana, was launched by Sheriff Jernigan of Santa Ana upon the report of the Avocado Growers' Association that already this year members of the organization had loss more than $60,000 in thefts of the expensive fruit. It was reported that in spite of the fact that armed guards have been placed in the groves to protect them from thefts, losses have been mounting to an alarming degree.

The information which led to the arrest of Chiuma, who is 26 years of age, followed a raid upon an avocado orchard near Brea, Orange county. A watchman saw two men preparing to take away seven bags of avocados, valued at several hundred dollars. When he accosted them the men fled, but turned to engage in a gun battle with him. Before they escaped, however, he obtained the number of a truck they were driving, and it was in this manner that the arrest was brought about.

After Chiuma was arrested a search of his rooms was made by Deputies Vejar and Letts of Los Angeles and Deputy Knight of Santa Ana and several sticks of dynamite were found in the rooms. An attempt to gain information about Chiuma and a man said to be his partner led to the response that the would-be informants feared the "blackhand."

Advisory Board Reviews Work at Forest Lawn

Plans for the extensive improvements to be made at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, and progress of the improvement program during the past four months were reviewed at the regular meeting of the advisory board of the Forest Lawn Memorial Park Association, just held. The advisory board, which meets three times each year, is composed of a group of Los Angeles and Pasadena business and professional men, and in an advisory capacity assists in plans for the beautification and improvement of the extensive grounds.

Among those who attended the meeting was Malcolm McNaghten, president of the Broadway Department Store, who has just been elected a member of the board. Prior to the meeting, the new addition to the Mausoleum-Columbarium was inspected, as were also a number of new statues, which recently arrived from Europe, and which are now being set in place.

Members of the board include, in addition to Mr. McNaghten, W. E. Hollingsworth, real estate dealer; Hubert Eaton, chairman; Marius De Brabant, Charles F. Stern, president of the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings Bank; Bernal H. Dyas, president of B. H. Dyas Company; Dr. R. B. Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California; Dr. John Willis Baer, vice-president of the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings Bank; Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe, and John Steven McGroarty, author and playwright.

Speaker Says Seventy-one Radical Organizations Infest City

Los Angeles chapter, Sons of the American Revolution, had a meeting yesterday at the University Club with George H. Rice, secretary of the Better America Federation, as chief speaker. Dr. Samuel D. Barnes, president of the chapter, presided.

Rice spoke on "Seditious Influences in Los Angeles" and declared that there are seventy-one organizations or groups in the city, according to police records, which are carrying on anti-American agitation, and seeking to tear down the American form of government. All these organizations, the speaker said, are instigated from European sources.

"When Moscow gives orders they all obey," he said.

Dr. Barnes announced the next meeting of the chapter will be held Flag Day, June 14.

REALTY MAN WINS CLASH OVER POLICE

Santa Monican Granted Formal Hearing on Charge Officer Struck Him

At a heated meeting of the Police Commission, at which charges of "mental unstability" and misstatements were hurled freely, William P. Sanders, fighting Santa Monica real estate man, yesterday won his day in court.

As the result of the discussion the commission decided to hear Sanders's charges that Sergt. Dunn of Hollywood unwarrantedly struck him. The 25th inst. was set as the date for a formal hearing.

Sanders made his charges several weeks ago. The commission ordered an investigation and notified Sanders to appear yesterday to hear its decision.

Yesterday Commissioner Birnbaum stated that the investigation exonerated the officer and indicated that Sanders brought the battle upon himself. Sanders protested and asked for a formal hearing, at which he would be provided an opportunity to produce witnesses.

While the commission was deliberating on whether a hearing would be held, Sanders criticised the commission for not holding a hearing when the charges were made.

Commissioner Foss said he thought Sanders should be examined by an insanity commission and Chief Davis said he thought Sanders was emotionally and mentally unstable.

Shakespeare Play Given by College Girls

"Midsummer Night's Dream," with the full Mendelssohn music, was given last night by the young women of Mt. St. Mary's College at the Mesa Theaterfi Slauson avenue and Mesa Drive, as a benefit for the college building fund. The audience included Archbishop Harty of Omaha, Bishop Cantwell and Mrs. E. L. Doheny. There were 1500 present. Charles Wakefield Cadman gave a talk on the music before the performance.

The cast, all college girls, was trained by Miss Lillian Fitch of Chicago, cousin of Clyde Fitch, playwright, and the entire 150 in the play wore costumes made and hand-dyed at the college. Miss Alice Foley played Bottom, Miss Natalie Brasee, Puck, Miss Gileau Goulett of Salt Lake City was Titania and Miss Lillian May was Oberon.

RUM SQUAD LEADER HONORED AT DINNER

In honor of Capt. James Benton, head of the Sheriff's dry enforcement squad, who yesterday began his second year in charge of the organization, twenty-one members of his squad and their families gave him a surprise dinner Monday night at the Patio Cafe, Sunland. During the dinner the success of the squad during the last year in apprehending bootleggers and rum-runners was pointed out. A tempting dinner was served.

BODY FROM TEXAS HAS NO CLAIMANT

The body of E. Edward Wells, 33 years of age, arrived here yesterday from El Paso, Tex., in custody of Carlos Pena and later was turned over to the Coroner as unclaimed. Pena said, according to the Coroner, he was told Mrs. Anna Wells of 1384 Belvedere street would meet the body at the railroad station, but she failed to appear. The Coroner said he was informed Mrs. Wells had sold her property recently and had gone from the address given.

BLIND COMPANY SUED

Damages of $75,000 are asked from the Western Blind and Screen Company in a suit filed in Superior Court yesterday by H. T. Conner, formerly Southern California agent for the firm. According to Conner's complaint, filed by Martin Forrest, attorney, he and officials of the firm signed an agreement on December 10, 1923, giving him exclusive selling rights in Southern California. In December, 1925, Conner charges, the company severed the contract and took over his territory, depriving him of $75,000 commissions.

PHOTOGRAPH FEATURED IN THEFT CASE

Complaining Witness Says She Cast it Away, Thus Vindicating Theft Suspect

A photograph admittedly torn and cast aside by the complaining witness eloquently pleaded the case of Florens Du Barry, porter at an apartment house at 481 South Bixel street, when he came before Municipal Judge Richardson charged with petty larceny on complaint of Miss Lillian Eisinger.

The torn photograph, together with two others and a quantity of jewelry and clothing, disappeared from her apartment some time ago, Miss Eisinger said, and suspicion rested on Du Barry, who had access to the apartment.

In defense Du Barry said he found the photographs in a wastebasket he was emptying from the apartment. He admitted taking them home and hanging them in his room. Miss Eisinger then agreed that she had torn the photograph in question and tossed it into the basket.

WOMEN TO TAKE PART IN FRIENDSHIP DINNER

The committee in charge of the James Woods friendship dinner to be given at the Breakfast Club on Monday night, the 23rd inst., has decided to make the affair open to women, it was announced yesterday, because of a strong demand on the part of those receiving invitations that they be permitted to bring their wives. An additional incentive toward changing the rule, also, was the fact that the club's new Pavilion of Friendship will be dedicated as a part of the evening's program. Cards have been mailed to all who have been invited, notifying them of the change.

BREAKFAST CLUB TO HONOR BILLIE DOVE

Billie Dove, who has just completed her first starring role in "The Tender Hour," which opens at Loew's State Theater Friday, will be the guest of honor at the Breakfast Club's weekly meeting Friday morning.

Plans are being made by officials of the club to pay Miss Dove special honor in recognition of her rise to stardom, and a number of surprises are being planned. Others who will be honored at the meeting are John McCormick, First National producer; Carey Wilson, scenario writer and producer; George Fitzmaurice, director.

AUTOISTS URGED TO AID OFFICER

Quick Response in Traffic Jams Declared of First Importance

Prompt obedience by motorists to directions of traffic officers is of primary importance in traffic regulation, it was declared yesterday in the daily talk given over KHJ by the police bureau of public safety.

"Often the officer finds himself confronted by an unexpected situation which calls for prompt action, not only on his part, but on the part of every person whom he is directing. The motorist's attention should be focused upon the officer so he may give an immediate response to directions.

Rita Carewe Has Operation on Her Throat

Rita Carewe, daughter of Edwin Carewe, is spending a few days in the Benedict Hospital, Hollywood, where she underwent a throat operation yesterday.

RITA CAREWE

According to hospital attaches, Miss Carewe will be confined some days, after which she will resume her work in the studio.

Miss Carewe's most recent screen appearance was in "Resurrection," which her father directed. She is scheduled to appear in another Carewe production as soon as she is able to leave the hospital.

True Story

The Tale of the Reluctant Croesus

ONCE upon a time there was a man who had more money than he knew what to do with. He was generally known among his intimates as a Sad Case.

This man, whose name, let us say, was Oscar Dow—for such was not his name—believed that in poverty was to be found the only True Happiness. So he decided to lose his money.

He invested heavily in what he believed were Fake Oil Stocks, but they all turned out to be the Real Thing and he was worse off than ever. Then he married a Broadway Butterfly, but she soon became domesticated and started putting away money against a Rainy Day.

He made out his income-tax legitimately, but the Government was so astonished by this innovation that it sent him a Refund, inclosing a letter which stated severely that the Whole Thing looked extremely Fishy.

Mr. Dow then became the Angel for a show that was an assured failure, but the thing developed into a Mint. He also bought a decrepit newspaper which speedily attained the Largest Circulation in the United States. Mr. Dow was wealthier than ever, and the unexpected course of events gave him a Pain in the Neck.

So he went into a near-by saloon and asked Jerry the bartender, for a glass of Vichy, because he had a headache.

"I am sorry, sir," said Jerry, who had been thus nicknamed because his real name was Melvin A. Cooper, "but this is Nineteen-twenty-seven and we do not carry anything except Liquor. However," he continued, winking merrily at Mr. Dow, "I think I can get you some pre-Prohibition soft stuff, but it will cost you a Pretty Penny."

And, would you believe it, in a trice Mr. Dow's ambition was granted and he had spent all his fortune on a case of non-intoxicating Vichy.

Is Hubby Playing Fair?

Does he drive the car down to work every morning, leave it parked until quitting time, and give you only an occasional chance to drive it?

True, there may be "business reasons,"—but there remain your own good reasons for wanting a car, too: shopping, matinees, visits to friends, taking the children for an airing.

Show hubby what fine-looking, smooth-running used cars are being offered in Times Want Ads. The prices are varied and reasonable enough so that the average family can easily afford to own two cars.

VISITOR PRAISES USE OF WAR GAS

Gen. Fries, Head of Army Chemical Service, Here

Speaks at Dinner of Local Reserve Officers

Guest One of Developers of Los Angeles Harbor

Declaring gas to be the most humane method of warfare, Maj.-Gen. Fries, chief of the chemical warfare service of the Army, spoke at a dinner of the Los Angeles chapter of the Reserve Officers' Association at the National Guard Armory at Exposition Park last night.

Gen. Fries scouted stories of germ warfare.

"Tales of the use of bacteria in battle are nonsensical and without the least foundation," he said. "All germs that are known as causing diseases are subject to control by medical science, and could be prevented from causing damage in warfare," he said.

He told of the development of the chemical warfare service in the investigation of toxic and irritating gases.

"The use of gas in warfare, despite the stories of propagandists, is the most humane method of warfare," he said. "Only 3 per cent of gas casualties resulted in death in the World War, while 36 per cent of casualties from other causes resulted in death.

"The greatest value of gas as a weapon is that it temporarily disables a soldier instead of killing him, and therefore requires that much more manpower be used to take care of the soldier while he is temporarily disabled.

"No new gases have been developed, and deadly gases are not desirable for use in time of war. The greatest necessity in preparedness is the education of the potential defenders of the country as to methods of gas warfare, so that they would be free from surprise in an emergency."

TAINTED BOTTLES TO BE SAINTED

Flasks, Once Defiled by Illegal Liquor, Will Be Faithfully Washed (Inside, Too,) Dealer Swears, So He Gets Permit to Sell All He Can Get

Years ago they used to talk about tainted money. Now it is tainted bottles.

When is a bottle respectable, and when defiled, as it were, by having once been full of illegal liquor?

That problem was discussed very seriously yesterday at the meeting of the Police Commission when Sam Aredon made application in person for permission to become a dealer in secondhand bottles.

Aredon explained to the commissioners that he proposes to get his supply of used bottles from the prohibition enforcement officers of the Police Department, Sheriff's office and Federal agencies. He intends to wash and sell them at 6056 South Western avenue.

Objection to the issuance of the license was voiced by Detective Captain Wallis, special investigator for the commission, on the ground some bootleggers and makers of "home brew" would undoubtedly buy their supplies from Aredon.

Aredon stated that although the bottles may be tainted with liquor when he receives them, he intends to scrub them clean, remove all odors and otherwise make them as respectable as bottles can be. He also assured the commission that there will be no trace of liquid refreshment in them when they leave his hands and that he has no means of knowing who his customers are or to what use they will put the bottles.

After deliberating over the right of bottles to be reformed in the manner suggested by Aredon, the commission decided that inasmuch as there is no law restricting any man from becoming a merchant of used glassware it would grant the permit.

PLEBISCITE PLAN WINS ATTENTION

Barristers All Over Nation Interested in Local Bar System, Justinians Told

The plebiscite system of the Los Angeles Bar Association, through which that organization indorses candidates for judicial positions, is attracting attention among barristers all over the United States, according to Al Bartlett, chairman of the association's campaign committee during the recent local primary election, who addressed the Justinian Club yesterday at the Alexandria.

The speaker explained that for the association's indorsement of a candidate at least 50 per cent of the membership must vote upon his qualifications and that 65 per cent of those casting ballots must favor the candidates.

Success in the recent campaign, Mr. Bartlett stated, was due to the character of the candidates, to the confidence of the electorate in the choice of the association and to the support of the churches, the Y.M.C.A., the church brotherhoods and The Times and other publications.

Reviewing the work of the last Legislature, Mr. Bartlett said that adoption of Assembly Bill No. 43, by which Superior Court judges are to be elected on the same individualistic system as Municipal judges, is one of the outstanding pieces of legislation.

While stating that the Legislature's allotment of ten more Superior judges to Los Angeles county is inadequate, the speaker said that the people are to be congratulated upon the enactment of the measure at a time when an increase in salary was granted to Superior, District Appeal and Supreme Court judges.

The speaker at the luncheon of the Bar Association at the Alexandria on the 24th inst. will be Judge Stephens.

Cashier of Bank Shoots Self in Row With Wife

Walter Porteous, 34-year-old teller at the Security Trust and Savings Bank, shot and probably mortally wounded himself at Berkeley last night after an unsuccessful effort to induce his young wife, a sophomore at the University of California, to return home with him.

Dispatches from Berkeley stated that the young teller arrived there from Los Angeles Monday and called on his wife, registered at the university under her maiden name of Aileen Kinebrew, at her sorority house.

They went for an automobile ride at the conclusion of which Porteous pleaded with his wife to abandon her studies and return with him to Los Angeles to establish their home. She refused. Last night, Porteous called his young wife on the phone, according to the dispatches and again pleaded with her to renounce her pursuit of knowledge in favor of a home. She again refused, dispatches say, and remained deaf to his threats to end his life. Thereupon, Porteous left the phone and shot himself in the abdomen. He is not expected to live, Berkeley authorities say.

CONFERENCE ASKED ON SEED PROTECTION

In an effort to protect framers of California from unscrupulous seed dealers operating throughout the State, the Chamber of Commerce urges that the State Department of Agriculture call a joint conference. The meeting would include seed dealers of the State, the agricultural producers who are buying seed, as represented in the farm bureaus and other State-wide organizations, and department officials. It is hoped to devise legislation to protect the farmer in his purchase of seed, as well as the legitimate seed operator.

"The Majestic."

"Do you always go there?"

RADIO FOR JUNGLE OIL LINE
Replacing wire lines, a radio-telephone system is being installed for communication between oil-pumping stations in the jungles of Colombia. There are nine stations in the chain which extends 400 miles. The new system will preclude any accidents to telegraph lines during storms, for constant contact between stations is necessary because the closing of a valve at one station without co-operation at another point may burst a pipe and cause heavy damages.

RAMSAY MACDONALD IMPROVES
PHILADELPHIA, May 10. (AP)—J. Ramsay MacDonald, former British Prime Minister, has almost completely recovered from the severe attack of throat and nose affection which has kept him in the Jefferson Hospital since April 23. He hopes to be able to leave the hospital Friday.

ROME ENVOY DISCUSSES GOV. SMITH

Apostolic Delegate Issues Note Declaring Holy See Indifferent to Candidacy

WASHINGTON, May 10. (AP)—Archbishop Fumasoni-Biondi, the apostolic delegate in the United States, issued a formal statement tonight designed to clear up "any doubt in the public mind about the Holy See's absolute indifference concerning the candidacy of Gov. Smith of New York, or that of any other person in the approaching Presidential election."

It added that Cardinal Gasparri, Secretary of State, "has considered it proper, even though superfluous, to emphasize the Vatican's position of aloofness from the politics of the United States." The statement made public by the apostolic delegate follows:

"If there should be any doubt in the public mind about the Holy See's absolute indifference concerning the candidacy of Gov. Smith of New York, that of any other person, in the approaching Presidential election, Cardinal Gasparri, Secretary of State, has considered it proper even though superfluous to emphasize the Vatican's position of aloofness from the politics of the United States.

"In a communication received by Archbishop Fumasoni-Biondi, apostolistic delegate in the United States, the Cardinal Secretary of State notes that some newspapers have been referring to Gov. Smith as the 'candidate of the Holy See' while others declare his candidacy is deplored by the Holy See. His Eminence deemed it superfluous to assert that the Holy See is not interested or concerned in any way in the coming Presidential campaign, and this by reason of her principle of remaining absolutely aloof from the internal interests in the political circles of every country."

Daughter of O. Henry Dies in Southland

RIVERSIDE, May 10. (Exclusive)—Mrs. Margaret Porter Sardin, 31 years of age, daughter of O. Henry, short-story writer, died Monday evening at Banning, a victim of tuberculosis.

Mrs. Sardin was married only last Saturday to Alec Jean Sardin, 36, at Banning. Her former husband was Oscar Cesare.

The body is at the Wiefels undertaking parlors at Banning and will be taken to Forest Lawn Cemetery, Glendale, for burial. The date to be announced later by Sardin.

Mrs. Margaret Porter Cesare, as she was known until her marriage Saturday, has lived in Banning for almost three years. She had hoped that the dry atmosphere of the locality would cure her. Physicians had assured her that she was gaining in health but a relapse occurred Monday from which she failed to recover.

Nevada Denies Shortage More Than Disclosed

RENO (Nev.) May 10. (AP)—An official denial that any shortages in the Nevada State Treasury, further than the one of $516,000 first reported, was made this afternoon by the State Board of Examiners. It also announced that the audit now in progress would cover all departments and that it could not be completed in less than thirty days.

Norman J. Barry and Lester D. Summerfield, Reno attorneys, have been engaged as special counsel to assist the Attorney-General prosecuting State Treasurer Malley, George A. Cole, former State Controller, and H. C. Clapp, former cashier of the Carson Valley Bank, who are charged with embezzlement. The defendants are still in jail and Malley still carries in his pockets the keys to the Treasurer's office and the State vault, as he refuses to resign.

Theosophy Head Tells London of California Plans

LONDON, May. 10. (Exclusive)—Dr. Annie Besant, the eminent Theosophist, who just returned from a tour of America, announced that $53,000 already has been subscribed to the fund to establish in California a miniature model of new civilization for the new type appearing.

She declared that a second large tract of land has been purchased and named Starland, where Jiddu Krishnamurti, the young Indian leader of Theosophy will meet students each spring, beginning next year. A new race is to be founded here on the teachings of Krishnamurti.

BEACH TO RING WITH HARMONY

The majority of the twenty musical organizations of the American Legion in Los Angeles county will participate in a competition at Redondo Beach next Sunday afternoon. The chief competition will be between drum and bugle corps from Long Beach, Maywood, Whittier, Burbank, Glendale, Los Angeles Victory Post and several other American Legion posts. There will also be American Legion junior bands, including those from Baldwin Park and Bellflower. Several singing organizations will participate.

This will be the first opportunity musical organizations such as these, fostered by the national and State departments of the American Legion this year, have had for competitions in the West.

There will be a cash prize of $100 and a silver cup for the winner and $50 and a cup for the second best drum and bugle corps. There will be cups and trophies for every organization participating. The Redondo Beach Boosters' Association, when it learned of the plan of the American Legion throughout the United States in fostering and developing musical organizations, particularly drum and bugle corps, was the first to suggest a field day. Their offer was accepted by E. H. De Lamater, commander of Redondo Beach Post, No. 184, American Legion, and the Boosters' organization has turned over the handling of the entire affair next Sunday to the Redondo post.

The musical competition will begin at 1:30 p.m. and it is expected that the beach front in the vicinity of the city's flagpole will resound for several hours with stirring martial airs. The afternoon's program will be preceded by a parade of the uniformed musical units.

Fire Officials Scan Foothills from Airplane

Discarding the automobile as a mode of travel for scouting fires, Assistant Fire Chiefs S. H. Dodd and F. O. Edwards yesterday afternoon "borrowed" an airplane from Paul E. Richter, vice-president of the Aero Corporation of California, to survey the growth of brush in the near-by foothills.

After a forty-five-minute inspection trip over the territory from the Santa Monica Mountains to Sunland, the assistant chiefs reported that the grass has climbed higher than ever before, making the section a source of constant fire hazard throughout the summer months.

Assistant Chief Dodd declared that efforts are being made to close the area to smoking this summer as a precautionary measure against brush fires. Already the fire department has created a special company of twelve men to patrol the mountainous region.

The fire chiefs, who were piloted on the scouting trip by Mr. Richter, expressed themselves as stanch supporters of the airplane as a substitute for the automobile in surveying the outlying district.

Second Arrest Within Two Months Blamed on Lack of Cash and Clothes

Scarcity of cash and clothes coupled with inability to find a position whereby she might obtain them brought pretty Gladys Nolan back into the legal limelight yesterday, when she made her second appearance in as many months before Municipal Judge Blake for preliminary hearing on a charge of issuing bad checks.

Several weeks ago Miss Nolan was given probation in Superior Court after she had pleaded guilty to a charge of issuing bad checks. She was released from jail and, according to Defense Attorney V. R. Hamilton, her troubles began anew.

Broke, without sufficient clothing and unable to find work, she again issued several bad checks for small amounts, with the result she was again arrested.

Following testimony that the girl had bought pretty clothes with the money she obtained on her fraudulent checks, Judge Blake ordered her held to the Superior Court for trial and placed bail at $3000, which she was unable to produce.

Critics Condemning Land as Sterile of Art by Perigord in U.C.L.A. Address

Capt. Perigord, a veteran of the French army during the World War and author and student of wide reputation, pointed out in an address yesterday before faculty and students at U.C.L.A. that the United States, despite its relative youth as a nation, has already made vital and distinct contributions to cultural and scientific development in various fields.

CRITICS EXTREME
The tendency has been toward overemphasis of the material order, he stated, but substantial and definite beginnings have been made in the field of art, culture, politics, education and science. In the latter three fields, vital contributions have come from the United States.

"Critics of the United States have been extreme in their attitude and have distorted the facts materially in that they paint a picture devoid of hope. In the face of the conditions as they exist, such extreme criticism is not only unjustifiable, but also groundless.

"Not only is the United States progressing culturally, but she is doing so in a manner never before known to the world. She is developing a unique type of civilization, one which the masses as well as the elite can enjoy and under which all classes can thrive. Unlike the older civilizations of Europe, which produced a high culture and an aristocracy which had its foundations in the suffering and servitude of the masses of the people, the United States is bringing the of her people to higher mental levels, thus creating national culture representing the people.
